SECOND LIBERTY LOAN

Prominent Gentlemen are Organizing to Raise Newton's Quota of $3,475,000

A strong committee has been organized to make the Second Liberty Loan in this city, as much of a success as that of last summer. The powers that we have served notice that Newton is expected to take $3,475,000 of the bonds as a minimum and it is hoped that at least $5,767,000 will be sold to residents of this city.

The committee has organized with Hon. Seward W. John, president of the Newton Trust Company as chairman, Mr. Frank L. Richardson as secretary, and includes Mayor Edwin O. Childs, President H. W. Orr of the Newton Board of Trade, H. H. Bemis, Henry Whitmore, Charles E. Riley, Grosvenor Calkins, William J. Doherty, Fred M. Blanchard, William F. Chase, Dr. Guy M. Winslow, George M. Heathcote, Lawrence Allen, Thomas W. White, Howard Whitmore, Henry H. Kendall, William Allen, Andrew C. Hughes, and James W. Spring.

These gentlemen will organize local teams in each of the villages and intend to make a careful and active canvass of the entire city.

Mr. Riley's team in Newton consists of Frederick W. Stone, Herbert G. Pratt, Henry I. Harriman, D. Fletcher Barber, William H. Emerson, Charles N. Fitts, Langdon Coffin, Samuel W. Bridges, Elliott B. Church, and William L. Graves.

In West Newton, Mr. Chase has called on Arthur C. Dunne, William T. Glidden, Carl E. Pickhardt, Herbert M. Cole, Philip H. Thayer, Warner Marshall, Harry M. Stonemetz, and Hon. Charles E. Hatfield.

Mr. William L. Allen, in charge of the Chestnut Hill district, has appointed the following captains for the canvass:—H. H. Bemis, Allston Burr, Chandler Hovey, John Moir, W. A. Mosman, T. W. Proctor, Harry D. Ramsay, F. A. Schirmer, Edwin S. Webster, George S. West, J. W. Wheeler.

The Newtonville canvass is in charge of former Alderman Fred M. Blanchard, with the following captains:

tains:—A. D. Auryanson, Wm. A. Zoller, John F. Dever, Jr., Albert P. Carter, Thos. F. Lyons, Wm. B. Arnold, L. P. Collins, Lincoln Righter.

Other villages are being rapidly organized and the names of the captains will be published next week.

In Ward 7, Mr. Grosvenor Calkins, as Chairman, has called on C. E. Emerson, as secretary and treasurer, and Samuel L. Powers, Frank W. Stearns, Sydney Harwood, George Angier, C. H. Barney, C. W. Blake-More, L. D. Gibbs, W. B. Sharpe.

The Newton Liberty Loan Committee charged with the responsibility of conducting the canvass in this city wants all Newton people not only to subscribe to the limit of their ability, but also in such a way that Newton may receive the credit for their subscriptions. To make it as convenient as possible, subscriptions may be made as follows:

Through any Newton bank, payments to be made either in accordance with the Government circular or by special arrangement with your Newton bank to pay in instalments.

For those for whom it is more convenient to subscribe in Boston, the following banking houses have consented to take subscriptions, crediting them to Newton if the subscription blanks bear such a request:

Blodgett & Company; Bond & Goodwin; Chase & Company; Coffin & Burr; Curtis & Sanger; R. L. Day & Co.; Estabrook & Co.; Harris Forbes & Co.; Hornblower & Weeks; Chandler Hovey & Co.; Kidder, Peabody & Co.; Lee, Higginson & Co.; A. W. Lincoln & Co.; Merrill, Oldham & Co.; F. S. Moseley & Co.; E. H. Rollins & Sons; Parkinson and Burr; William A. Read & Co.; Stone & Webster; Tucker, Anthony & Co.; Weld, Grew & Co.; White, Weld & Company.

The Old Colony Trust Company of Boston at its main office 17 Court Street, will also accept subscriptions of $1,000, or more for credit of Newton, if subscription blanks bear such request.

Wednesday, October 24th, has been selected as "Liberty Loan Day in Newton" and will mark the climax of the campaign in this city.

STREET CAR ACCIDENT

High School Students Somewhat Injured on Way from School

Several persons were more or less injured last Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock when a Waltham bound car ran into the rear of the Lower Falls car, which was standing on Washington street, opposite Parsons street, West Newton. Conductor John Adams was thrown against the controller box and injured in the back and right arm. Conductor Joseph Kelley was also hurt in the back, and both were taken to the Newton Hospital and later went home. In the car were a number of students from the Newton High Schools and all were shaken up and slightly bruised and cut with broken glass. They included Charles Gleason of Concord street, Lower Falls, Lawrence Morrison of Cornell street, Lower Falls, Charles and Tony Palmer of Wellesley, Albert Leonard of Needham and Robert Bassett of Wellesley, all students at the Vocational High School and Helena Davis of Technical High School.

It is stated that the accident was caused by leaves on the rails so that the Waltham car was unable to stop. The front end of the Waltham car and the rear end of the Lower Falls car were badly damaged.

MR. MURRAY CALLED

The Newton School Committee has promptly responded to the request of the Surgeon General of the War Department, and granted Mr. M. W. Murray, principal of the Newton Vocational High School, a leave of absence, to enable him to superintend the work of vocational training for maimed and wounded soldiers at Washington, D. C. Mr. Murray has taken the required examination for a commission as major, and is awaiting his formal commission and further orders from the Department.

CONCERT AT HOSPITAL

A concert will be given at the Newton Hospital next Sunday evening by May Shepard Hayward, soprano, assisted by Pauline Mason White, accompanist.

FIFTY YEARS SERVICE

State House Associates Tender Banquet to Col. Willard D. Tripp

An unusual event was appropriately observed Monday evening when Col. Willard D. Tripp of Boyd street, Newton, was tendered a banquet at the Quincy House, Boston, in honor of the completion of fifty years' service for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as examiner and visitor at large of the State Board of Charity.

About sixty of his associates and friends were present and the affair was such a complete surprise to Col. Tripp that he was almost overcome with emotion.

COL. WILLARD D. TRIPP

Mr. Robert Kelso, secretary of the Board of Charity presented Col. Tripp with a Masonic watch chain and Mr. William J. Hinchcliffe acted as toastmaster. Short addresses were made by Mr. Frank Goodhue, superintendent of the adult poor; Mrs. Elizabeth F. Moloney, supervisor of the mothers' aid; Miss Flora Burton, supervisor of social service; William J. Flynn, Commissioner of State Aid and Pensions; Edward I. White of Springfield, president of the Western Relief Officers' Association; H. H. Pray, inspector of institutions, and Louis Lipp and Fred J. Rice, State visitors.

Col. Tripp was lieutenant colonel of the 29th Massachusetts Regiment in the Civil War and in 1865 was made a member of the State Constabulary.

Col. and Mrs. Tripp have resided in this city for the past thirty-five years.

THE THIRD QUOTA

58 Young Men Leave Today for the Military Camp at Ayer

The Local Exemption Board sent 58 young men this noon to Camp Devens at Ayer, for the third quota of the draft from this city. The men were ordered to appear at West Newton Court house at 9.15, and 55 of them answered to the roll call, together with six alternates.

Notwithstanding the dubious weather, a photograph was taken of the lot on the Court house steps and then preceded by the Newton Constabulary Band, under the direction of W. G. Hambleton, and an escort of police, they were marched to the steps of the City Hall, where a delegation of the Grand Army and the school children of the Peirce school, holding small flags awaited them.

Alderman Bernard Early of the Exemption Board presented the men to Mayor Childs, who responded substantially as follows:

"You have been selected to represent this city in camp and possibly by services across the water. You have responded to your country's call and thereby revealed your character and worth, and the manner of that response stamps a man either as a patriot or as a quitter.

You undertake a great task in giving yourself towards keeping the world safe for Democracy and we expect you to be true to American traditions and to American ideals.

A true American loves peace and hates war. He does not seek for glory or hope for plunder but will fight to retain the blessings of liberty. These veterans of the Grand Army are a glorious example for you to follow. You all will have the opportunity to become officers. Do your best, aim high and deserve the success which will be yours. Your hardest fight will not be on the battle field but in the training camp but you can win if you are true to the teachings of your home and of your church. Remember your mother who will never forget you, and your home coming will be of men tried by battle and temptation and who have proved their worth."

Following the mayor's speech which was delivered in a driving rain, the men marched to the West Newton railroad station with the same formation as noted above. Here another roll call was held, and Alfred F. Mulvihill of West Newton appointed leader with John J. Higgins of Newton Centre assistant. Box lunches were distributed to all the men who took a special car on the 11.40 train for South Framingham, and from there to Concord Junction and thence to Ayer, arriving about 1.35 P. M.

GARDEN CITY FAIR

Auburndale Woman's Club Scores a Great Success at Norumbega Park

The Garden City Fair on Saturday at Norumbega Park was a great success, and a generous sum of money was realized.

The big park restaurant was crowded in the afternoon and evening and the splendid exhibition of fruits, vegetables and canned goods, was well worth the price of admission. Tables were arranged around the sides of the restaurant, and down the centre, and decorated with flowers, and the various displays were very attractive.

There was an Arts and Crafts exhibit and potato chips and candy were on sale and refreshments were served in the Casino.

Among the most interesting features was the Pet Stock Show which was under the direction of Mrs. W. L. MacCammon of Central street, Auburndale.

"Alertonian Model," a fine smooth fox terrier recently imported from England by Mr. J. W. Weinberg of Auburndale captured the prize for the best dog.

Miss M. E. Johnson of Brookline was awarded the prize for the best Toy dog. Mrs. A. D. Becker's French Bull dog took a special prize.

Mrs. M. P. Vucassovich of Wellesley took the prize for the best brace of dogs.

Mrs. Daniel Sturtevant's beautiful silver Persian cat was awarded first prize, and Mr. Fred Jones of Auburndale was awarded the prize for the best display of guinea-pigs.

Mr. George W. Abbott of Mt. Vernon street, Newtonville had the best display of rabbits.

It was a very large and satisfactory show and there were entered 77 dogs, 37 cats, and over 100 rabbits and guinea-pigs. There was a very fine collection of Boston terriers and French bull-dogs, on exhibition.

Another interesting feature which afforded much amusement was the Baby Parade.

Stearns MacNutt, 21 months' old, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell D. MacNutt of Williston road was awarded the first prize in the Baby Parade.

There was a large attendance from surrounding cities many from Haverhill, Lynn, Lowell, Everett, and Boston.

Two special awards were made, one to Mrs. J. A. McDonald of Auburndale for 36 jars and one to Miss Lathe of the Newton Special Aid Society for 18 varieties.

Following is a list of prize-winners in the various departments:

Department 2. Prepared foods. Miss Sadie Keene, first prize for war-bread.

Department 3. 1st prizes. Rebecca White, strawberries; Mrs. Middleton of Auburndale, peaches; Miss Rider, Auburndale, Siberian crab-apples. Second prizes. Mrs. A. C. Farley, Graves-time apples; Miss L. Rider, Wealthy apples; and spray of crab-apples.

Third prizes. Miss L. Rider of Auburndale, Porter apples, and spray of crab-apples.

Department 4. Roots and vegetables. Mrs. G. M. Winslow, first prize for string-beans. Mrs. W. D. Gilpatrick, collection of vegetables and potatoes; Rebecca White, early Rose potatoes, summer squash and green corn; Mrs. E. M. Jones, pumpkins; Mrs. Middleton, Lima beans and string beans; Mrs. C. D. Pierce, cucumbers and Swiss Chard. Mrs. J. H. Holmes of West Newton won the prize for the queerest shaped potato.

Second prizes were taken by Mrs. W. D. Gilpatrick, Miss Dutton of Auburndale; Mr. W. W. Cotton of Newton; Milo Fanning of Auburndale took two second prizes, and Rebecca White for a small collection of vegetables, beans and green corn. Mrs. A. C. Farley, carrots and parsnips; Dr. William I. Lawrence, squashes.

The third prizes in department four were taken by Miss Dutton, Mrs. Davidson, Rebecca White (beets), and H. L. Hardy, Kentucky Wonders.

Department 5 included all canned goods. Prizes were awarded Miss O. Barrett of Newton; Mrs. Kelley of Waban; Mrs. F. B. Stearns of Auburndale; Mrs. F. H. Malloy of Auburndale; Miss Gladys Cooney of Auburndale; 3 jars; Mrs. G. B. Brodey, 5 jars; Dorothy Grant, a large collection; H. L. K. and J. D. of Waban, 16 jars; Norma Marshall, Girl Scout, Troop 1, 3 jars; Jean Thayer of West Newton, 16 varieties.

Second prizes were taken by Mrs. J. S. Rider, Auburndale, 8 varieties; Miss O. Barrett, Newton; Miss Alma Murray, Newtonville, 6 jars; Mrs. Charles E. Stevens, Waban; Gladys Cooney, Auburndale, 8 jars; Mrs. F. H. Malloy Auburndale; Mrs. W. J. Cozens, Newton Highlands, 12 jars; Mrs. C. H. DEATH OF MR. LUKE

Mr. Arthur Fuller Luke, a well known resident of West Newton, died last Saturday at the private ward of the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, after several months of failing health, and following an unsuccessful operation the previous Monday.

Mr. Luke was born in Cambridge January 29, 1853, where his father, James Luke, conducted a coal business. His mother, Lydia Howe Luke, was a direct descendant of the original owner of the Wayside Inn, and came from a family of inventors, her father, Tyler Howe, originating the spring bed, her uncle, William Howe, was the inventor of the truss bridge, and her cousin, Elias Howe, was the inventor of the sewing machine.

Mr. Luke prepared for college but after graduating from the Cambridge High School entered the First National Bank of Cambridge as a clerk. He then became bookkeeper of the Bank of the Commonwealth in Boston, and then served as one of the assistant bank examiners for two years. For five years he was the cashier of the Bank of North America, and then began a rapid rise in the financial world, which almost equals a story from the Arabian Nights. First as assistant treasurer of the National Tube Works, then treasurer, later treasurer of the re-organized National Tube Works with headquarters in New York, and then the first treasurer of the United States Steel Corporation. He served in this capacity for one year, resigning to become a member of the firm of Parr, Luke and Moore of New York, and later was the senior partner of the firm of Luke, Banks and Weeks. He was also a director of the Liberty Bank and the Bankers Trust Co. of New York, and of the Boylston National Bank of Boston.

He was a member of the Metropolitan and Lawyers Clubs, and the New York Athletic Association and New York Yacht Club of New York, the Boston Athletic Association, Commercial Club of Boston and of the Eastern Yacht Club and of the Brae Burn Country Club of this city and a life member of the Boston Y. M. C. U.

He served the city of Newton as a member of the Common Council in 1889 and 1890 and as an alderman in 1891. He was a prominent member of the West Newton Unitarian Church, and presented that society with the fine organ in its present edifice.

His time for the past fifteen years has been divided between West Newton, where he has a beautiful home on Prince street, his summer home at Beverly Farms, and New York City.

He was twice married, first to Miss Elizabeth Brown of Charlestown and again in 1912 to Miss Anna Fleck of New York, who survives him.

He also has a brother, Mr. Otis H. Luke of Boston, and a sister, Mrs. E. J. Bliss of Hartford, Conn.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the West Newton Unitarian Church, Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, the pastor, officiating, and there was a large attendance of friends and business associates. The floral tributes were most beautiful and completely filled the chancel. A male quartet sang "Eternal Goodness," "Lead Kindly Light," and "Abide With Me."

The pall bearers were Messrs. Henry W. Banks, Jr., of New York, a partner, Edward A. Church of South Boston, Adolph Hupfel of New York, Walter J. Luke of Lexington, and Eugene R. Luke of Cambridge, cousins, and Tyler H. Bliss of Hartford, Conn., a nephew. The ushers were Hon. Charles E. Hatfield, Dr. Fred M. Lowe, and Mr. John S. Alley of West Newton, Mr. John Aimee of Cambridge, and J. C. Brimblecom of Newton.

The interment was at Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

NEWTON VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

On Monday morning the Vocational School was addressed by Superintendent Wheeler on "The Duties and Opportunities of the Times."

He said among other things: "Our first duty is right here, getting the best preparation for the work to come. There is greater need than ever before of securing the best possible school training."

We should be warned by England's mistakes in closing her schools in the early months of the war. The work in the class room is the immediate task.

We know now that our country is at war, and if the war continues for a long period we shall know the meaning of the words, sorrow and sacrifice. We must begin now to prepare for the large demands that will be made upon us. Wounded soldiers will come home to us and there will be a tremendous strain upon the country.

The people of Newton have been nobly doing their part, and many of the pupils of this school have worked for the Red Cross or the food conservation camps.

We hear in some quarters of slackers, and they are found even in Congress. I am sure that if those Congressmen should return to Newton, if this were their home, they would be told what is thought of the words that they have uttered.

The nation cannot do the large things that it has in hand without money. Hospital bases to be established and nineteen are to be established of activities for the care and recuperation of wounded soldiers. We have, even now a large number of soldiers in France. We can only expect that many of them will come home wounded and maimed.

The Red Cross is helping in every form of activity. A movement that has received the sanction of the President is the enrolling of all High School students in Red Cross activities.

This will mean an initial expense of twenty-five cents and some work, with possibly additional expenses later on. It will be the privilege of the 1800 pupils enrolled in the High schools of this city to work together for one purpose—service to our country—and to make any sacrifice of time and effort and money that this cause may demand.

Mr. Wheeler then outlined the work that could be accomplished by both boys and girls.

The exercises closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

YE WILBUR THEATRE—"Love o' Mike," which has been entertaining New York since last January, moves from its Broadway cantonment next week, October 8, when it opens at Ye Wilbur (Boston) with the same assemblage of youth and beauty that has provoked so much comment since this smart musical comedy came into vogue last winter. Under the patronage of Miss Elizabeth Mary, and Mr. Lee Shubert "Love o' Mike" immediately took rank as the most pleasing of all intimate musical shows and now two theatres are under the course of construction in New York with a view of presenting the same type of plays. But for the time being "Mike" apparently has things his own way for with George Hassell playing the leading comedy role and the very prettiest and most youthful girls obtainable and music by Jerome D. Kern there is a combination hard to beat.

2. To elect a Board of Directors to succeed the Board of Directors of The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, for the year ending December 31, 1917, and to act on the following business:

3. To act upon proposed amendments to the Stockholders' by-laws as follows:

Amend Article III by changing the date for the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, from the third Wednesday of October in each year to the third Wednesday of April in each year, and inserting in lieu thereof the word "President" so that the said article shall read as amended:

"The annual meeting of this corporation at which directors shall be chosen shall be held in the City of New Haven, Connecticut, on the third Wednesday of April in each year at 12 o'clock M., at such place as shall be fixed by the President or Directors."

Amend Article IV, VII and IX by striking out the word "Chairman" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "President" so that the said articles as amended shall read as follows:

"IV. A special meeting of this corporation may be called at any time by order of the Board of Directors, and such meeting shall be held in the City of New Haven at such hour and place as shall be fixed by the President or Directors."

"VII. For each annual and special meeting of the Stockholders the Board of Directors shall appoint two tellers to receive and count the votes cast thereat. In case of a tie the tellers shall appoint a third teller to make such an appointment, or in case of the failure of the tellers to serve at such meeting, the President shall appoint another teller, or tellers, in his or their place."

"IX. All the meetings of this corporation shall be held at the City of New Haven, Connecticut, at such hour and place as shall be fixed by the President, when he shall be present."

4. To transact any other business which may properly come before said meeting.

For the purpose of this meeting the transfer books of the Company shall be closed from October 19th to October 24th, 1917, both days inclusive.

Dated at New Haven, Connecticut, this first day of October, 1917.

By order of the Board of Directors, ARTHUR E. CLARK, Secretary.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS.

NOTICE is hereby given that a Special Meeting of the Stockholders of The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company will be held in the City of New Haven, Connecticut, at three o'clock in the afternoon of the twenty-fourth day of October, 1917, if the Annual Meeting shall have adjourned at that hour; if not, then immediately upon the adjournment of said Annual Meeting, for the following purposes:

1. To act upon the acceptance of the amendment to the charter of this corporation contained in an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Connecticut, approved May 15th, 1917, entitled: "An Act Amending the Charter of The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company," in reference to the issue of shares of preferred stock.

2. To act upon the acceptance of the amendment to the charter of this corporation contained in an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Connecticut, approved May 15th, 1917, entitled: "An Act Amending the Charter of The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company," in reference to the issue of shares of preferred stock.

3. To act upon a proposition to authorize the issue of not exceeding four hundred and fifty thousand shares of common stock of the par value of one hundred dollars ($100) each, the holders of which shall be entitled to receive out of the annual net income of the Company, dividends of not exceeding seven per centum per annum.

For the purpose of this meeting the transfer books of the Company will be closed from October 19th to October 24th, 1917, both days inclusive.

Dated at New Haven, Connecticut, this first day of October, 1917.

By order of the Board of Directors, ARTHUR E. CLARK, Secretary.

HELP COMPANY C

To the Editor,
Will you be good enough to publish this in your news columns?
In forming the 101st Regt. U. S. N.
G. which recently sailed for France, the Captain, both Lieutenants, and 100 men were taken from Co. C, 5th Regt. Inf. of Newton. The fragment left in camp at Framingham is now under command of Lieut. E. C. Ben-way, who, with about 20 non-commissioned officers and a few men, has been struggling along on the allowance of 40 cents per day per man given by the Federal Government.
The small amount of money which was left in the Company Fund has been exhausted. The men have been obliged to build floors and board up their tents to protect themselves from the cold winds, also to hire stoves, and have been put to many other expenses on account of the cold weather, with the result that this remnant of Co. C is about $100 in debt.In order to wipe out their indebtedness and to provide a reasonable Company Fund for such extraordinary expenses as are not taken care of by the United States Government, Company C is to give a Sunlight Dance at the State Armory, West Newton, on Friday, October 12th, from 2.00 to 6.00 P. M., music by King's Orchestra. At 8.00 o'clock that evening a Competitive Drill will be given between squad selected from various Companies of the Constabulary under command of the Sergeants of Co. C who have instructed them, the winning squad to receive a cup donated by Co. C. This is to be followed by a short Exhibition Drill by the squad from Co. C under command of Lieut. Benway. The judges will be officers of the U. S. National Guard; dancing will follow the Drill, with music by the Orchestra.I strongly urge that all citizens of Newton who can be present and help this worthy enterprise should do so.
I have sent this circular to members of the Constabulary asking as many as possible to buy tickets and to be present. This being distinctly a patriotic object I venture to trespass on the space of your columns.JAS. G. WHITE,

Newton Committee on Public SafetyCOPELEY THEATRE—Having started on its fifth month at the Copley Theatre, "The Man Who Stayed at Home" continues its uninterrupted success. It is a war-time play, but not a war play. Its scenes are in England at the very beginning of the war, and it tells a thrillingly interesting story of the way in which the Germans through their world-wide spy system attempted to catch the British unawares. The acting of "The Man Who Stayed at Home" by the Henry Jewett Players adds not a little to its popularity, every character being skillfully interpreted so that the English atmosphere is realistically preserved. Matinees are given

(66) feet; Easterly by land of Pauline Bachmann one hundred fifty-nine (159) feet; Southerly by lots 8 and 9 on said plan ninety-four (94) feet; and Westerly by lot 14 on said plan one hundred sixty-two (162) feet.Petitioner alleges that there appears of record a certain restriction to the effect that the property shall be conveyed only to American born citizens, said restriction being set forth in a deed given by George A. Prescott to Darius R. Emerson, dated January 1, 1870, recorded with Middlesex So.

SAVING COAL

From the New York World
A conservation campaign planned from Washington gives notice that Government attention to the coal problem does not stop with naming maximum prices to producers. The consumer must do his part—which he should do the more willingly since he will profit.Americans will not for the present be asked to leave railway car unheated and most rooms in their houses fireless, as the English did last winter to spare coal for France; but given normal autumn weather they may be asked to put off lighting furnaces as long as possible. An average of three days' coal saved in millions of families would mount up to a tremendous economy.More yet can be done by better methods of stoking, of banking fires at night, of using dampers or installing them where there are none. Is there any other land that habitually sends so large a percentage of its heat up the chimney? Compared with our furnaces the huge porcelain stoves of Central Europe are marvels of thrift.DIAMONDS

EDITORIAL

The idea of celebrating the departure of men drafted for military service ought to be discouraged, and by all means let us cut out the hypocrisy of saying that they are glad to respond to the call of the country for their services. Let us express our sincerest sympathy and our best wishes for their future welfare in a sane and sensible manner, and leave out the "Hurrah boys" and patriotic clap trap which seems prevalent all over the country.

Auburndale residents, of all denominations, will hear of the resignation of Rev. Dr. William C. Gordon as pastor of the Congregational Church, with deep regret. Dr. Gordon has won a large place in the hearts of the community, and there is a unanimous sentiment in the hope that he may be induced to reconsider his decision.

Newton should do its full share in the matter of the Second Liberty Bond movement, and every resident of this city who invests his money, thru whatever channel, ought to insist that it be credited to the Newton committee.

MILITARY NOTES

An order has just been issued from the Adjutant General's office at the State House, relieving the detail of Retired Officers of the Massachusetts National Guard, as custodians of State Armories and requiring the senior officer of the State Guard at each Armory to assume the position of custodian.

For the City of Newton, Capt. John C. de Mille, commanding the Newton Company of the State Guard, has relieved Major Fred P. Barnes, who has performed the duties incumbent of the position for the past two months. This order is the same as applies to the National Guard companies until their mobilization in the U. S. Army, as the State Guard have taken their place as State troops.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

Wednesday morning the entire school assembled in the hall and Mr. Wheeler, Superintendent of schools told us how we as students could do our bit. In brief he said that there was a movement thru our country to get high school students to form Red Cross Units. This would entail a membership fee of twenty-five cents or more. Plenty could be found for the girls to do, such as knitting, sewing and making surgical dressings but as most boys are not accomplished knitters their part would be to uphold the financial end. Mr. Adams has appointed collectors and good competition in securing funds is expected.

RICH-PERSON

One of the social events of Newton last week was the marriage at the Cline Memorial Church, Newton Highlands, Saturday evening, September 29th, of Bernice Ella, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Person, to Karl Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison W. Rich, all of Newton Highlands.

The bride was charming in a beautiful gown of white satin with duchess lace and pearl trimmings. Her veil was confined by orange blossoms into a cap effect, and she wore a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. She was attended by two little flower girls, the Misses Ruth and Esther Woodworth, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Woodworth, attired in fairy-like, fluffy creations of pink and blue crepe de chine with butterfly bows of maline.

The maid of honor, Miss Ada Cooper of Brookline, wore a pale yellow satin with elaborate designs in gilt embroidery, and carried pink roses.

The bride's mother was becomingly gowned in grey Georgette crepe over messaline with silver lace and coral trimmings.

The groom's mother wore a beautiful gown of blue satin.

The wedding march was played by Mr. Wendell H. Luce of Boston, well known in musical circles.

The ushers were Messrs. Frederick A. Cole of Newtonville, William Barton Cole of Newton Highlands, Walter Bailey of Milford, Mass., Ralph Wheeler of Winthrop, Mass., Mr. Ralph Coombs of Milford, Mass., was the best man.

Following the ceremony at the church which was performed by the Rev. George Phipps, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Jones, pastor of the church, a reception was held at the home of the bride, during which an orchestra furnished music.

The bride and groom left for their honeymoon in the White Mountain, amid showers of confetti pursued by admiring friends in automobiles.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Rich will reside in Newton Highlands.

THE TOBACCO FUND

Interest in the success of the Tobacco Fund for the Boys in France continues unabated, the fund today amounting to $106.75.

A subscriber to the Tobacco Fund writes us as follows:

"I am very much interested in the Tobacco Fund and hope to see it a great success so I send along this hint amounting to a dollar and I intend myself to adopt it.

If you are a smoker every time you buy a cigar, a package of cigarettes, a box of tobacco or a pipe put aside a sum equal to your expenditure and when the amount so saved amounts to a dollar send it along to the GRAPHIC for its tobacco fund. If smoking is a solace and a comfort to you think what it must mean to the soldier or the sailor far from home. Share your tobacco joys with the boys at the front."

The list of new contributors will be printed next week.

MARTIN-GRAHAM

Monday evening, October 1st, at 7.30 P. M. occurred the marriage of Miss Ethyl Mae, daughter of Mrs. Catherine F. Graham to Dr. J. William Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Martin, Brookton, Mass., at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, Mass., by the Rev. Fr. Malone.

Following the marriage a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Catherine F. Graham, 17 Beacon street, where the home was very beautifully decorated with autumnal flowers, jack roses, gladiolas and autumn leaves.

Music was furnished for the evening by Geo. King's orchestra.

The bride was attended by Miss Anna Hynes of Brookline, N. Y., a class-mate of Miss Graham's while at Brentwood, L. I.

The groom was attended by his brother, Fred T., a student at Georgetown. The bride was very beautifully gowned in steel grey georgette with pearl trimmings and hat to match. Her attendant was very handsomely gowned in rose georgette with large picture hat with old blue velvet trimmings.

The bride is a graduate of Brentwood Academy, L. I., and has been employed for the past five years at the John Hancock Co., where she was very highly esteemed by all who knew her.

The groom is a graduate of Georgetown and has for the past seven years been practicing in Brookton, where he is also very highly esteemed. A member of the Nalenna Council K. of C. of Brookton.

Dr. and Mrs. Martin were the recipients of numerous very beautiful gifts.

Guests were present from Brookline, N. Y., New York City, Bangor, Me., Boston, Wollaston, Milford, Worcester, Keene, N. H.

After an extensive trip through Newfoundland and Nova Scotia, Dr. and Mrs. Martin will reside in Brookton. They will be at home after November 15.

Thursday afternoon of this week was the first of the "Children's Afternoons" which are to be held regularly during the war at the Red Cross Work Room in the Masonic Temple, Newtonville. An unexpectedly large number of children attended and those in charge were pleased and gratified at the amount of enthusiasm and the willingness to work on the part of the children. Because of the large number present it was somewhat difficult to manage to set all at work but a large amount of work was done and the inauguration of the afternoon was a success, so many young women who were also present did work on surgical dressings and many of them did their first bit of Red Cross work and promised to do more in the future. A number of the children were ambitious to knit and it will be helpful to the Red Cross if those who have what few do have now-a-days, unused knitting needles, will send them to the Work Room before next Thursday. The work the children are to do is to be for the children of Belgium and France and also for the children of the Red Cross who wish to help along may do so by sending in, if they have any, remnants of cretonne or any other materials; old clean cotton or linen clothes; cheese cloth; colored beads; needles and thread; old magazines and picture books; old playing cards and colored paper and cardboard. These Red Cross afternoons will give an opportunity to children to do their part in the war and all Newtonville children will be welcome every Thursday afternoon between half past four and half past five. Mothers or big sisters who come along with the children will find tables where they too may work.

In its report, under date of October 1, the Boston Chapter of the Red Cross states that of the twenty-four branches under its jurisdiction the Newton Branch stood first in work done and membership, first in work done, and first in membership. The carrying off of this triple first is of course most gratifying to the officers and the workers of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross but they realize that Newton stands first because of the support given to it by the people of Newton and that to continue to stand at the head the Newton Branch must continue to have the same loyal and generous support. Being at the head of the class means that one must continually keep an eye on number two and while the officers of the Newton Branch wish to see every Branch grow and prosper they hope for such co-operation from all the people of Newton that the Newton Branch may continue to stand at the head during the whole of the war.

The Graphic's Fund for Tobacco for Sailors and Soldiers is one that appeals to all Red Cross members and every smoking member ought to send in once his dollar contribution to the fund.

Under orders of the manager of the New England division of the Red Cross, October 12 has been designated "Sweater Day" and every Red Cross knitter is asked to turn in, on or before that day a sweater to keep some soldier or sailor warm and comfortable. Coming on top of the recent call for millions of woolen soldier comforts, of which the Newton Branch more than filled its quota of one thousand sets, this request from Division headquarters is rather soon but these are war times and war times mean work and persistent work and the women of Newton have proved their willingness to do more than their share. The sweaters will be forwarded to the places where they are needed most as soon as they are turned in. Camp Devens by the way needs thousands of them.

The Newtonville Special Aid sent through the Newton Branch of the Red Cross this week one hundred and fifty Christmas bags for boys at the front. The bags were made and filled by the Special Aid and along with the bags was also sent a sum of money for use for soldiers and sailors. The Newtonville Special Aid is busy at present working on surgical dressings.

The Red Cross Work Room at Temple Hall, Newtonville, opens every day except Saturdays and Sundays from ten to one and new helpers are always welcome. Instructors are in attendance to help those who have not had previous experience in the work. Every bit of work done helps to make the whole amount larger and for women who are able to drop in for a few minutes only are invited to do so. The Room recently sent in a lot of some four thousand surgical dressings and was gratified to receive special commendation for the manner in which the dressings were made.

SHALLER MATHEWS COMING

Shaller Mathews, Dean of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago, author and lecturer, will be the first speaker at the 1917-1918 Season of the Newton Christian Forum. His subject "American Democracy and World Politics" is up to date and deals with questions whose answers we would all like to know.

Harold Marshall of the Boston City Club describes Shaller Mathews and his address this address. Shaller Mathews of the University of Chicago, who never fails to draw an audience in Boston, was last winter one of the hits of the season at the Boston City Club. He is a nominal conservative who says radical things.

It is important to notice that this first meeting of the Forum will be held in Channing Church instead of Eliot Church the usual place of meeting, on Sunday evening, October 14, at 7.30. The usual opportunity to ask questions will be given.

MR. RATEY DEAD

Mr. William J. Ratsey, a resident of Auburndale for the past thirty years died last Sunday at his home on Seminary avenue, after a long illness. Mr. Ratsey was 78 years of age and is survived by a widow and two daughters, the Misses Edith D. and Ethel W. Ratsey of Auburndale.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Percival Wood, rector of the Church of the Messiah, officiating and the interment was at Mt. Auburn.

Are Your PICTURES Suffering?

How many years since an expert has examined them?

It is the rule for owners of pictures to neglect them until their condition is so bad that the expense of their restoration is many times as great as if they had received proper care.

We give especial attention to restoration, framing and re-glazing and the quality of our work is unsurpassed.

Our Carrig-Rohane Shop, headed by Mr. Hermann Dudley Murphy, unquestionably America's most original and artistic designer of frames, has been the leading influence in the development of taste in framing for the last dozen years.

PRUDEN-CONVERSE

A notable wedding was solemnized Saturday in Grace Church, Newton, when Miss Evelyn Converse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Converse of Park street was united in marriage to Lieutenant Theodore Mitchell Prudden, Yale, '13 of Philadelphia, son of Mrs. Prudden of Brookline and the late Rev. Theodore Prudden.

The church was artistically decorated with autumn flowers and foliage and palms were arranged about the altar.

In the centre of the main aisle, was a large floral arch under which the bride passed. As the guests were assembling, Mr. William G. Hambleton, organist of Grace Church, rendered a select program which included Moskowski's "Serenade," Rubinstein's "Melody in F," and Debussy's "Con Amor."

As the strains of Wagner's Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin filtered through the nave, the doors were flung open and the ushers slowly marched thru and up the aisle followed by the bridesmaids, the maid of honor and the bride, who was escorted by her father who gave her in marriage.

The ceremony was performed at four o'clock by the rector, Rev. Laurens MacLure S. T. D.

As the benediction was pronounced, the wedding march by Mendelssohn burst forth, and the guests had one more glimpse of the bride, who looked very charming, her natural attractions made more lovely by her exquisite wedding robe of silver brocade with court train, and trimmings of rose point lace. Her bridal veil of tulle was arranged with a coronet of lace and orange blossoms, and her bouquet was a magnificent full shower of lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Madeline Converse, as maid of honor who was very attractive in a gown of pale yellow net over taffeta; she wore a taupe hat with yellow crown and carried yellow roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Edith Prudden, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Eleanor Phillips, and Miss Margaret Harris of Brookline, who were gowned alike in blue net over taffeta, wearing hats of taupe with blue velvet crowns and carrying pink roses.

Lieutenant Prudden was assisted by Captain Elbridge Peirce, Yale '13, of Waterbury, Conn., as best man, and the ushers included Captain Frank Lee Converse, Harvard '14, and Ensign Howard Brooks Converse, brothers of the bride; Lieutenant Ronald Morse, Yale '13, and Lieutenant Forest Purinton.

A military touch was added to the wedding because of the uniforms worn by the bridegroom and his attendants, showing their military service.

Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present at the ceremony, but a large reception was held at 4.30 at the Converse family home on Park street.

The rooms were very attractively adorned with autumn flowers and the bride and bridegroom received the guests in the spacious library.

Receiving the wedding party and Mrs. Converse and Mrs. Prudden.

Mrs. Converse, the bride's mother was handsomely gowned in lavender Georgette combined with velvet, and Mrs. Prudden, wore black lace.

Music was furnished during the reception by members of the Salem Cadet Band.

The bride is prominent in the younger society set of Newton and Boston and was a member of the Sewing Circle 1912.

Handsome gifts of great variety and value were displayed in one of the upper rooms.

Lieutenant Prudden and his bride left on a wedding trip to the White Mountains and on their return will reside for the present at Ardmore, Pa.

There was a large company of guests of social prominence present from New York, Boston, Waterbury, Conn., Brookline, Newton, and members of the Duxbury summer colony.

DEATH OF MR. HARRINGTON

Mr. George B. Harrington, for twenty-five years associated with the firm of Houghton & Dutton of Boston, died Tuesday at the home of his nephew, Mr. Robert W. Harrington on Perkins street, West Newton. He was born in Watertown, Mass., and was 50 years of age. He was a member of Prospect Lodge of Masons of Roslindale and the Boston City Club. Mr. Harrington is survived by two nephews, Mr. Robert W. Harrington of West Newton and Horace C. Harrington of Newton and one niece, Miss Cora A. Harrington. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at his late home on Perkins street, Rev. James De Normandie, D. D. of Roxbury, officiating and officers of Prospect Lodge conducted a masonic service. The burial was in the old Cambridge Cemetery.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—An announcement has just been made by Comstock and Elliott, producers of "Oh, Boy!" now in its tenth phenomenal week at the Wilbur Theatre, Boston, that on Monday evening, October 8, this successful musical comedy, with its array of dancers and youthful players, will move to the Plymouth Theatre in Eliot street, where it will remain through the holidays. A special afternoon performance of "Oh, Boy!" will be given at the Plymouth Theatre on Columbus Day (Oct. 12) in addition to the Thursday and Saturday matinees of that week. Seats are now being sold as far ahead as Thanksgiving and Christmas, matinee and night, and there is every present indication that this delightful amusement will stay in Boston almost indefinitely.

CHILD WELFARE CIRCLE

The regular monthly meetings of the Child Welfare Circle of Newton and Brighton have been resumed, and the next meeting will be held on October 10 in Jewett Hall, Newton Public Library at 2.30 P. M.

Many important matters are to be discussed, especially in reference to our co-operation with the school teachers, also a prospective co-operation with the Red Cross in caring for the families of enlisted men. It is hoped a large audience will be present.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Not even the oldest club in this country has ever opened its season under conditions similar to those of the present time. It is almost a truism to mention it. So engrossed have many of the club women been all during the summer, it can hardly be said that the club season is opening, for to them it has never been closed. There are, however, many who have sort inspiration by the sea, or in the country or among the mountains and to them the renewal of club activities marks the beginning of another year. What this year is to be is indicated by the spirit of the day, one of great activity, and consecrated, self-forgetting service. There are those who have become so deeply absorbed in the immediate pressing needs, that to them anything else appears of little or no consequence. It should be borne in mind nevertheless, that important as these all are the need of inspiration was never greater than at the present moment and here is a legitimate part for the clubs to play. Let the club functions be marked with simplicity, let the women return to the days of plain living and high thinking, but let them be received by Thursday morning each week. The Club Editor is always glad to answer any questions and may be reached on Wednesday evenings or Thursday mornings by calling Newton North 923-M.

Local Announcements

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. A. Wiswell, 68 Chester street.

On Tuesday morning, October 9, the Newton Parliamentary Law Club opens its season at the Newton Library at 10.15.

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will hold its first meeting on Tuesday, October 9, at 2.30 in Lincoln Hall. There will be a reception, music and tea.

At Auburndale the Woman's Club will also open its season on Tuesday afternoon.

Local Happenings

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. began its season with a social meeting at the home of Miss Bacall on September 24th. This week's meeting was held with Miss Cora S. Cobb of Boylston street. Miss Cobb was also in charge of the work, introducing the subject of Alaska, which is the present topic for study. She treated the physical characteristics and gave something of the history of its purchase by the United States. The gold mines and other mineral wealth were described. Maps and photographs were used to make the subject more vivid.

At the home of Mrs. E. F. Drew, Central street, Auburndale, the Christian Era Study Club held its first meeting on Monday afternoon. A paper on "Some Gleanings of the Renaissance" written by Mrs. Giles was read by the president. "The Influence of the Renaissance upon the Reformation" was treated by Miss Hall while Mrs. Champion gave a brief sketch of Savonarola.

The club house of the Brighthelmstone Club is undergoing extensive repairs and alterations, but unavoidable delays have made it necessary for the club to hold its October meetings in the Allston Congregational Church, Quint avenue. On Monday of this week Rev. Abraham Ribnary spoke on "The Wise Men of the East" and the Wise Men of the West." There has been a most successful canvas for books for the soldiers.

The opening meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands was held with Mrs. W. M. Mick, October 1st. The president, Mrs. C. H. Keeler, presided over a short business session, after which Mrs. Henry Coolidge Mulligan gave a most interesting paper on "Colonial women."

She chose three representatives, Anne Hutchinson, Anne Bradstreet, Margaret Winthrop, as the Club Library and social examples of the time. The paper was filled with the lights and shadows of Colonial days.

An additional pleasure was the old English songs given by Miss Bessie Talbot Salmon, in Colonial costume, with Mr. Warren Story Smith at the piano.

The Education Committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs is arranging to form a class in Spanish under the direction of the State Department of University Extension. The class will be held in Newtonville, Wednesday mornings, at 10.30, beginning October 31st. Any woman desiring to join may communicate with Mrs. George W. St. Amant, Auburndale, (tel. N. West 505), before October 15th.

The response to the appeal sent out by the Newton Special Aid for knitted articles to be supplied to Lt. Com. Bruce R. Ware, Jr., was so prompt and generous that on Sept. 28 there were shipped to him from the Special Aid Workrooms at Channing Church ten cases of sweaters, socks, wristers and mufflers from his "native city" to be distributed among the members of his crew. The number of articles sent will be found in the Newton Special Aid announcement for the week.

Tuesday being the regular church day in all our churches, it is thought wise to close the work rooms at Channing Church all day on Tuesday of each week, that the work in the various churches which is most important may continue.

SPECIAL AID MEETING

The third open meeting of the Newton Special Aid was held at Channing Church parlors last Friday afternoon, September 28.

Channing Church parlors are well adapted to the large undertakings now in progress there, and those who fail to attend these open meetings, fail also to realize the great amount of work being done, and to share the inspiration which comes from working together for a common cause.

On entering the parlors for the meeting, at the left were long tables on which were attractively displayed the results of the summer labors, and long before the hour set, groups of interested housekeepers were busily selecting their supplies.

Beyond the desks of the Special Aid and the Red Cross, flanked by the sewing machines in operation, were rapidly piling with knitted articles which are to keep our boys in comfort. At 3 o'clock, the meeting was opened by Mrs. C. H. Patton, president of the Newton French Relief. After the reports of the secretary, Mrs. George Owen, and the treasurer, Miss Maud Henry, Miss Elizabeth Horsfall of the Junior Special Aid, gave an interesting account of the hurry calls to which the Boy and Girl Scouts and the Special Aid Bicycle Corps responded with much promptness.

Mrs. Vernon B. Scott of the Canteen Committee said they were fully equipped and ready for instant service.

Miss Martha Lathe, chairman of the Social Service Committee said the summer gardens had been worked with much success in most cases.

The canning, done under the supervision of Mrs. R. C. Henry, Mrs. C. B. Beason and Mrs. Fred White had been in every way a success. A portion of the products was sold to help defray the expense and the remainder will be used in welfare work. Recipes for Canadian War Cake, Vegetable Soup, and Butter, are on sale at all times for a small sum. The committee will be glad to receive contributions of winter vegetables.

All present were awaiting with interest the report of Mrs. E. M. Moore, chairman of the Work Committee because of the great activity in outfitting Lieut. Bruce R. Ware, and his men, and they were not disappointed. Mrs. Moore said as the result of the summer's work there were distributed 1152 hospital supplies, and 285 knitted articles, to the American Fund for French Wounded, to the Chelsea Hospitals, the Marine Reserves, and Newton drafted men.

Response was made to special calls which came when the Paulding and the Seattle were about to sail, and the troops at Framingham needed added equipment.

Also, with timely help from Newton French response was made, when the 18 men from the Lafayette Flying Squadron were about to sail.

During the first three weeks in September over 200 articles were sent chiefly to the French wounded. But most interesting of all has been the outfitting of Lieut. Ware. Sweaters, socks, mufflers and wristers—338 in all, were sent last week, to the young Lieutenant-Commander. From other sections of Newton 219 articles were received.

Also there will be turned over to the Red Cross 200 articles.

Miss Esta Mae Barr, Field Secretary of the Special Aid, was then presented, and gave a stirring, enthusiastic address, calculated to arouse the patriotic fervor of all present.

She began by stating the reason for the existence of the Special Aid which is that much work which is needing to be done can not be handled by the Red Cross, and here is the opportunity of the Special Aid. It fills in the niches. It is a national organization and has 100,000 members. Miss Barr leaves soon for Canada to learn of our neighbors over the border something of the methods experience has taught were the best to use in sending comforts to our soldiers overseas; to inspect hospitals, military camps and the women's organizations made up of relatives of military men.

From Canada she goes to France, and she will have special supervision over the Massachusetts troops, "mothering them," as she said.

She emphasized the tremendous need of comfortable knitted garments and urged all not to relax, but to redouble their efforts.

She spoke of Boston as likely to be a great receiving port for the wounded when they return, and hospital supplies are greatly needed.

We are looking now at huge ships bearing away their precious cargoes, but almost while we look, we shall see the crews of those ships returning filled with wounded men, and we must be ready to care for them.

One important part of her work will be the caring for men discharged from the hospitals to seek that they do not become a burden to themselves, their families and their country, but to so establish them in gainful occupations that they can again be of economic value.

Another important point was that sweets kill the love for intoxicants, and our men will be liberally supplied with candy, jelly and jam. It is hoped, at all times. She will carry with her 1800 pounds of candy.

Woman's time now, she said, belongs to her country and preparedness is the biggest work in our language at the present time.

The meeting was much enjoyed by the large number present.

Tuesday being the regular church day in all our churches, it is thought wise to close the work rooms at Channing Church all day on Tuesday of each week, that the work in the various churches which is most important may continue.

The response to the appeal sent out by the Newton Special Aid for knitted articles to be supplied to Lt. Com. Bruce R. Ware, Jr., was so prompt and generous that on Sept. 28 there were shipped to him from the Special Aid Workrooms at Channing Church ten cases of sweaters, socks, wristers and mufflers from his "native city" to be distributed among the members of his crew. The number of articles sent will be found in the Newton Special Aid announcement for the week.

SHAW-BURDETT

On Friday evening, at the First Church of Newton, in Newton Centre, Miss Ellen Moore Burdett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Burdett, of Newton Centre, was married to Mr. Irving Roland Shaw of Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Shaw. Rev. Edward M. Noyes, D.D., officiated at the ceremony. The organist was Ralph Maclean, who played both introductory and ceremony music. The wedding prelude was composed by the bride's father at the bride's request. In fuller and more formal form it was also played in the preliminary music.

Miss Burdett's mother was matron of honor and she wore her wedding dress in its original form. The other attendants were Mrs. Harold W. Birch of Cambridge, sister of the bride; Miss Sylvia Burdett, a younger sister; the Misses Alice and Florence Shaw of Palmer, sisters of the bridegroom; Miss Caroline Burdett of Brookline, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Elizabeth Tyler of Newton Centre.

The bridal party passed through an aisle formed by eight other bridesmaids carrying flowers looped together with ribbon. These were Miss Maude B. Dilts of Somerville, N. J.; Miss Mabel W. Holland of Springfield; Miss Genevieve Preble of Waltham; Miss Ruth P. Wedge of Jamaica Plain; Miss Lucy Tillotson of New York; Miss Florence Arnold of Newton Centre; Miss Gertrude Cousins of Roxbury; and Miss Martha Strong of Jamaica Plain. Miss Tillotson, Miss Dilts, Miss Holland, Miss Caroline Burdett, Miss Strong and Miss Wedge were classmates of the bride at Vassar. Elizabeth Burdett of Newton Centre was flower girl.

Mr. Alfred B. White of Norton was best man and Mr. Parker McCollister of New York was head usher. Both were Tufts classmates of the bridegroom. Other ushers were Messrs. Harold W. Birch of Cambridge, brother-in-law of the bride; Richard E. Burdett of Springfield, cousin of the bride; Sherman Schmetz of Waban; Warner Buxton of Springfield, cousin of the bridegroom; Carl O. J. Wheeler of Newton Centre; Henry Herr of Boston and James Rathbone of Palmer.

After a small reception at the bride's home, held for relatives and immediate friends, the bridal couple departed for a short trip. Upon their return they will live in Palmer.

PRESENTED WITH FLAG

The West Newton Unit of the Newton Constabulary were presented with a handsome silk flag last Monday night at the weekly drill in the State Armory. Ladies of the village interested in the Unit were the donors and Rev. J. Edgar Park presented the flag in his usual eloquent manner. Capt. Clinton L. Eddy accepted the gift in behalf of the Unit. A squad of men from the Abundant Unit were present as an escort to the colors.

On Saturday, October 20, the various units of the Newton Constabulary are planning a field day at the Riverside Recreation Grounds.

Miss Lyra Dale Trueblood, daughter of Mrs. Benjamin F. Trueblood of Newton Highlands, Mass., was united in marriage at Haverford, Pa., last Saturday, to Mr. George G. Wolkins of Boston. The wedding was at noon at the home of Jonathan M. Steere and the ceremony was according to the order of the Society of Friends, both bride and bridegroom pledging each other before the assembled Friends and later signing their own marriage certificate. The gathering was by appointment of Boston Monthly Meeting, of which the contracting parties are members.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine and Georgette crepe, with a veil of point d'etille lace. She carried a bridal bouquet of white cosmos, lilies of the valley and maid-in-hair ferns. The matron of honor was Mrs. Jonathan M. Steere, of Haverford, sister of the bride, who wore white net and carried a Dresden bouquet. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Henry S. Wolkins, of Boston.

The committee to oversee the marriage included Dr. George A. Barton of Bryn Mawr; Dr. Ellihu Grant of Haverford College, and Mrs. Ellihu Grant, and Miss Martha C. Swan of Boston.

Mrs. Wolkins for several years assisted her father, Benjamin F. Trueblood, in his work for the American Peace Society, accompanying him to international congresses and sharing in the conferences. Mr. Wolkins is in the wholesale coal business and has been actively associated with the work in history that is centered at the Old South Meeting House in Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Wolkins will reside at Newton Highlands.

The original draft for the poster advertising the Fair (designed and executed by Miss Rosalind Winslow, N. H. S., 1920, and awarded the prize of $2.50) was on exhibition.

In the Arts and Crafts Section was an exhibit shown by the Abundant Branch of the Red Cross, illustrating the great variety of work carried on by the Chapter, the work for the wounded and disabled in France, was also exhibited; and samples of the various articles knitted under the direction of the Navy League Committee showed that work for the Navy. A quilt made over a hundred years ago, and an Afghan made by a lady of eighty proved of interest. An exhibit of photographs from the studio of H. Orne Ritter hung near the centre of the Hall.

The Executive Committee of the Garden City Fair wish to thank all who contributed in any way towards making the Fair a success. There were over 3000 people in attendance and a substantial sum was realized, which will be used for War Relief Work.

The Committee feel that they have accomplished their purpose viz, to encourage gardening and conservation. They hope they have shown such an undertaking to be worth while, and that some organization will take it up and make it an annual event in Newton.

EDGARTON-ROBBINS

The wedding of Miss Mary Robbins daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Robbins of West Newton, and Mr. Charles Gardner Edgerton, Assistant Paymaster of the Navy, took place Friday evening at the bride's residence on Chestnut street.

The rooms were attractively decorated for the occasion with lavender-colored asters in combination with asparagus fern and in the dining-room the color motif was pink and pink roses centered the table.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, pastor of the First Unitarian Church.

The bride wore a white satin wedding gown and her tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace the gift of the bridegroom.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. William McNear Rand of Hingham as matron of honor and Miss Mildred Edgerton, sister of the bridegroom as maid of honor. They were gowned alike in pink satin and net and carried arm bouquets of pink Killarney roses.

Miss Ruth Blodgett of Temple street and Mrs. Henry Whitcomb Robbins acted as ribbon bearers.

Mr. Edgerton was assisted by Mr. H. Potter Trainer of Brookline as best man and the ushers were Mr. Henry W. Robbins of West Newton, Mr. William M. Rand of Hingham, Dr. McCleod of New York, and Mr. William Davis of Concord.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgerton will make their home in Cambridge.

ROUTINE MEETING OF ALDERMEN

Mayor Asked to Have Plans and Estimates Made of Changes in City Hall

The aldermen had a long docket and a short meeting on Monday evening, most of the business being of a routine nature.

President Early was in the chair and Aldermen Blake and Kendrick, the only members absent, Alderman Tuttle, who has been engaged on government work in Washington, occupying his seat for the first time in several months.

Mr. Thos. Greene of the Telephone Company, and Mr. F. E. Slattery appeared on petition of the Telephone Company for a pole on Marlboro street, and Mr. John W. Cox opposed concrete sidewalks under the betterment act on Ricker road.

Mr. A. L. Harwood, Jr., led a strong remonstrance to permit being granted Mr. Charles Whittemore for several private garages on Water-town street and Adella avenue, West Newton. Messrs. Thos. and William Kellar also spoke in opposition.

Hearings were also held on Edison poles on Turner street, for sewers in Waverley place, Ashmont avenue, and Hood street, on the laying out of Ricker road under the betterment act, and for a building line on Ricker road.

Mayor Childs sent in recommendations for $1140 for work on Woodland and Waban railroad bridges, for $900 to complete work on Boylston street at railroad bridge, for sewer in Beacon street, Lower Falls, for $2000 for private work on shade trees by Forestry Department, for $92 for adding machine for City Treasurer, $400 for Police automobile, $200 for supplies, and $100 for office expenses of City Engineer, and $5 for payment under Workmen's Compensation, all of which were approved.

The Mayor also sent in the appointment of William D. Nugent as a trustee of the Free Library in place of the late Judge Kennedy, and also recommended $400 for repairs to Fire Department apparatus, and $130 for fence around the powder magazine.

The Waban Neighborhood Club was granted licenses for bowling alleys, billiard and pool tables, and various permits authorized for use of private garages.

Petitions were received from Hugh E. Devine for license as an auctioneer, and from Carmine Colicula for a street musician license.

Petitions of the Telephone Company for attachments on Grafton street for removal of poles on Centre street and Chestnut street, for relocation of an Edison pole on Union street, from Lenora A. Parker for increase of Soldier relief, and from W. M. Thompson and Isabella C. Mason for apportionment of betterment assessments on Avalon road, all of which were granted.

On recommendation of committees, F. L. Crawford was granted permit to enlarge his garage on Elmwood street, on condition it was kept 6 feet from the street line, Chas. E. Byall was granted a truck license and J. Edward Callanan a pool room license at 332 Centre street, the Edison Company was granted poles on Waverley avenue, and attachments on Homer and Walnut streets, the Telephone Company was granted attachments on Woodward street, and permit to remove poles on Washington and Auburn streets, James McCruden was granted Soldiers' Relief, land was taken for drain easement from Carver road, Hobart road extension and Prentice road were laid out as public streets and a building line established on both, street sprinkling was ordered on Waban Hill road, north Court and Beach streets, sewers were authorized in Westland avenue and Walker street, the name of Cemetery avenue was changed to Cummings road, sidewalk assessments were levied on Walnut and Maple streets, hearings assigned on October 22 on laying out of Westbourne road, and for rounding corners of Walnut and Cabot and Walnut and Otis streets, and for curbing at the corners of Walnut and intersecting streets in Newtonville, the State Election was called for November 6, the City Election for December 11, and polling places established for both.

The City Buildings committee presented a comprehensive report on the matter of increasing office accommodations at City Hall by utilizing the old church property adjoining. The committee opposed carrying out the plans submitted by Mr. Lewis H. Bacon, or alternative plans, on somewhat similar lines also considered by the committee. The report approved work estimated at about $7500 on the present City Hall, and the old patrol stable on Church street.

The board adjourned at 9:10 P. M., until October 22nd.

ANNUAL BANQUET

Clafin Guards Have Distinguished Guests at 22nd Anniversary

The Clafin Guard Veteran Association held its 22nd annual meeting and dinner Wednesday evening at the Hotel Lenox, Boston, with Lieut. Gov. Calvin Coolidge and Mayor Childs as the principal guests. President Fred Bogardus was the toastmaster as well as the presiding officer. With him at the head table were Lieut. Gov. Coolidge, Mayor Childs, Rev. E. T. Sullivan, Mr. Frank W. Stearns, Capt. John C. DeMille of the State Guard, Capt. A. C. Walworth, and President-elect, Harry S. Storms.

Mr. Coolidge made a clear cut, forceful speech, saying in part that he was glad to join the Association in the promotion of patriotism. He referred to the national determination to defend the principles of liberty at any cost of all that men hold dear and spoke of the rising of the whole American nation to volunteer for service when the call came.

He believed that too much praise cannot be given the men who responded to that call or to their fathers and mothers, wives and sweethearts. Modern warfare, he said means money and large sums of money. We have lodged 10 per cent of the entire national wealth of the country, an unprecedented and unheard of sum. It is of the utmost importance that the present loan should be subscribed in full, not only for the money, but for the effect it will have on our opponents. Massachusetts has stood for right and truth and justice for 300 years and the whole material and spiritual force of America will be used to break down military despotism.

Mayor Childs said in part: We honor the men who have responded to the call of duty, in training camp, on the sea and on foreign soil. They have done the duty that lay nearest to them characteristic both of a soldier and of a good citizen. The call comes to all of us, high or low, rich or poor, one gives his time, another money, a third his factory and others give themselves, the supreme sacrifice. Service means that one must serve and servant is the proudest title one can bear. It is the spirit to fit one for work in this world and the only spirit to fit one for the world to come.

Rev. Mr. Sullivan called attention to our celebration to the defeats of Lexington and Bunker Hill, as serving notice that Massachusetts would defend our rights and liberties at any odds and regardless of the result.

TOBACCO FUND

Subscriptions to Supply Tobacco to Boys in France Rising Slowly

Miss Hope Harding Davis, 3-year old daughter of the late war correspondent and brilliant author Richard Harding Davis, and Elizabeth Genevieve McAvoy, once so well known on the stage as Bessie McCoy, the Yama Yama girl, yesterday became one of the star contributors to "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund."

This little patriot, born January 4, 1915, in New York City, not only sends a donation of $10 with which to buy smokes for the American soldiers, but announces her intention of contributing some money each month. Her letter contains the coupon with the name and address, "Hope Harding Davis, 362 Riverside Drive." This amount of money will supply forty packages of tobacco-cigarettes, pipe and chewing tobacco of several standard brands and high quality—the normal retail value of 50 cents a package.

It is a charmingly modest little letter that the daughter of the noted war correspondent writes. She doesn't brag of who she is or what she means to do, but she is bound to receive many a card of thanks from the soldiers, who will be mighty proud to know that they are smoking a treat from such a distinguished friend and sponsor.

Here is a letter written on a sheet of paper that has on the top a fancy picture of a little girl about to eat her breakfast and a tiny dog waiting, with his tongue out for his share: "Dear Editor—Please accept this $10 with all my good wishes for your tobacco fund. Also I will send you some money each month for smokes for Our Boys in France."

All good wishes from (signed) Hope Harding Davis. Hope Harding Davis was named Hope after the heroine in "Soldiers of Fortune." Her father, Richard Harding Davis, who died at his Cross Roads Farm, Mount Kisco, N. Y., on April 11, 1916, had been a war correspondent in several wars and numerous campaigns. He knew all about the necessity for tobacco in a soldier's life. He was one of the first correspondents to see actual fighting in the present war, and although his work was interrupted several times when he was placed under arrest by some foolish order and sent to the rear, he kept near the French and British fronts much of the time during the retreat from Mons. After his return to this country from France he went to Serbia at the beginning of the Teutonic drive through that country, and with John T. McCutcheon, the cartoonist, witnessed from a height the earliest battle between the Bulgars and the French.

The fund now amounts to $137.75. In addition to the list of contributors printed last week we have received subscriptions from the following:

THE LIBERTY LOAN

Sinking Fund Commissioners Help Out Another Poor Week with $100,000

Newton must wake up if she is not to make a poor showing on the second Liberty Loan. Thus far the subscriptions have been small in amount. Undoubtedly many are simply delaying their subscriptions, intending to buy later. To these it is suggested that it will help much if subscriptions are promptly made for nothing succeeds like success. He who acts early encourages not only those working for the loan but other purchasers who will be influenced to buy the bonds by the action of the prompt purchasers.

In the last analysis it is not really a question whether one wishes to subscribe or not; it is a duty which all owe their country and their interests.

Anything like a failure of the loan will imperil not only the cause but the lives of our boys who have gone to the front and the safety of the country.

It is unthinkable that any man, woman or child who can squeeze out the price of a bond should not do so.

To facilitate subscriptions in the localities where there is not a bank the Newton Trust Company has made arrangements for their reception in Newton Highlands, Waban, the Upper Falls and Thompsonville, using the agencies through which it has been receiving partial payments on the first loan.

The trust company will take its receipts in payment for the first Liberty Loan in partial payment for subscriptions to the new four per cent one.

The sinking fund commissioners of the city of Newton have set the pace and subscribed officially for $100,000 worth of the bonds. This, it is understood, pledges the entire income of the city for six months. The commissioners, however, are actuated by practical business motives, as they are investing in high interest-bearing securities, backed by the most substantial bond-issuing power in the world.

The organization of the canvassing committees for the entire city is practically complete, the following have been announced since the last issue of the GRAPHIC:

Auburndale is organized with Guy M. Winslow, chairman, and W. J. Champion, W. C. Eddy, Rufus Estabrook, John Gordon, Arthur W. Hollis, G. F. Howland, Arthur W. Lane, W. H. Nash, E. H. Ordway, W. J. Spaul.

ding and C. E. Valentine, captains. Howard Whitmore is chairman of the Newton Highlands Committee with the following captains: Henry W. Ball, C. Warren Dillaway, Albert H. Elder, Harris P. Gray, J. M. O. Hewitt, Charles G. Hunt, James Kingman, J. Arthur McKen, Charles W. Mercer and Wallace H. Nichols.

The Waban Committee is headed by Lawrence Allen, chairman, and is composed of the following gentlemen: David Sutton, A. L. Stephen, C. W. Fulton, E. P. Upham, Jr., Rev. C. H. Cutler, Robert W. Moore, W. Egerton, Adrian Sawyer, D. M. Hill, J. R. Chandler, D. M. Dutch, J. E. Parker, L. O. Tilton, R. H. Deken, L. W. Arnold, O. R. Rice, F. W. Davis, A. T. Gould, James Willing, Rev. J. C. Sharp, H. L. Tilton, W. R. Fisher, H. M.

LODGES

The Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Degree Staff held a very successful rehearsal at Odd Fellows' Hall, Newtonville, Tuesday evening, when a delightful surprise was given to Sister Angie Weeks, the eldest member of the staff and the Lodge, in honor of her 77th birthday.

Sister Doan, the Degree Mistress, presented a gold piece to Sister Weeks and a large bouquet of roses. Sister Doan's speech will long be remembered by all, as her words were most appropriate and impressive.

Sister Weeks was taken entirely by surprise, as her birthday came the day before.

She arose to the occasion, however as she always does, for Sister Weeks is 77 years young instead of 77 years old, and made a very fine acceptance speech.

Garden City Encampment, No. 62, I. O. O. F. opens its Fall season with an interesting entertainment consisting of an Old Fashioned New England boiled dinner followed by very interesting remarks from Mr. J. Weston Allen and Donald MacKay; the latter giving a very interesting description of his work in connection with Camp Devens at Ayer.

A large number of the Encampment were present and all agreed it was one of the most interesting meetings Garden City Encampment has ever held.

November 8th Garden City Encampment will hold Ladies' Night. Each member of the Encampment is invited to bring a lady guest.

HEARING ON COAL RATES

Oct. 8, 1917.
 Editor, Newton Graphic,
 Newton, Mass.
 Dear Sir:
 The Interstate Commerce Commission has suspended the proposed increase on all-rail freight rate on Anthracite Coal to all parts of New Hampshire which was to have gone into effect on Oct. 28, '17. They will give a hearing at Boston, Mass., on Nov. 12, '17, at which time they invite all who are opposed to the increased freight on Anthracite Coal to appear and protest.
 The citizens of Newton certainly have very strong grounds for opposing this increase, mainly for two reasons, 1st, because the all-rail rate to all parts of Newton is already much higher than the rate to neighboring territory, 2nd, because the all-rail rate on Anthracite Coal to Newton is much higher than the rate on other merchandise, which comes the same or longer distances. If the citizens of Newton are opposed to paying this increase on their coal bills in the future, I would suggest that they attend this hearing on Nov. 12th in large numbers and protest against any raise until such time that other towns in this neighborhood pay as high a rate as Newton has to pay and other merchandise also shall pay as high a rate.
 Yours truly,
 C. A. CHADWICK.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns and Sons, Inc., report the sale of 33 Hancock street, Auburndale for Mrs. Lillian H. Floyd of Winthrop. The property consists of a modernized colonial house of 11 rooms and 15,000 square feet of land, all valued at $10,000. Mr. M. M. Cannon of Quincy purchases for a home. Final papers have passed through office of John T. Burns and Sons in sale of 397 Ward street corner of Elmwood street, Newton Centre, Mass. Arthur W. Mitty being the grantor and Mrs. A. M. Donahue, the purchaser. With the 8 room house with two baths and garage there are 14,000 square feet of land, all valued at $9,500. Through John T. Burns and Sons, Inc., Mrs. Isabel D. Sprague has sold to D. H. Martin her 9 room house and 6400 feet of land situated at 20 Arlington street, Newton. The property is assessed for $5,500. Mr. C. W. Ernst has sold through John T. Burns and Sons his new house and 8500 feet of land at 193 Woodward street, Waban. Mr. L. Stepanian purchases for a home. A new garage has been erected and the total valuation is $7,800. Mr. D. J. Holmes has signed agreements for the purchase of 20,000 square feet of land on Aspen avenue, Auburndale. The grantor will be Mrs. M. A. Freeman and the valuation of this parcel is $3,000. John T. Burns and Sons, Inc., were brokers in the above transactions.

REAL ESTATE

Hannah G. Blair has sold the property at 9 Elliot avenue, West Newton, comprising a colonial house, garage and 5000 feet of land, built 1 year ago, to Ernest V. and Helen S. Pidgeon, through E. Burnard Squire. It is valued at $5,500.

Good singing of Gospel songs, and special music at the evening service.

COOLIDGE A BIG FACTOR

Speaking of the "landslide for Coolidge" as the Boston Transcript editorialized it, Nichols, in that newspaper, reviewing the results of Tuesday's primaries says:
 A quiet gentleman from the western city of Northampton, Calvin Coolidge by name, now Lieutenant governor, who has shown himself one of the shrewdest "politicians," in the best sense of that oftentimes abused word, and one of the biggest vote getters that Massachusetts has ever seen, is one big reason for the McCall "landslide." Rejecting all efforts to induce him to enter the field as a candidate for governor against McCall, he elected to stand by His Excellency. He felt that the attack upon the governor might fairly be construed as one upon himself as well, inasmuch as he was part of the state administration.
 Whatever he may have individually done to accomplish yesterday's result, there is no doubt that his hosts of friends throughout the commonwealth, regardless of their personal sentiments about McCall, did all they could to renominate His Excellency. They were determined to leave nothing undone that would prevent the side-tracking of Coolidge as Governor McCall's successor next year in the gubernatorial chair; and, with that end in view, they were a large factor in the result.
 There are many reasons why "Cal," as his intimates call him, helped. In the first place he was absolutely loyal to his chief. He refused to let any personal, selfish ambition thwart the purpose of those who felt that the Governor, by every right, was entitled to a third term—and indeed he himself was one of the most ardent of these. In this exhibition of self-restraint he set an example worthy in every way of emulation. Mr. Coolidge threw the final weight of his tremendous influence to the Governor and it told in the final reckoning. Mr. Coolidge is a man of few words—and those words well chosen. By his conduct and his services he has paved the gubernatorial way to the State House and in it he can next year walk in honor, behind him the great party he has helped to unite. (From Berkshire Eagle, Oct. 1, 1917.)

MILITARY LAW AT NORTH-EASTERN COLLEGE

In order to meet present needs growing out of the war, Northeastern College, Boston Y. M. C. A., School of Law, has instituted a course of sixteen lectures upon Military Law to be given at eight-thirty. The lecturer is to be Albin L. Richards, a well known attorney of the Boston Bar, formerly instructor in International Law at Harvard College.
 The course will be a practical one, following closely the manual for courts-martial prescribed by the War Department for the purpose of setting forth the means and procedure of enforcing discipline in the military establishment, with a review, also, of the historical and constitutional aspects of the subject and a consideration of the relations of the army to civilians both at home and abroad in time of war and in time of peace. The different subjects mentioned in the manual as desirable but not treated therein such as martial law, riot duty, and military government as well as the rules governing the conduct of war upon land will also be treated.

FLAG RAISING

There was a large attendance Monday evening at the Newton Catholic Club in West Newton, the principal feature being the unfurling of a service flag with 53 stars, representing that number of members of the Club who are now engaged in the army and navy of the country.
 Mr. Thomas A. Waters presided and addresses were made by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Congressman Peter F. Tague of Charlestown, Rev. John F. Kelleher, pastor of St. Bernard's Church, and Mr. Andrew C. Hughes. The evening's entertainment closed with refreshments and dancing.
 The names of the club members on the honor roll are as follows:

Glenwood

Are You Wasting Good Coal

in an old, burned out, troublesome range when a new Glenwood would save from 100 to 500 lbs. in every ton? Just figure the saving in dollars for one year and then for five or ten years, and you will quickly see why it will pay now as never before to trade that old stove for an up-to-the-minute Glenwood.

There are hundreds of models to choose from at fair prices. Get a Glenwood and let it pay for itself in the coal it saves.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Harriet T. Roberts to Edward Whitney, dated November 1st, 1881, duly recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 1555, Page 147, and duly assigned to William P. Everts, Trustee under the will of Lewis A. Roberts, by instrument dated February twenty-second, 1917, duly recorded with said Deeds, Book 4134, Page 356, for breach of the conditions therein contained, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises, on Monday, the fifth day of November, 1917, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, namely: "A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Newton called Newton Centre, and bounded and described as follows: Commencing at a point on Norwood Avenue by land of E. M. Fowle & running So. Westerly and Southerly by said Norwood Avenue one hundred and sixty seven 5-10 feet, to other land of E. M. Fowle, thence westerly on other land of Fowle, E. M. Fowle & running So. Westerly and Southerly by said Norwood Avenue one hundred and sixty seven 5-10 feet, to other land of E. M. Fowle, thence northwesterly by the shore of said Lake two hundred & forty one feet 5-10 to other land of said Fowle, thence South Easterly by said other land one hundred & forty three feet 67-100 to said Norwood Avenue and to the point of beginning, containing 16,769 square feet more or less, according to a plan drawn by Aspinwall & Lincoln, Engineers, dated Dec. 16th, 1880, and on file with Middlesex deeds."

There is excepted from the covenants against incumbrances in said mortgage deed a mortgage to Newton Savings Bank for five thousand dollars.

Reference may be made to an assignment of said mortgage to said Trustee recorded as aforesaid Book 4134, Page 356.

HAYWARD-HADDON

The wedding of Miss Dora Huntington Haddon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Haddon of Newtonville, and Mr. James Monroe Hayward of Richardson street, Newton, took place last evening at the home of the bride on Crafts street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. Grant Person, D. D., of Elliot Church.

Mrs. Walter C. Whitney was the matron of honor, and Miss Eleanor Whitney served as ring bearer. Mr. Emerson Hayward was best man and Messrs. Kirk D. Sheldon of Watertown and Frank L. G. Sheldon of Newton were the ushers.

A small reception followed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hayward being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Haddon and Dr. and Mrs. Edward Hayward of Cohasset, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayward will reside on Cabot street, Newtonville.

BEAUTIFUL DAHLIAS

Hundreds of persons have visited the beautiful display of dahlias the past two or three weeks at Mr. Rawson's gardens on Farlow road, Newton. Over 800 plants have been in full flower and several thousand blossoms have been greatly admired by all who have seen them. The extent and variety of these beautiful flowers must be seen to be appreciated.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, LAND COURT.

To Elizabeth A. Judkins, Mary E. Kellogg, James E. Cornish, and Elbert L. Churchill of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Woburn Five Cents Savings Bank, a duly existing corporation having its usual place of business in Woburn, in said County of Middlesex; Marlboro Church, of Andover, in the County of Essex and said Commonwealth; Gertrude H. Whitney, of Methuen, in said County of Essex; Harriott B. Churchill of Providence, in the State of Rhode Island; Mary E. Swift of Elizabeth, in the State of New Jersey; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Pauline Bachmann, of Watertown, in said County of Middlesex, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Being lot 15 on plan filed in Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Plan Book 16, Plan 58, bounded Northerly by Crafts Street sixty-six (66) feet; Easterly by land of Pauline Bachmann one hundred fifty-nine (159) feet; Southerly by lots 8 and 9 on said plan ninety-four (94) feet; and Westerly by lot 14 on said plan one hundred sixty-two (162) feet.

Petitioner alleges that there appears of record a certain restriction to the effect that the property shall be conveyed only to American born citizens, said restriction being set forth in a deed given by George A. Prescott to Darius R. Emerson, dated January 1, 1870, recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Book 1448, Page 448, which restriction petitioner claims is not now in force or applicable.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston in the County of Suffolk, on the twenty-ninth day of October A. D. 1917, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of October in the year nineteen hundred and seventeen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

MR. JUDKINS DEAD

Mr. Frank E. Judkins, a member of the Newton Fire Department from 1874 until retired on half pay last December, died last Saturday at the home of his sister in Worcester, after several months of failing health.

Mr. Judkins was born in Manchester, N. H., September 2, 1849, and on graduating from the public schools entered the employ of the Ameskeag Manufacturing Company of that place, which manufactured the Ameskeag steam fire engine. For some years Mr. Judkins was the delivering engineer of the old machines turned out by that company and had charge of one of the engines at the Boston conflagration in 1872. Mr. Judkins came to Newton early in 1874 with the present Engine 3 of the Newton Department which was then awaiting shipment which was hastened by the burning of the old Coles Block at Newton, and he remained here as a member of one company for over 40 years.

He was a member of the Boston Lodge of Elks and is survived by one sister, Mrs. Frank Dexter of Worcester.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Elks Home, in Elliot Block, and were largely attended by members of the Newton Fire Department and other friends.

Rev. Dr. George S. Butters of the Centenary Church of Auburndale officiated and the De Koven quartet sang "Consolation," "Abide With Me," "Gathering Home," and the burial ritual of the Order of Elks was given by a delegation from Boston Lodge of Elks, under the direction of the Exalted Ruler, Dr. Charles F. MacDonald, and including Peter McCarron, secretary, John D. Feeney, chaplain, Oscar Shaffer, Tyler, Nelson L. Southwick, Samuel Weil, John P. Callen, Robert Bartlett, William J. Quirk, and N. C. Fielding.

The pall bearers were the following members of the Newton Fire Department, Benjamin F. Tripp, J. Frank Cotton, George K. Stacy, Frank Turner, E. C. Waterhouse, and P. E. Ellis.

The interment was in the Newton Cemetery, where Rev. Robert L. Rae of the North Church offered prayer.

EDITORIAL

Two weeks ago we commented upon the autocratic and indifferent work of the District No. 5 Board, having supervision of the draft work of this city. With 18 appealed cases awaiting their decision, for a period of at least ten days or two weeks, this Board certified to the Local Board the names of 58 men and 6 alternates and ordered their appearance last Friday, and 55 of the original list and 3 of the alternates are now at the Ayer camp in consequence of that order. The injustice of this action will appear to the most casual reader when it is known that the basis of the selective draft is wholly numerical order, the lower numbered men being first taken and the highest numbered men, the last. In the case of last Friday No. 699 was one of the alternates summoned to appear, while twenty one other men, with lower numbers were not ordered to appear. No. 478 in full standing on the qualified list, has not yet been summoned for the draft although many higher numbered men are now in Ayer. His case has been arbitrarily postponed until the last 15 per cent are called, although it is now considered possible that the last 15 per cent will not go to Ayer on account of the crowded condition of that camp and on account of the credit this city is to receive from enlistments among drafted men. Two colored men have also been exempted solely on account of color, although this is by order of the War Dept. and should not be laid at the door of District No. 5.

With these few facts, the public may well ask, why has the District No. 5 Board sent men to Ayer, who otherwise might not be called, and postponed the calling of other men, who rightly should be in the places of men now in the military service. Justice to the men and to their families demands an answer from District Board No. 5.

The Sinking Fund Commissioners have shown the people of this city that they consider the Liberty Bond loan a safe investment for the sinking funds of Newton, and the judgment of such gentlemen as Henry B. Day, John Lowell, and Walter H. Barker on matters of this kind cannot be questioned. If these bonds are a good investment for the funds of the city, they are an equally good investment for the money of the people of the city. Money is needed not only to win the war but to win it as quickly as possible and thus save the lives of our sons and brothers. Make your subscription at once.

The emphasis in the matter of the Second Liberty Loan campaign ought to be placed on the fact that these bonds are the very best kind of an investment. You are not asked to "give" your money to the nation, as you would to the Red Cross and similar organizations, but you are asked to "lend" your money, on the best possible security with the certainty of regular, tax free dividends, and the possession of securities which will always find a ready market, if it becomes necessary to sell them. Invest your money today.

Senator Weeks made a sane and sensible speech at the Republican convention at Springfield last Saturday and called a spade a spade as far as the present administration was concerned for the confusion in organization, equipment, and other preparations for the war.

The suggestion to make minor changes in the present City Hall, and to abandon the more ambitious plan to make a Siamese twin arrangement with the old church property, seems the most sensible method under all the existing circumstances.

Let us not forget that guns and ammunition cost money, and we all can do something, however small it may be, towards equipping Uncle Sam to accomplish his tremendous and most serious task.

With eight full-fledged units in our Newton Constabulary, the city will not suffer for lack of police protection, during the absence of the National Guard.

—The Women Associates of Newton Highlands met as usual Tuesday morning at the Hyde School. There was a hurry call given for fifty sweaters and fifty pair of socks to be finished by the end of the month. These are to go to our Newton boys who are now in France. Let every woman who can help this way respond at once. A request has also been made for candle ends or bits of paraffine to be left with Mrs. Marshall, 14 Hartford street. These are used for making trench candles.

THE DRAFT

Inspector O'Halloran found Vincent Ziemenczuk of Lyman street, Newton Centre, one of the men who failed to report for Ayer last Friday morning working in a shoe factory in Brockton and he was arrested on Tuesday and taken to the guard house at the Watertown Arsenal and later taken to Ayer. It is rumored that five of the men sent to Ayer from this city have been discharged for physical reasons by the army physicians, a very low percentage, as compared with the draft from other places. Dr. West of the Local Board informs us that the instructions from the War Dept. were most positive that all doubtful cases should be decided in favor of the government and the men passed by the local board. There is evidently a lack of team work between the War Dept. and the army doctors in this respect.
The District Board No. 5 has at last taken action on some of the cases which have been before them for the past three weeks and has discharged the following men:
Philip T. Lamond, Irving street
Walter Worth Cypress street
Ernest L. Foley, Adams avenue
Crawford E. Jennings, Centre street
Ernest L. Veno, River street
Stephen Lopez, Emerson street
The following men will be certified with the last 15 per cent of the draft.
Frederick S. Young, Vernon Court
Joseph L. Murphy, Walnut street
Calvin J. Stata, Hale street
Alvin D. Mack, Lexington street
The following cases are still pending before the District Board
Ernest E. Williams, Linwood avenue
Bernard V. Coughlin,
Washington street
Philip R. Palomountain, Hazelhurst avenue
Michael J. Quinn, Pearl street

CITY HALL
An interesting incident of the departure of the drafted men last Friday morning was the appearance of a very small boy in Mayor Childs' office, who said he wanted to do something for the soldiers and left the Mayor a ten cent piece wrapped in a piece of paper.
The lad was Robert Toher of River street.

Are Your PICTURES Suffering?

How many years since an expert has examined them?

It is the rule for owners of pictures to neglect them until their condition is so bad that the expense of their restoration is many times as great as if they had received proper care.

We give especial attention to restoration, framing and regilding and the quality of our work is unsurpassed.
Our Carrig-Iohane Shop, headed by Mr. Hermann Danley Murphy, unquestionably America's most original and artistic designer of frames, has been the leading influence in the development of taste in framing for the last dozen years.

DEATH OF NORBURN HORNSBY

Mr. Norburn Hornsby, for many years a well-known resident of West Newton, died last Sunday at the home of Mr. George W. Weeks on Curve street.

Mr. Hornsby was born a slave in Virginia and during the Civil War, as a young man, came over to the Union army as a valet to Capt. Joshua Norton, Jr., of Boston. He was sent to Boston by Capt. Norton and lived with the Norton family in Boston and West Newton until the death of Mrs. Norton senior, in 1886. Since that time he has been employed by many West Newton families as a gardener and care taker. He was married in 1891 and is survived by a widow and two sons, Carl and Garret Hornsby, who live in Cambridge.

Funeral services were held from the Myrtle Baptist Church in West Newton Wednesday afternoon Rev. William Wade Ryan, the pastor, officiating and the burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

BLOOD-SISK

Mrs. Helen Knowles Sisk, of Dover N. H., and Mr. Charles Winthrop Blood of Auburndale, were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Penney on Stark avenue, Dover, N. H., the ceremony being performed on four o'clock by Rev. Leon Morse of the Congregational Church of that place. The wedding took place in the presence of only immediate relatives, the only attendant being Harland P. Sisk, as ring bearer.

After a wedding trip to Lake Placid, and the Adirondacks, Mr. and Mrs. Blood will reside at 31 Woodbine street, Auburndale, where they will be at home on Wednesday in December.

surgical dressings, sewing, knitting, making cakes and candy as special work for the girls, while for the boys there was the making of trench coats, knitted mittens, booklets, games, pack cases, etc.

Each school must contribute as many quarters as it has pupils in order to have the pupils enrolled in it considered as members of the Junior Red Cross organization. Each pupil in the school so organized will have the right to wear the Red Cross Junior Auxiliary button.

Committees on surgical dressings, sewing, cutting, stitching, reading, etc. were appointed.

Leverett Woodworth, for two years one of the best runners Newton High ever had, has joined the Naval Reserve.

Monday morning the girls' debating club held its first meeting of the year. Officers for the coming year were elected: Frances Rimbach, president; Dorothy Stebbins, vice-president; Ruth Cummins, Secretary-Treasurer.

It is expected that a boys' debating club will soon be organized.

NEWTON RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

In order to clear up misunderstandings and to explain the reasons for Red Cross rules in regard to the distribution of articles made for soldiers and sailors the Boston Red Cross authorities have sent out the following statement:

First:—All wool bought of Chapter must be returned to the Chapter when knitted up; none of it must be given out as finished goods by the local Branches.

Second:—Wool bought elsewhere than at the Chapter, with funds of Red Cross Branches, is to be returned to the Chapter when knitted up, since it was bought with money raised in the name of the Red Cross, and since such money is to be spent according to Red Cross rules. The reasons for these rules are as follows:

The military and Red Cross authorities concerned in the distribution of sweaters and other supplies are anxious that all this distribution should be done at the large camps or military centers, as the best facilities are located there, and there is a great gain in time and saving in expense if the giving is done in large quantities. The same authorities are therefore anxious to discourage local giving, since men who are equipped when leaving home either receive duplicate equipments when the distribution is made in camp, or cause unnecessary and expensive complication, since it has to be ascertained just who has and who has not already received an equipment.

With wool as scarce as it is now, duplication of giving is almost criminal, and it is to prevent any possibility of such duplication that the Red Cross Branches allow their work to be distributed for them by the stations equipped by the Red Cross and the Government for the purpose. If workers in Red Cross Branches are sincerely interested in equipping the greatest number of men in the quickest possible way, with the least expense and the least danger of duplication, and the most efficiency, they will cheerfully send their work in to the Chapter or the Supply Service to be distributed. If, on the other hand, their desire to see their work go to personal friends or fellow-townsmen prevails, they are pursuing a course which leads to serious danger of duplication of giving, and consequent waste of valuable material. They are hindering efficiency and increasing the cost of supplying the Army as a whole, and they are losing sight of the great aim of Red Cross work, which is to be of the most effective service in the most effective way.

If personal giving is persisted in, it is natural that Red Cross products will occasionally appear for sale, since, whenever duplication of giving occurs, there is a chance that the soldier or sailor will sell his second set of Red Cross equipment, and it is natural that the Red Cross should lose prestige when its products are found to be wasted in this manner.

THE SONG OF A SURGICAL DRESSING

I was made on a shady village street Where the sky and the uncut elm trees meet,
And the smell of flowers and dust and hay
Tell of life and death in one summer-day
Where the hissing scythe in the standing grass Sings a prophecy of the "come-to-pass";
Where the shiv'ring leaf-laced shadows fall
On the polished floor of the old town hall.

But I'll be used on the fields of France,
Where Life or Death is the gift of Chance;
And ever and always the order runs—
"Men and more men for the greedy guns!"
Where the brown, fly-haunted puddles stand—
Where once was life—on No-Man's Land;
With the swollen corpses scattered far O'er the purging-place of the Gods-of-War.

But why was I made and why do I go From a place of peace to a place of woe?
I serve no King and I serve no State,
I'm the answer of Love to the song of Hate.
Or comrade or foe man is one to me
From tunnel or trench, or sky or sea.
When the last gun's fired and the warflag's furled
May I heal the hurts of a wounded world.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WEST NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL Inc.

After earnest consideration of the duty of the Music School under the present unhappy and unsettled conditions, it has been decided that a strong effort must be made to hold together the organization that has been built up with so much effort. To do otherwise would be to throw away the achievements of six years of constructive, successful work. The School has become thoroughly established, in a way to meet the special needs of this locality, has proved its usefulness not only to the individual, but to the community as well; and it is believed that the people of Newton will not willingly see its solid achievements nullified through lack of a reasonable support now to enable it to operate during these hard days on the most conservative basis.

The reasons for continuing the work of the West Newton Music School for Public School children and Wage Earners are as follows:

1. It has been proved that there is a need for providing good musical instruction for children at prices which they can pay.

2. A school has been developed which meets the local needs and conditions, and which serves all parts of Newton. A hearty co-operation has been established with other organizations, and especially with the Public Schools, whereby the Music School reaches children who both need and deserve its help.

3. Outfits of musical instruments have been assembled; much music has been donated, and several pianos now belong to the School. An efficient, enthusiastic and loyal staff of workers and teachers has been acquired.

4. A fair start has been made towards procuring a guarantee fund which will meet the actual running expenses of the School. The subscription list has up to now shown a healthy annual growth, which is extending to all parts of the Newtons as people begin to realize that the work covers the entire town.

5. The close co-operation with the Public Schools has developed relations which are exceedingly valuable. On the part of the Music School advantage is taken of the music work done in the schools, thereby making this work more appreciated by and more practically useful to individuals; a plan has been worked out by which "credits" are given for music study which meets the required high standards; groups of stringed instrument players are trained in ensemble playing, forming a personnel that will allow high standards in the High School orchestras, and will form a foundation for Community Orchestras later on; the Music School has undertaken the training of some of the Glee Clubs formed in the schools, and has collaborated in concerts given by the schools. It was hoped this year to use these Clubs in starting Community Singing centers.

On the part of the Public Schools, a valuable privilege has been allowed to the Music School in giving it the use of any school buildings that may be required for its work, thus reducing the cost of running the school to a minimum. The School Committee wished further to recognize the value of the work in this connection and to make it possible still further to extend it by voting a considerable sum of money for this purpose. Unfortunately there was a legal bar to granting the School money, so that it is still dependent upon the subscriptions from private sources.

We do not feel justified in making any of the much desired extensions of our work during the approaching season, when energy must be bent towards relief of acute suffering. Our aims for the present year are: to run the school on its existing schedule, or as nearly so as possible on the most economical basis that will still allow us to meet our obligations towards the pupils already studying with us, who can continue their study only through our help; and to hold the place which we have won and keep intact the valuable relations and co-operations which we have built up.

The average expense of each pupil in the School is $5.00 a year. In general the pupils pay about one-half of this, the rest coming from our subscription. Whole or part scholarships are needed for pupils who cannot pay this usual fee.

The officers are: President, Miss Mabel P. Eager; Vice-President, Mrs. H. F. Lesh; Treasurer, Mrs. L. A. Kimberly; Sec. and Clerk, Miss Marion Chidsey; Musical Director, Miss Elizabeth Fyffe; Head Social Worker, Miss Sally S. Briggs; Trustees, the above officers and: Mrs. David E. Baker, Miss M. Edith Blake, Miss Mabel C. Bragg, Mrs. H. L. Burrage, Mr. Richard B. Carter, Mrs. Henry B. Day, Miss Pauline Howard, Mrs. Norman Marshall, Mrs. H. L. Milliken, Miss Lillian W. West.

These officers will gladly furnish details or any information desired. A large number of small subscriptions from all over Newton will enable the School to continue its work.

DEATH OF MR. KINLEY

Mr. George A. Kinley a resident of Newton for about 15 years, passed away Saturday, October 6th, after a long period of failing health.

The deceased was a member of the firm of George A. Kinley Company, leather merchants of Boston.

Mr. Kinley was born in Elmira, N. Y., and was 46 years of age. He was a member of Olean Lodge of Masons of Olean, N. Y.

He is survived by a widow, two daughters, Miss Marguerite Kinley and Miss Pearl Kinley, and three sons, Walter, Carleton, and Thomas Kinley.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at his late residence on Newtonville avenue. An impressive service was conducted at 2.30 by Rev. H. Grant Person, pastor of Eliot Church, followed by the burial ritual of the Masons in charge of the officers of Dalhousie Lodge, assisted by the Pigeon Quartet.

There were many beautiful floral tributes, and the burial was in the family lot in the Newton Cemetery.

AMES-FESSENDEN

The marriage of Miss Caroline Fessenden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sewall H. Fessenden of Chestnut Hill, and Lieut. Oliver Ames, Jr., Harvard '17, took place at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Unitarian Church, Chestnut Hill. The ministers, Rev. Edward Hale and Rev. Mr. Thayer of St. Mark's School, Southboro, officiated. Only a few guests attended the ceremony, but about 700 guests were invited to the reception which followed at the Fessenden residence.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Harriet Fessenden. Lieut. Robert Cutler of Brookline was best man. The ushers were Lieut. William Robinson and Lieut. Hewitt Morgan of New York, Lieut. Richard Harte and Emory Coolidge of Boston.

The bride is a granddaughter of the late George C. Lee. Lieut. Ames, who is stationed at the aviation training camp at Mineola, L. I., is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ames.

BURKHARDT-WELLINGTON

The wedding of Miss Ruth Wellington, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Wellington of Newton and Mr. Edgar S. Burkhardt of Newton Centre, took place last Saturday morning at the home of the bride on Church street, Newton. The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Charles Watson (retired) of the Baptist Church, Arlington, who married the bride's parents in 1885. The bride wore a travelling suit and was unattended. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Burkhardt left for a wedding trip in Maine.

LETTER OF THANKS

U. S. S. Agamemnon,
October 8, 1917.

The Editor,
Newton Graphic.
Dear Sir:—
I wish to express through the Graphic, my thanks, in behalf of the men, to the Ladies of Newton, for the knitted goods.

The sweaters, mufflers, wristers and socks have already given them comfort at sea and I know they are appreciated. After the first watch at sea, I could not issue them fast enough—the ladies had made a bullseye—and it looked good to see Newton written all over this 800-foot ship.

Thanking everybody for the men,
Sincerely,
BRUCE R. WARE, JR.,

War Orders Rushed

THE magnitude of the great war in which we are now engaged, has necessitated unusual preparation. Mighty forces are marshalling, great stores of food and munitions are being gathered, and the energies of the nation are focused on problems incident to the war.

At the very beginning of the war, the whole Bell System was placed at the disposal of the Government. No nation has entered the war with such a comprehensive and efficient telephone service.

As our military establishment grows, the demands of the Government upon the Bell System are bound to increase and always they must take precedence over all others.

Increased activity in commerce and industry as the result of larger demands for food and munitions from our allies and for our own use, means more need of telephone service by private business.

But private business must always be subordinated to the Government service.

Each individual American will co-operate in this patriotic service, and submit cheerfully to inconvenience or delay in his telephone service, when he understands how vital it is that Government service shall take precedence over all else.

COLEMAN—BRODRICK

The wedding of Miss Helen Chadwick Brodrick, the daughter of Mr. Alfred H. Brodrick of Newton Highlands, and Mr. George Alexander Coleman of Watertown, took place Saturday evening at the home of the bride on Bowdoin street, the ceremony being performed at 7.30 o'clock by Rev. Louis A. Parsons, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The bride was gowned in white satin draped with silk tulle, a crown of heavy white satin, and the conventional tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms. As the ceremony was private with only the immediate family present, the bride was unattended. Mr. Richard G. Brodrick, brother of the bride was the best man and Messrs. Elmer H. King of Newtonville, Wilbur Gillespie of Dorchester, and Charles H. Brodrick of Waltham were the ushers.

A reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Coleman being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Brodrick, parents of the bride, and Mrs. Catherine Coleman and Miss Jane Coleman, mother and sister of the groom. The house was attractively decorated with Southern smilax, pale yellow chrysanthemums and roses.

After a wedding trip to the Adirondacks, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will reside at 44 Bowdoin street, Newton Highlands, where they will be at home after December 15th.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A.

About fifty young men, members of the Newton Association, are in war service. An honor roll has been placed in the Association lobby. Mr. William Cady, Mr. I. U. Townsend, and Mr. L. D. Towle have taken the places of Mr. Austin Hale, Mr. Theodore Morton, and Mr. Theodore Lockwood on the Board of Directors while these men are away in war service.

There are about two hundred fifty soldiers stationed at the Watertown Arsenal. The War Work Council will supply stationery, books and a phonograph. Once or twice a week some one from the Newton Association will show moving pictures in the recreation room at the barracks. Entertainment for the men will be in order this winter. Who will volunteer to help along these lines?

"When did you write Home last" is posted in nearly every Y. M. C. A. hut. Thousands of letters from the camps are written on Y. M. C. A. stationery every day. Have you received one yet?

SHUBERT THEATRE—Crowned with the laurels of having scored the longest Broadway run of any of the score of memorable spectacular extravaganzas that have been launched at that nationally famous institution the Shubert Theatre, the New York World Garden's annual revue of revelry, music, mirth and color, the "Passing Show of 1917," direct and intact from a seven months' sojourn in Manhattan, will arrive here at the Shubert Theatre, next Monday, October 15, for its annual visit, which this season, because of unalterable booking arrangement, must be limited to three weeks. Liveliest, most ingenious, entertaining and brilliant of recent musical productions, the "Passing Show of 1917" is the Winter Garden supreme achievement to date in its own distinctive field of lavish and massive spectacle. It has proved by far the most enjoyable contemporary comic revue and its cast contains the most colossal collection of celebrated comedians yet corralled for one company. In this extraordinary entertainment, "a tremendous toot on travesty's trumpet," there are twenty-two swiftly paced scenes and more than thirty musical numbers.

COPELEY THEATRE—With its mingling of comedy and drama, "The Man Who Stayed at Home" is continuing its triumph at the Copley Theatre. It makes a direct appeal to the ideas that are uppermost in the mind of the public at this present war-time hour, in its plot and its characters it brings to life the very things they are writing and talking about. Its dramatic personae are all very much alive and its story involves a mystery that is both realistic and startling. It gives a faithful series of pictures of German intrigue and the German spy system as they were operated in England at the beginning of the war. Afternoon performances are given on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

HARWOOD-BATCHELDER

A wedding of interest to Newton society was solemnized Saturday at the First Parish Church in Brookline, when Miss Sabra Batchelder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Batchelder, became the bride of Ensign Bartlett Harwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Harwood of Waverley avenue, Newton. It was a double wedding, the bride's sister, Miss Rosamond Batchelder being united in marriage to Mr. John King Hodges of New York. Both the bride and her sister are members of the Vincent Club and accomplished in music and dancing, and also members of the Sewing Circle.

The minister of the parish, Rev. Abbot Peterson, was the officiating clergyman and the brides were given in marriage by their father. They entered the church side by side and in that way walked to the altar, where their father met them, together with the bridegrooms and their best men. The brides were dressed alike in conventional white satin, the gowns having full court trains and trimmings of applique lace which has been long in the family. Their veils were of tulle, fastened in place with orange blossoms, and they carried bridal bouquets of lilies of the valley combined with Swainsonia.

The two brides had only one attendant, Miss Harriet Huntington Smith, a cousin, who is from Omaha, Neb. She wore a gown of orange velvet with an overdress of brown chiffon, and with this costume had a hat of brown, with a single large ostrich plume. She carried a bouquet which was out of the usual, formed of croton leaves, in rich autumnal coloring, which harmonized well with her costume.

Henry M. Atkinson, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., was best man for Mr. Harwood. Those who had been invited to serve as ushers were Captain Louis Curtis, Jr., of Boston; Courtlandt D. Morse, New York; George L. Aspinwall, Chestnut Hill; William A. Barron, Jr., Boston; Samuel Sloan Colt, New York; Henry A. Murray, Jr., New York; Edward C. Thayer, Worcester; Chauncey G. Parker, Jr., Newark, N. J.; Charles Arbelles, Norfolk, Va.; Robert F. Herick, Jr., of Milton, and Edward Phelps Allis of Milwaukee, Wis.

At the conclusion of the double ceremony, guests followed the bridal party to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Batchelder, "Edgemont," where a reception was held for about two hundred guests.

Mr. Harwood has just received his commission as ensign, U. S. N., and expects to be sent immediately to Annapolis, Md., where his bride will accompany him. They will eventually make their home at 132 Chestnut street, Boston.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Wednesday the entire school met in the assembly hall. The object of the meeting was to hear the case of the Newton High School Review presented by John Woodbridge, the editor-in-chief and John Barry the manager. The Review is a monthly paper maintained by the school and the manager showed very clearly and vigorously how it depended entirely upon the students whether or not this year's issue would measure up to previous years.

On Friday Miss McGill of the History Department showed the school a few of the many articles made by the same sort of a Red Cross Unit that is being formed in this High School. They were all simple articles such as comfort socks and bags, convalescent coats and sleeping helmets which could easily be made by the average high school girl.

The loss to Medford Saturday was rather a severe blow to Newton for she not only lost the game but several of the most needed players received such injuries that they will probably not be able to play in the Huntington game. Mohor with a broken collar bone was the most unfortunate of these.

Newton High School was not caught on these chilly days by a lack of coal or a desire to save it, consequently all the rooms are comfortably heated.

CHURCH NOTICE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, Player's Hall, Washington street, West Newton. Sunday service 10:45 A. M. Subject of lesson-sermon: "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" Sunday School 10:45 A. M. Testimonial meeting Wednesday 8 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend the services and to use the Reading Room at 297 Walnut street, Newtonville, which is open daily from 2 to 6 in the afternoon, and Tuesday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9.

PEDDLERS' PARADE

Arrangements are being made for a Peddlers' Parade and Halloween Costume Dance to be given under the auspices of the Summer P. Lawrence Rebekahs No. 177, I. O. O. F. Thursday evening, October 25th, in Odd Fellows' Hall, Newtonville.

Miss Grace M. Burt, Editor.

Some Herbert J. Gurney, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, in an address before one of the federated clubs this past week, made a plea for the clubs not to give up all their entertainments, saying that we need more than ever things which shall be entertaining and divert our attention from the serious matters, which we are confronting every day. She stated that very many clubs are giving up their social affairs and teas. "If you have teas," she said, "make them very simple. But whatever is done, do not let the civic worker flag. A severe jolt is sometimes needed to arouse the lethargic and make them see just how they look to other people. Certainly this war is bringing it about. Two young girls were overheard on a train one day comparing notes upon their respective doings. One referring to some Red Cross work which she and her friends were engaged said, "We are having a good time together and at the same time we are doing some good." Six months before the same girls would hardly have been saying that. So it is points of view are constantly changing and they will continue to do so for a long time to come, but don't let them change to such a degree that the worthy interests of the past are overlooked or neglected.

Local Announcements

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation will hold its quarterly meeting at the New Church parlors on Monday, October 15, at 10:15 A. M.

On October 15 the Newton Highlands Monday Club will meet with Mrs. O'Connor.

Monday, October 15, Mrs. Hanson B. Rogers of Charlesbank road, Newton, will be hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The Auburndale Review Club will hold its meeting on Tuesday, October 16, with Mrs. F. F. Davidson of Woodland road.

Mrs. Hubert Ripley of Birch Hill road will open her home for the annual reception of the Newtonville Woman's Guild next Tuesday afternoon, October 16.

It is hoped every member of the Home Circle will be present at the next meeting on Thursday, October 18, at 2 P. M. in G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville, to respond to the roll call with a line or two either original or quoted. A most interesting program will be offered. Miss Margaret E. Rich will speak of the Welfare Bureau. Tea will be served and the year's work of the Home Circle will be discussed. The co-operation of every member is needed.

22ND ANNUAL BANQUET

We are still a fighting race, and the measure of our moral indignation indicates the strength of our moral force. Our valor is not sapped by the ease and luxury of the past few years and the Boys of today will do what the boys of '61 did in the Civil War.

Mr. Sullivan gave some interesting history, showing how France furnished the equipment and men which made the victory possible at Saratoga and we are now repaying that notable service of the Revolution. We are standing for righteousness, so that the world may not only be made safe for democracy but democracy may be made fit for the world.

Sergt. William H. Barta, who had seen service on the Mexican border said that the men greatly appreciated letters from home and urged a letter to the front was something everyone could do. He read the following poem which he said had been inspired by his work on one of the exemption boards.

I'LL FLY MY FLAG 'TILL MY BOY COMES HOME

My boy has gone to the war today,
I've sent him this very morn'
And I've hung this dear old flag of mine
For him my own first born.

I've mended it here and I've patched it there
And I've added full many a star.
My flag will fly 'till my boy comes home
'Till my boy comes home from the war.

In its red I can see the flush on his cheek
As we kissed and he marched away.
I can see in its white his soul so bright
As bright as the dawn of that day.

I can see in its blue, his eyes so true,
And the whole is our guiding star.
I'll fly that flag 'till my boy comes home
'Till my boy comes home from the war.

I have a flag, and I have a boy
And I live in the land of the free,
I've something to give that Freedom might live
That something is quite all to me.

My boy might be gone for many a day
Way off in the old land afar
But I'll fly my flag 'till my boy comes home
'Till my boy comes home from the war.

Remarks were also made by Capt. J. C. DeMille and Lieut. W. H. Rand, Jr., of the State Guard, Major E. M. Springer, Alderman Reuben Forknall, Capt. A. C. Walworth, Martin C. Laffie, F. L. G. Henderson, R. C. Bridgman, J. L. Danvers, Major F. P. Barnes, and President H. S. Storms.

At the annual election, these officers were elected: President, Harry S. Storms, vice presidents, R. C. Bridgman and William Warren; Major F. P. Barnes, secretary; Capt. A. C. Walworth, treasurer.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Myron E. Bacon of Newton Lower Falls, formerly of Weston, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their wedding on Saturday evening at their residence on Concord street.

The rooms were very artistically decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers and foliage. Mr. and Mrs. Bacon received from 8 until 10, standing under an arch of autumn foliage and were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. A. Trumbull of Quincy, who were their attendants at their wedding 25 years ago.

Mrs. Bacon was handsomely gowned in pale blue satin trimmed with silver lace, and wore a corsage bouquet of pink Killarney roses. A pleasing musical entertainment was arranged which included pianoforte duets by the Misses Morrill of Newton Lower Falls and vocal solos by Mrs. Eva Rhodes of Framingham with piano accompaniments by Mrs. French of Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bacon were the recipients of many beautiful flowers and gifts of silver. Mrs. Walter Newhall, in behalf of the Tennyson Rebekah Assembly, presented them with a purse of silver and made the presentation speech to which Mrs. Bacon responded most feelingly.

The ushers were Mrs. Alex Crowe of Quincy, Mrs. A. A. Wilson of Newton, and Miss Helen Donovan of Weston.

There were about 200 guests present among them being Mrs. Ralph Seaverns, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thayer, Mrs. C. Barker of Auburndale; Mrs. A. T. Baker, Mr. H. C. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fessenden, Miss N. C. Stewart, Mrs. Ella Mason, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Manter, Mr. and Mrs. Henley, Miss Marian Barker, Miss Demone, Mrs. J. Collaghan, of West Newton; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. F. French, Mr. Murray, Miss Margaret Donham, Miss E. Lanburn, the Misses Elmiria and Miss Hazel Wilson of Waltham; Mr. and Mrs. William Reese, Miss Esther Trumbull, Mr. and Mrs. Green, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Peck, Mrs. Young, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wilson of Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woolway, Mr. and Mrs. W. Newhall, Miss Esther Newhall, of Newton Centre; Mr. Henry Bates of Newton Highlands; Mr. H. E. Whitten, Mrs. Frank Hunkins, and Miss Mildred Hunkins of Somerville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Granger of West Somerville; Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald of Wellesley; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Morrill, Miss Jennie Morrill, Miss Lila Morrill, Mr. and Mrs. William Fessenden, Miss Mary McGrover, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Canlin, Miss Margaret Heinsohn, and Miss Jennie Russ of Newton Lower Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham of Needham; Mr. and Mrs. Larkin of Allston; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Allison, Miss Marjorie Allison, Miss Dorothy Allison, the Misses Fanny and Edna Seaverns, Mr. John A. Donovan, Mr. William A. Donovan and Miss Mary Donovan of Weston.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Classes are being formed in Spanish, French, Economics, Basketry, Swimming, etc.

The club will conduct a center for the making of surgical dressings. This work, which will be carried on in cooperation with the Red Cross and French Relief, has been placed in the hands of a committee with Miss H. Louise Peloubet, chairman.

First meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands was held Tuesday afternoon, October 9, in Lincoln Hall, with Mrs. G. Wetherbee in chair. After a word of greeting a report of the Newton Federation annual meeting in May was given by Mrs. W. E. Moore, chairman of delegates, and a report of Women Associates by its president, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall. Mrs. Wetherbee reported the State Federation annual meeting at Great Barrington.

Violin music in two groups by Miss Royce of Brookline, accompanied by Mr. Thompson at the piano were much enjoyed.

A social hour with refreshments in charge of the Social Committee, Mrs. E. C. Bouve, chairman, concluded an enjoyable afternoon.

MOTHERS' REST

The Annual Meeting of the Mothers' Rest Association will be held in the chapel of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Newton Centre, on Thursday, October 18th, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Reports of the years' work will be given by chairman of committee and by the Matron and Nurse of the "Rest". There will be interesting music. It has been suggested that because of the special stress of this year, the expense of printing these reports in the year book is not justified. Therefore all friends of this work are earnestly requested to be present at this meeting as it may be the only opportunity to hear these annual reports.

SPECIAL AID SOCIETY

The Newton Special Aid Society meets every Wednesday and Friday from 3.10 to 5 for sewing and all day Saturdays from 9 to 5 for sewing and surgical dressings work, in the Newton Technical High School.

The Society is now busy preparing Christmas boxes to send to France. A number of the members visited the Commonwealth Pier on October 1st and tendered a reception and entertainment there. It was very gratifying to note what has been done for the comfort of the sailors. Writing tables, pool tables and billiard tables have been installed and there is a moving picture show or an entertainment every evening to keep the boys safe.

The Special Aid has recently sent to Commonwealth Pier 45 soap bags, 2 doz. shoe bags and recently gave to Mrs. Mitchell 15 furnished kits for the last installment of soldiers who left for Ayer. The members of the Society are knitting all the time.

NEWTON RED CROSS

Last evening (Wednesday) was the first of the evenings at the Red Cross House in Newton Centre for those who wish to do Red Cross work but who are unable to do the work during the day time. There were nearly twenty workers present and all were kept busy making surgical dressings. These Wednesday evenings are to be a regular fixture at the Red Cross House and an invitation is extended to all Newton Centre people who can give only their evenings to the work to attend and help make the number of evening workers as large as possible.

The Young Women's Club of St. John's Church in Newtonville has voted to work as an auxiliary of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross and the members are at present at work on non-sterile dressings. The Girl Scouts of Newtonville are also working as an auxiliary of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross.

The Newton Red Cross Wool Fund is again to the fore with a call for subscriptions in order that wool may continue to be purchased for distribution to those who are willing to knit. Subscriptions great or small will be a great help and should be sent to Mr. George Royal Pulsifer, Treasurer of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross, Newtonville.

Newton Centre children of high school age are working for the Red Cross House. At present they are making trench candles. Children of younger age are at work on afghans, handkerchiefs and convalescent coverings.

It is not necessary to be a member of the Red Cross in order to help along with the work at any of the Red Cross work rooms. Of course the Red Cross would like to have every one as a member but the help of every one, whether member or not, is invited and welcomed.

This afternoon (Thursday) will be the second of the Children's Afternoons at the Red Cross Work Room in Temple Hall, Newtonville, and all the children of that village are invited to report at the room at half past one. The first of the afternoons was a great success and it is hoped that the children will more and more do their part for the men who are fighting and for the children who have suffered so much from the cruelties of war.

Last week the Red Cross House at Newton Centre had 168 workers at work and turned out four times as much work as it did the previous week. The limits of the accommodations of the House have not been reached yet and those in charge are hopeful that with the growing interest in the work and the steadily increasing number of volunteer workers that last week's output may soon be quadrupled.

U. S. S. PATROL BOAT SAVES 2 MEN

Mr. Joseph Byers, 2nd, U. S. N. R. F., was one of the engineers on the U. S. S. Patrol Boat that picked up the disabled motor boat "Gretchen" 49 miles from Boston Light on Monday morning, October 9th, and saved two men from death. After being adrift 2 days and nearly exhausted from lack of food the men were in a terrible condition and on the verge of suicide. This makes the third life Mr. Byers has been instrumental in saving during the past few months.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Classes are being formed in Spanish, French, Economics, Basketry, Swimming, etc.

The club will conduct a center for the making of surgical dressings. This work, which will be carried on in cooperation with the Red Cross and French Relief, has been placed in the hands of a committee with Miss H. Louise Peloubet, chairman.

First meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands was held Tuesday afternoon, October 9, in Lincoln Hall, with Mrs. G. Wetherbee in chair. After a word of greeting a report of the Newton Federation annual meeting in May was given by Mrs. W. E. Moore, chairman of delegates, and a report of Women Associates by its president, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall. Mrs. Wetherbee reported the State Federation annual meeting at Great Barrington.

Violin music in two groups by Miss Royce of Brookline, accompanied by Mr. Thompson at the piano were much enjoyed.

MOTHERS' REST

The Annual Meeting of the Mothers' Rest Association will be held in the chapel of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Newton Centre, on Thursday, October 18th, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Reports of the years' work will be given by chairman of committee and by the Matron and Nurse of the "Rest". There will be interesting music. It has been suggested that because of the special stress of this year, the expense of printing these reports in the year book is not justified. Therefore all friends of this work are earnestly requested to be present at this meeting as it may be the only opportunity to hear these annual reports.

SPECIAL AID SOCIETY

The Newton Special Aid Society meets every Wednesday and Friday from 3.10 to 5 for sewing and all day Saturdays from 9 to 5 for sewing and surgical dressings work, in the Newton Technical High School.

The Society is now busy preparing Christmas boxes to send to France. A number of the members visited the Commonwealth Pier on October 1st and tendered a reception and entertainment there. It was very gratifying to note what has been done for the comfort of the sailors. Writing tables, pool tables and billiard tables have been installed and there is a moving picture show or an entertainment every evening to keep the boys safe.

The Special Aid has recently sent to Commonwealth Pier 45 soap bags, 2 doz. shoe bags and recently gave to Mrs. Mitchell 15 furnished kits for the last installment of soldiers who left for Ayer. The members of the Society are knitting all the time.

NEWTON RED CROSS

Last evening (Wednesday) was the first of the evenings at the Red Cross House in Newton Centre for those who wish to do Red Cross work but who are unable to do the work during the day time. There were nearly twenty workers present and all were kept busy making surgical dressings. These Wednesday evenings are to be a regular fixture at the Red Cross House and an invitation is extended to all Newton Centre people who can give only their evenings to the work to attend and help make the number of evening workers as large as possible.

The Young Women's Club of St. John's Church in Newtonville has voted to work as an auxiliary of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross and the members are at present at work on non-sterile dressings. The Girl Scouts of Newtonville are also working as an auxiliary of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross.

ANOTHER UNIT ORGANIZED

The Newton Constabulary was increased this week by the addition of the Chestnut Hill unit, which was sworn into service on Monday evening at the clubhouse of the Longwood Cricket Club at Chestnut Hill.

The galleries were filled with the relatives and friends of the men and music was furnished by the Newton Constabulary Band. The men were assembled by Capt. Freeman Hinckley and presented to General James G. White, the chief of the Newton Constabulary, who made a few remarks. Mayor Childs also spoke and the oath of office was administered by Chief of Police Fred M. Mitchell.

After being inspected by General White and staff, the men marched to the Chestnut Hill Club house for their guns and returned to the Longwood Club house, where they were presented with a silk flag by Mrs. A. Winsor Weld, the presentation being made by her daughter, Miss Louise Weld. The colors were received with all due honor, the unit acting like veteran soldiers.

The officers are: Captain, Freeman Hinckley; 1st Lieut., A. Winsor Weld; 2nd Lieut., Albert Burr; Sergeants, Chandler Hovey, 1st Sergeant; Prescott Bigelow, Jr., supply sergeant; N. W. Niles, Nevil Ford, W. E. Putnam, R. G. Hopkins; Corporals, A. Henderson, P. Driscoll, H. T. Baldwin, G. A. Page, J. A. Lowell, E. F. Wickens, W. Kittredge, R. L. Wilbur.

LODGES

Cryptic Council R. & S. M., held its annual meeting and installation of officers on Tuesday evening at the Masonic Building, Newtonville. Lewis E. Moore was elected the Thrice Illustrious Master, and as he is now engaged in the United States service as a captain in the Engineering Corps at Washington, D. C., he was installed by proxy, the retiring Master, Lowell D. MacNutt acting for him. The other officers are Charles E. A. Ross, D. M., Rupert C. Thompson, P. C. W., Herbert E. Smith, C. G., John Keays, C. C., Sands S. Woodbury, S. C. I. Flye, treasurer, Hollis H. Sawyer, recorder, F. B. Bennett, chaplain, W. G. S. Chamberlain, organist, A. Sidney Bryant, sentinel.

The installing officer was P. I. M., Alfreda R. Hersam.

COMMUNITY HARVEST DAY

Newton Fur and Feather Club Holds an Interesting Event in Waban

Good weather for the First Annual Show of the Newton Fur and Feather Club on Columbus Day brought all Waban people out of doors and attracted many from the other Newtons. Early in the day the grounds assumed the appearance of the typical country fair. Vegetables arriving in all sorts of vehicles from the wheelbarrow to the limousine and some of the loads very much alive, as was evidenced when a pheasant escaped his cage and a turkey cut loose to look the grounds over.

President Hayes of the Club with his able committees had everything in order for the opening at nine o'clock and it was a very satisfactory exhibit by Waban's war gardeners, house wives and pet stock owners and entered into whole heartedly by the whole town making the show an unqualified success. The Club and citizens of Waban were very generous with prizes and the following were winners:

Greatest number of points on exhibits other than poultry, Robert Johnson.

Best display of poultry, Herbert Hayes.

Best Cock, Herbert Hayes.
Best Hen, Alexander Shaw.
Best Cockerel, Willard Woodward.
Best Pullet, Willard Woodward.

Best Crab Apple Jelly, Mrs. Kelly.

Best Canned Peaches, Mrs. Upham.

Best display of Autumnal Flowers, Clifford Walker.

Lee Quon was given a special for his exhibit of Chinese vegetables.

Rev. Charles H. Cutler exhibited some potatoes raised at his Maine home planted with seaweed as the only fertilizer.

William Oakes exhibited a peck of potatoes raised where the eyes of the potatoes were the only part planted as seed.

During the afternoon of Community Day the prizes for the Boys' gardens were awarded by Alderman Angier as follows:

Twenty dollar gold piece to Eric Lamb.

Ten dollar gold piece to Richard Troy.

Five dollar gold piece to Kendall Kellaway.

Two and a half dollar gold piece to Theodore Trefry, Joseph Durocher, Winthrop Rhodes, John Stetson, Alfred Hewins, and to Homer Ambrose and Oscar Rice jointly.

Alderman Angier was the donor of the above prizes.

Alderman Angier then presented to the above and all other boys who had war gardens the past season, the medal of the Newton Committee on Public

NEWTON RED CROSS

Stories that Improper Use is Made of Articles is Emphatically Denied

Stories about the sale of sweaters and socks by the Red Cross have been circulated to such an extent that the New England Division of the Red Cross has sent out this statement to all its Branches:

"It is evident from the persistency of the rumors which are being circulated regarding our selling sweaters, etc., that a very strong propaganda is being carried on in an attempt to discredit the Red Cross and thereby cripple its effectiveness. These rumors emanate simultaneously from too many different parts of the country to be merely accidental and must be combated. Investigation has been made of every rumor that has so far been called to the attention of this office and you are hereby authorized and directed to deny flatly, as untruthful and groundless, any rumor of the above mentioned nature. It is absolutely necessary for every loyal member of the Red Cross to assist in crushing this systematic and seditious propaganda. Any further rumors should be immediately reported to this office, together with information as to their source. The American Red Cross has no secrets to hide. It is making a sincere effort to serve mankind and is doing so as carefully and economically as it knows how. Its accounts are to be audited by the War Department, and the utmost effort is being made to give the widest publicity to all its activities."

If any readers of the Graphic hear any of these sweater stories they will do a kindness to the Red Cross if they will send to the Newton Branch of the Red Cross Headquarters, Newtonville, the full story just as they heard it and also the name of the person telling it.

The Children's Afternoons at the Work Room of the Red Cross in Newtonville, on Thursdays, continue to attract a number of enthusiastic children who are doing excellent work. Thursday of this week Mrs. Brewer Edgely, Mrs. Louis H. Babcock and Mrs. Walter Andrews assisted Miss Kimball in directing the work done by the children. Many were busy making scrap books, some for the children who have been driven from their homes by the war and others for the soldiers and sailors. Other children knitted squares for Afghans or picked oakum. One of the interesting developments of these afternoons is the number of children who wish to knit, boys as well as girls asking to

PATRIOTIC MEETING

Senator Weeks to Speak at Clafin Field on Liberty Day

The Committee on Public Safety at the request of the Newton Liberty Bond Committee has arranged for a Grand patriotic meeting to be held on Clafin Field, Newtonville, on Liberty Day, Wednesday, Oct. 24th.

The meeting will be held at three o'clock with Senator John W. Weeks and Mayor Edwin O. Childs as the principal speakers and there will be a drill by the Newton Constabulary. Preceding the meeting there will be an automobile parade thru the streets of the city in charge of Mrs. F. E. Stanley, chairman of the women's committee on the Liberty Bonds.

Liberty bonds will be on sale at the meeting.

In case of rain the meeting will be held in the State Armory, West Newton.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE

The dance held last Friday afternoon and evening at the State Armory in West Newton for the benefit of the fund for Company C of the 5th Regiment was a great success, the attendance being estimated at about 1000 people, and the proceeds somewhere in the neighborhood of $150.

In the evening there was a competitive drill by squads from the Auburndale, West Newton, and Newton Highlands Constabulary, officers of the 5th Regiment acting as judges. The Auburndale Unit was awarded the prize of a silver loving cup appropriately inscribed, the presentation being made by Mayor Edwin O. Childs. The winning squad was also presented with a bushel of apples by Mr. C. Henry Goodwin, Jr.

Tomorrow has been designated as Tag Day for the Company C fund and the city will be canvassed by a corps of young ladies.

UNITARIAN CLUB

The first meeting of the Unitarian Club of Newton was held last evening at Channing Church parlors, with President Alvin R. Bailey in the chair. After the banquet, Hon. Sanford Bates of Boston gave an interesting talk on the Work of the Constitutional Convention.

For Our Own Soldiers

WILLIAM FIRTH of Chestnut Hill, co-operating with his daughter, Mrs. Richard Haworth of Manchester, England, is raising funds to help establish a club in Manchester for American soldiers and sailors. Such a club is greatly needed, for the American troops now roam the streets there, and have no proper means of diversion.

Checks for this cause sent to Mr. WILLIAM FIRTH, 200 DEVONSHIRE STREET, BOSTON, MASS. will be gratefully acknowledged.

FIRST MEETING OF CHRISTIAN FORUM

Dr. Shailer Mathews Talks on American Democracy and World Politics

The first meeting of the Newton Christian Forum was held Sunday evening in the Channing Church and was largely attended.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Shailer Mathews, and he spoke in part, as follows, on the subject "American Democracy and World Politics."

American Democracy is not a mould into which people are run but a process working towards an ideal. Democracy in these last days is not a finished ideal but a process towards an ideal.

We Americans take ourselves, or we did take ourselves until six months ago as a matter of course. And many people thought Democracy was only a fine sounding word used by all sorts of people and radicals. American Democracy as a historic force in the world is something vastly bigger than many of us think and I want to say there are two main points which lie back of our war. First, American Democracy in its conception of a State. If you go back to 1776, you will find a world that was practically without a constitution. England had no constitution, yet England developed. England had to come under control of this side of the water, the rights of the great line of development of English rights. When George the 3rd took the throne he was told by his mother, "George, be a King." He began his mother's advice. But, in one of his fits of sanity, he thought of the conception as to the rights of Englishmen on this side of the water, and that great question as to whether the rights of Englishman should be preserved, or whether the rights of Englishmen on this side of the water was of as much significance as on the other.

When that war was over, we advanced into the field of politics and organized a State the likeness of which has never been known. We first made the rights of an Englishman the rights of everybody, second we made the State cooperative with citizenship. We started and founded a State where every man was a citizen. We improved on this year after year, and still improve upon it, by coming to the time in which every woman will be a citizen, to carry on the work, for if she is going to be a person, she has got to take over the rights of persons. And when the American State was organized we went further and extended the rights of the citizen. Our success made political democracy contagious. With the French Revolution, France became a Republic and has ever remained a Republic at heart. This great Democratic Movement which swept over France, swept over the nation and into England. When a typical Englishman adopts a reform he adopts it slowly but once he adopts it he keeps it. Democracy is just as truly in England as it is here. There is a King of course, but there are two Georges ruling England, George the fifth the figure head, and Lloyd George the head of the Government. When you ask when England became our great Ally you will go back to the time of the great reform when England became a Democracy. That could not be limited to France and Great Britain, it passed, through the course of history sometimes in the form of a democracy, from nation to nation. We have seen in our own day the rights of the Republic of Portugal, we have seen China the last nation in the world to extend its hands to a Republic. In 1815 a Czar began to rule and one hundred and two years later the people of Russia said Czars are no longer fashionable. All Europe is a Republic with the exception of Germany, Austria and Turkey. We have to add Belgium, a constitutional monarch.

In 1776 and 1783 a great nation was started where citizenship was identical with the State and open to all the world. If that isn't a thing an American can pride himself on, there isn't anything in history that would make an American feel proud. Prussia in the eighteenth century began its great conception of a State. That was the beginning of the constitutional development that has never been a liberal movement. This swept into Germany at the same time it did into France and England but it was crushed.

Prussia gave the people a constitution in 1831 but it does not enable the people to have anything to say in the Government. The people are divided into three classes, according to their taxes. Those who pay the most have all the say. It is not difficult to see that the people have absolutely no choice. The Government is not responsible to the people, and this conception of Government is imposed upon

Watch For Next Week's Priced Market Letter

THANK YOU:

The splendid response by the people of the Newtons and surrounding towns to our Market Letters is worthy of more than passing notice, therefore the "man in charge" will by a finer sense of service and unstinted time to the task endeavor to prove to you that your business and valued confidence has not been misplaced.

THE LIMIT HAS BEEN REACHED

We find in order to render the PARTICULAR kind of service we aim to that we must now "draw the line" and respectfully but DECIDEDLY refuse further applicants for weekly credit.

WEEKLY MARKET LETTERS

Will be continued as usual in order (as we have heretofore stated) that all may be posted as to REAL market conditions and values.

FEW REASONS

For the remarkable increase in our business the past few months, chief of which is PRICE. This business is linked up with one of the largest distributors of food products in New England.

You pay no tribute to the middleman, his profits are eliminated in every purchase you make.

YOUR price is that which the average retail merchant pays.

BONELESS CUTS:

All waste removed, any size, Pan Roasts, Pot Roasts, Braising, and Stewing pieces, the ones most widely recognized—Sirloin Roll tenderloin in 30-32-35c lb; Shoulder Clods 20-22-25c lb; Boneless Rounds 18-20-22c lb; Beef Loaf and Hamburg 18-22-25c lb. All from grain fed steer beef.

LAST BUT NOT LEAST

A PIPE DREAM

By Frank Goewey Jones.

(Written for "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund")

Editor's Note.—This newspaper will receive and turn over to "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund," all contributions to pay for tobacco for the soldiers. Each dollar pays for four packages, with a total retail value of $1.80. In each package is placed a postcard bearing the name and address of the contributor. The soldier receiving the package agrees to send a message on the card to his unknown friend back home. You get your thanks from an American soldier in the trenches.

Last spring my partner, Dan Corrigan, and I went trout fishing. But every day it rained. The rain water filled the creek water and Dan and me. All the two pound rainbows had catacombs over their eyes, and muddy whirlpools and young Niagara falls besides. Devil a fly or a worm could the poor trout see.

The third day Dan and I sat in our tent and cursed. We swore at the weather and the fish and each other, and of course, being in a damning mood, we finally got around to the Kaiser.

"They say the scut has no bad habits, Terry," remarks Dan, stuffing the bowl of his cornob. "I need no more proof he's not fit for a decent man to wipe his feet on."

"Nor me either," says I.

"But ye are fit," Corrigan jabs me, grinning.

"Ye know what I mean," I answers him. "I needed to hear no more about Kaiser Bill after I heard he never hell raising. That explains all his hell theories on everything from A. P. A's to I. W. W.'s and X. Y. Z."

"Terry Ahearn," he belches out a notion now, after a long drag at his cornob, "that's what ails the whole bunch of Germans—why they're so savage! They're all out of tobacco!"

Corrigan puffed away a minute like an engine making a stiff grade, for 'tis not easy for Dan to think strong ever, and he wastes good fuel always when he does. He reaches forward sudden now and whacks me on the knee so hard with his fist I have the black and blue spot yet.

"I have it!" he yells out.

"Ye will get it," I threatened him as I jerked back, "right on the nose if ye thump me like that again."

"I see through it all now," he goes on disregarding. "Ye mind that ad we read in the paper for people to subscribe for that Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund? Do ye recollect?"

I nodded, for we'd each chipped in $5.

"And the secretary of war indorsed it?"

"Yis."

"That Newt Baker is a sharp one," chuckles Dan. "Never before did I see through him, thin as he is. But now I do. He has all the old foggy strategy boards skinned eighteen ways for his scheme to drag the Teuts out from under the Kaiser's heel. Before Bill Holtzcler knows his foot's slipping he'll tumble into the discard!"

"How does Baker mean to cook his goose?" says I.

"Why, when that good American tobacco gets over to France they'll man the front trenches with nothing but Sammies, all with cornobs bechune their teeth. The generals will choose up a day when there's a south wind and smoke the Fritz right out of their holes."

"Think how ye'd feel, Terry, if ye hadn't had a good pipeful for three years and then ye smelt in front of ye the best tobacco in the world. What would ye do?"

"Of course I'd walk over to the fellow that was smoking and ask him like a gentleman for a loan of a bit of baccy."

"Ye have guessed the scheme!" cries Dan. "The smell on the wind will make the Germans do the same. They'll climb out of their trenches and over across No Man's Land. Then the Sammies will invite them all to stay for a visit until the end of the war."

"But the Germans have not acted like gentlemen lately," I reminded Dan. "More likely they'd not ask for the tobacco, but make a grab for it."

"Won't that bring them within reach of our boys?" Dan asks. "Either way none of the Fritz will get a chance to go back. Terry, 'tis the cunningest scheme of all, that TOBACCO FUND."

"Dan," I assents, "for once in your life ye have had a sensible notion. How many Germans do ye think the $5 I chipped in will coax over?"

"A dozen or so," Corrigan figures up promptly.

"Twenty-three is the skiddoodle number," I remark. "Ten dollars ought to smoke out that many, then, and I have another five spot to spare."

"I'll match ye," agreed Dan. Then, because he never is content unless he thinks he has the best of anything, he goes on: "But the tobacco I'll send will pull double what yours will, for 'tis twice as strong."

"We'll see," says I, "when the postal card reports from our boys come in. I'm counting on drawing over the Germans who have good sense left in their noses if nowhere else in their heads."

So Dan and me are waiting now for the war's right.

The war will be as good as over if there's tobacco enough. Anybody can see the scheme is bound to work. And every time I fill my own pipe here at home 'tis a satisfaction to me when I think how much I'm doing to make the war easy and enjoyable for OUR BOYS IN FRANCE.

STONER-GILLETTE

Miss Elizabeth R. Gillette, a teacher in the Hyde School at Newton Highlands, was married Wednesday afternoon to Buford N. Stoner, travelling passenger agent in New England for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad. The ceremony took place at 117 Glenville avenue, Allston, which is to be their future home. Mr. Stoner is vice president of the Association of Railroad and Steamboat Agents of Boston, a member of the American Association of Travelling Passenger Agents, the Boston City Club, and Aleppo Temple, Mystic Shrine.

AN INSIDE STORY

This was an inside story of the Russian inspired Government, as told by Dr. Peter S. Tschitschkan, last Wednesday evening, October 10th before several hundred members of Dalhousie Lodge of Free Masons and their invited guests.

The Doctor laid bare the machinations of the intricate German spy system, which all but succeeded in paralyzing nearly the whole of Russia when the government was overthrown. Dr. Tschitschkan spoke in scant English, but frequently turned to Dr. Michael Chirug, a Russian by birth, a member of Dalhousie Lodge, in his native tongue ("Russian" for translations in English).

As consultant Surgeon-Dentist of the Czar's own cavalry-Body Guard for the first two years of the world war, Dr. Tschitschkan had a rare chance to watch events. He was the fashionable dentist of Petrograd, who filled the teeth of the ladies in waiting to the Czarina, while they innocently tilted his ears with the secret-whisperings of the traitorous plots: "Some day you will hang for this," threatened a high Court official, between his teeth. But the Russian patriot kept recklessly on, until having helped his fellow revolutionists to the very brink of the revolution, and having placed his life in jeopardy, he was forced to flee to this country, with one idea in his mind—to spread the knowledge of how the Germans work to gain their ends, through spies and plots, and to insure the coming of world peace, by crushing out Prussian-militarism, has this distinguished Russian patriot come to our shores, and to Boston with a most pathetic plea for the deplorable condition of the Russian people. Dr. Tschitschkan told the members of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, in his scanty English, and often with Dr. Chirug's help, tales of treason and horror in Russia—of pre-revolutionary days, that made the listeners gasp for breath.

"Russia will never make a separate peace with Germany," the Russian soldiers are willing to lay down their lives a hundred times for their country, if they will be sure that it will be for their country—a free Russia, and not being sold out to the German Army by traitors for German gold," he said.

"See to it, Gentlemen," cried out the Doctor, "that the ammunitions and all other war materials, with which your American soldiers enter the great conflict are not made worthless in the same way as the Russian ammunitions and guns were made."

For the safety of this Country, by all means get rid of the German spies, he advised.

WORD FROM CO. C

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Keefe of California street, Newton, have received a letter from their son, David Keefe, of Co. C, 101st Regt. Infantry, dated Sept. 17, from "somewhere on the high seas within a day's run of France." Mr. Keefe writes that they have had a great trip, with no mishaps, and with not even a sight at a submarine. As acting sergeant of the guard he has had charge of the relief on look out, 20 men in each of four squads on duty all the time. There is also a daily fire drill when every man on the boat puts on a life belt and reports at certain stations about the ship. Mr. Keefe says that the gun crew on the ship has made five hits out of five attempts at a target looking like a periscope of a submarine. He reports that all the boys are feeling fine.

THE U. S. MARINE

Minna Irving, in the New York Herald

When the fire of the rifle crackles.
And the spray of the battery falls;
When the flag like a meteor flashes
And the voice of the bugle calls,
Veteran, scared and meddled
Or rookie, raw and green,
He dies, but never surrenders,
The United States marine.

When a ship of the line is sinking
And its decks are running red,
Piled to the shattered railings
With heaps of the gory dead, Always facing the foe man,
Unconquered and serene,
He dies, but never surrenders,
The United States marine.

He is the first to answer
To the wild war trumpet's peal.
His bayonet is the keystone
In Freedom's arch of steel.
Safe is her stately banner
Wherever he is seen;
Hats off to one of her bravest,
The United States marine.

NEWS FROM AYER

The following letter has been received from one of the men who left last Friday for Ayer.

Dear Editor:—

Feeling that the Newton people, through your newspaper, would be interested to know what has happened to the "Second Forty" I am writing a few words to let them know that all the boys from Newton are in the best of spirits, and seem to be enjoying themselves every minute of the day. No real hard work was done until today (Monday) when we had the Articles of War read to us and drilled for about three hours. We are located in the same barracks with that old school football rival "Somerville" but they seem to have forgotten that any rivalry ever existed between the two for football honors.

Our first night in camp was the only uncomfortable night we have had. This was caused by the rain and of course, being in strange quarters. We each have a spring cot supplied with a mattress, one blanket, a comforter and a ponche and we manage to keep comfortable.

We have three good meals each day and that all are satisfied with the food is needless to say. All one needs to do to convince themselves is to watch the rush when the mess call is heard and to see the boys line up for a "second" and even a "third" helping.

We are located in the 5th Additional Company of the 9th Training Battalion of the Depot Brigade, Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass. All the boys are looking for mail from home. All are appreciative also for the kindness of the Ladies' Society which distributed the sweaters and comfort kits. They certainly have come in handy up here cold nights.

The steam heat has not been started in our barracks yet nor has the hot water been turned on but we understand this will be taken care of within a week or so.

The one desire of all the boys is to receive something in the line of mail from home so they will not lose track of what is happening in Newton.

LAND COURT.

To Frederic M. Burditt and Charlotte T. Bergerson, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; by heirs, devisees or legal representatives of William Ashmore, formerly of Swanton, China, deceased; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Fannie D. English, of said Newton, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in that part of said Newton called Newton Centre, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at the Southeasterly corner of the within described land on the northerly line of Beacon Street at land of Charlotte T. Bergerson, thence running westerly on said northerly line of Beacon Street eighty-seven and 61-100 (87.61) feet to Crescent Avenue; thence turning and running Northerly on the easterly line of said Crescent Avenue one hundred fifty-three and 78-100 (153.78) feet to Pelham Street; thence turning and running Easterly on the southerly line of Pelham Street ninety-seven (97) feet to said land of Bergerson; thence turning and running Southerly in a straight line by said land of Bergerson one hundred and seventy-three (173) feet to the point of beginning; containing 14,986.5 square feet of land.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twelfth day of November A. D. 1917, at four o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifteenth day of October in the year nineteen hundred and seventeen.

CHRISTMAS MAIL FOR AMERICAN FORCES ABROAD

Arrangements have been perfected whereby the Christmas mail to the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe is to be delivered by Christmas morning. Without the fullest cooperation on the part of the public it will be impossible to accomplish this result.

The three essential respects in which the public can aid in assuring a happy Christmas at the front are: Mail early, address intelligently and pack securely. For this reason it is urgently requested that all persons having Christmas mail for the soldiers and sailors and the civilian units attached to the army in Europe observe closely the following directions:

1. Mails to reach the soldiers in France by Christmas morning must be posted not later than November 15.

2. Every package must bear conspicuously the words "Christmas Mail," the complete address of the person for whom it is intended, and, in the upper left-hand corner, the name and address of the sender.

3. Every parcel must be so packed and wrapped as to admit of easy inspection by the postmaster. No parcel will be dispatched to France which has not the postmaster's certificate that it contains no prohibited articles.

Preparation of Parcels for Mailing.—Owing to the unusual distance this mail must be transported, the handling and the storage it must undergo, it is absolutely necessary that all parcels be covered with wrappers of sufficient strength not only to resist pressure of other mail contained in the sacks in which it will be inclosed, but to withstand the weight of other sacks of mail, which in the long transit may be piled thereon.

Many combination packages will probably be made up, including miscellaneous toilet articles, candies, soaps, etc. The contents of such packages should be tightly bound, in order that the several articles may not be loosened in transit, damaging the parcel itself or causing damage to the covering of the parcel. Soldiers' Christmas boxes should be inclosed in substantial containers. Candles in this pastebord boxes should be inclosed in wood, tin, or corrugated pasteboard. Sealed packages of candy, cigars, tobacco and toilet articles in simplest mercantile form may be inclosed within parcels without affecting the parcel-post classification of such packages. Sharp-pointed or sharp-edged instruments, such as razors, knives, etc., must have their points or edges protected so they can not cut through their coverings and damage other mail or injure postal employees. Cakes, plum puddings, similar delicacies should be packed in substantial tin containers, or equally resistant receptacles, whether sent as separate packages or inclosed with other matter in a combination package.

Prohibited Articles.—The principle articles classed as unmailable are: intoxicants of all kinds, poisons, inflammable materials (including friction matches), or compositions which may kill or injure another, or damage the mail. All contents of parcels will be carefully examined, and mailers will refrain from inclosing in parcels any intoxicating liquors or other articles classed as unmailable.

Parcels for the Expeditionary Forces abroad may not be registered or insured.

Make Small Parcels. Owing to the great demand on transportation space, patrons are urgently requested to make their packages as small as possible—preferably not to exceed 10 pounds in weight—as smaller parcels will have to be given preference in shipment, in order to accommodate the greatest number of persons.

AUBURNDALE BROTHERHOOD

The Auburndale Brotherhood held its first meeting of the season on Wednesday evening in the Congregational chapel. At 6.45 Supper was served to a large company of members who were present, and at 8 o'clock Mr. Frank B. Rogers, superintendent of Fred T. Ley and Co. gave an interesting and enlightening address on "The Making of Camp Devens."

The gentlemen who served were Mr. Chauncey Conn, president, Mr. Arthur W. Lane, secretary, and Mr. E. H. Ordway, treasurer.

The Supper Committee was under the chairmanship of Mr. Horace W. Bunker and included Messrs. E. H. Ashenden, C. D. Ansley, C. E. Almey, E. H. Alexander, C. A. Brown, H. J. Barclay, J. W. Buckman, H. A. Berg, H. J. Berg, C. F. Bulbulian, and T. S. Burbank.

—Next Sunday evening the Eliot and Baptist churches will unite at Immanuel Baptist Church at 7.30. The address will be made by Rev. Y. H. Shabbaz of Urmia, Persia. His subject will be "Back from the War Zone, or Held Captive by the Turks." It is a story of his experiences as a missionary in Northern Persia when it was invaded by the Turks and thousands of persons massacred. He was captured but escaped through the advance of the Russians.

"OVER THERE"

Friends of Dr. Duncan Reid received letters, written on shipboard, from him a few days since. He gave some account of the voyage, but no intimation of his destination. Among the many who were the leader of the "Yale Glee Club" a concert was given, and the proceeds $250.00 were given to a children's hospital in Liverpool. They sang the "Star Spangled Banner" every man standing at "Attention" also "America," adding a most inspiring verse.

Two Empires by the sea.
Two peoples, great and free
One Anthem raise,
One race of ancient fame,
One tongue, one faith, we claim,
One God, whose glorious name,
We love and praise.

The question, Shall American Soldiers abroad be called "Teddy or Sammie's" was discussed. The conclusion was "neither, they will go 'over there' and make a name for themselves."

CHURCH RE-OPENED

Eliot Church will be open next Sunday for the first time since July 1. The ceiling of the auditorium has been treated with acoustic felt to improve the acoustics, and while the staging was up for that purpose the entire room was redecorated and the wood work refinished. The same tones are preserved but the freshening of the walls adds to the attractiveness of the place.

The first service next Sunday will have some patriotic features. The Church's Roll of Honor will be completed to date and the National anthem will be sung at eleven o'clock. All friends are invited to participate in the service.

Rally Day service in connection with the opening of the Church. Mr. Geo. G. Davidson of Watertown and Mr. F. S. Ratson of West Newton will take part in the Sunday School Service at noon.

KING—TREAT

Mr. Ralph W. King of Oak Hill, was married Tuesday morning at the Baptist Church in Waterville, Me., to Miss Mollie E. Treat, the daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. George F. Treat of Livermore Falls, Me., the ceremony being performed by Rev. Lyman W. King, father of the groom, of Newton Centre. Only the parents of the bride and groom and the attendants, Miss Annie Anderson Colby 19, bridesmaid, and Bliss Harriner, Colby 18, best man, were present.

After a wedding lunch, Mr. and Mrs. King left for a two weeks' wedding trip to Livermore Falls, Newton Centre, and New Hampshire.

Mrs. King is a graduate of the Livermore Falls High School and took a B. S. course at Colby College. Mr. King is a graduate of the Newton High School and of Colby, class of 1916.

He has been drafted, but does not expect a call to the colors for some time. He is an inspector for the Bell Telephone Company in New Hampshire and he and Mrs. King will live in Manchester.

WINS CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

The Newton Y. M. C. A. baseball season came to a very successful close Sept. 29, when it defeated the fast West Newton A. A. team 7 to 2 for the City title.

The season thus auspiciously closed was considered the most successful baseball season the local Association ever experienced. Twenty-two games were played, seventeen were won while only five were lost, a record that no other local team can boast of.

Captain Bills of Waltham who alternated with Barnes in the box and at first did the bulk of the pitching winning eight out of ten. Barnes also was a steady twirler and a classy first baseman. Charles Gately worked at the receiving end after Frank Chivers left the team for military service and could always be depended upon for a steady snappy game back of the bat and at the same time leading the team at bat with an average .389. The entire team played good ball all season, the infield being of stone-wall caliber, while the outfielders were fast and reliable. The generous business men of the city who contributed toward the purchase of new uniforms for the team did a great deal toward the success of the team and the Association wishes to take this opportunity of expressing its appreciation for the loyal support thus given the team.

Following are the results of the games played, also the individual batting averages:

DON'T BURN YOUR LEAVES!

Some three years ago I saw an article written by some one connected with the U. S. Agricultural Department, stating that millions of dollars' worth of good fertilizer was lost every year by the burning of leaves, instead of composting them.

I tried an experiment. I took my maple, chestnut and elm leaves in the fall of 1915 and put them in a pile mixing with them some fine coal ashes, only a small amount. In the fall of 1916 I worked the pile over and found it well decomposed.

In the spring 1917, I worked it over again and planted potatoes in it. These grew finely, and have produced as good a yield as any in my garden. In fact they average of larger size than those planted upon stable manure.

Nothing but decayed leaves and a little ashes. Oak leaves require a year longer to properly decompose. A little loam mixed with them will hasten decomposition. I am sending this information to the Graphic in hopes that many of your numerous readers will see it and try the experiment for themselves.

I wonder why our state and National Agricultural Departments, having in their possession knowledge of this valuable source of supply, so greatly needed in the land does not advertise the fact more extensively.

GEO. M. FISKE, Auburndale, Mass., Oct. 15, 1917.

BOYS' DIVISION OPENING

The fall opening social evening for the Boys' Division of the Newton Y. M. C. A. will be held on Friday evening Oct. 26th. The special feature will be the presence of "Joe" Lorraine, the popular entertainer from New York. Mr. Lorraine has recently spent a week at Camp Devens at Ayer appearing every evening before enthusiastic audiences of soldier boys. His program consists of songs, clever imitations and witty stories. The entertainment is open to all members of the Boys' Division and their friends.

EDITORIAL

With different storekeepers charging ten, eleven and twelve cents a pound on the same day for sugar, there is evident need for a Food Administrator to take drastic action in this city on the actions of the retailers. The Newton Board of Trade might do some constructive work on this line during the present trying times.

Judge Bacon will have the hearty thanks of every property owner in the city if he will go the limit in punishing every person, young or old, man or woman, who is convicted of stealing fruit and vegetables. It is high time that petty thieving of this nature is stopped in this city.

Every resident of the city should make an effort to attend the patriotic meeting to be held next Wednesday on Claffin Field. With such speakers as Senator Weeks and Mayor Childs there should be no doubt as to the attractiveness of the program.

Don't fail to wear your Liberty Bond button for the rest of the month. It is good advertising for the bonds. Urge your neighbor to buy a bond at every opportunity. They are a splendid investment and NOT a charity.

SPECIAL AID SOCIETY

A meeting of the Special Aid Society for American Preparedness was held Wednesday morning in the parlors of Central Congregational Church, the chairman, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, presiding.

Reports of committees showed enthusiasm and a large amount of work accomplished. Mrs. G. P. Malcom, chairman of the knitting department reported 1684 knitted articles sent out since March 26, when the Society was organized. An appeal came from a North Sea Destroyer with 85 men who are suffering bitterly from cold. Sweaters had already been provided and the vote was taken to send the wristers and helmets on hand at once.

Much interest was shown in the discussion concerning the house at Ayer that is being fixed over for the accommodation of the wives and relatives of officers. This branch is asked to contribute toward the eight thousand dollar expense incurred in the renovation of this old farm house.

Mrs. Marcus Morton reported that hundreds of books and current magazines had been taken to the Y. M. C. A. at Ayer and were gratefully appreciated.

Every member of the Special Aid and all friends of our soldier lads in both Army and Navy, are asked to make "Good Cheer" bags for Christmas 10 inches by 13 inches, finished of bright cretonne, and fill them, to be sent away by Nov. 1st. We cannot have too many of these filled bags. Frances Meserve, chairman of the Publicity Committee, 90 Hull street, Newtonville.

THE TOBACCO FUND

The amount of this Fund is rising slowly although no pressure has been placed on the campaign on account of the numerous other calls for money. The total subscriptions now amount to $63,996.44.

The management of the Fund intend to give every American fighting man in France a package of tobacco as a Christmas gift, and each box will have a Christmas card donated by a well known Boston concern. All remittances received to November 3rd will be included in this Christmas delivery.

FIRST SOCIAL

FOOD SAVING MANUALS

Librarian Dougherty today received from the National Emergency Food Garden Commission of Washington a few storage manuals for distribution in the food saving campaign. These manuals are free and additional copies can be had by readers of this paper by writing to Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, 210-220 Maryland building, Washington, D. C.

The Commission has been conducting a nation wide food saving campaign since last March and is now offering $5,000 in prizes for the best canned vegetables grown in war gardens. This has resulted in the organization of war garden exhibits throughout the country.

A close estimate, based on early reports to the Commission, says the women of the country have placed 460, 000,000 jars of canned stuff on the pantry shelves this year and that all food conservation records have been broken.

FIELD DAY OF WABAN COMPANY OF THE NEWTON CONSTITUABLE

General James G. White, Commader of the Constabulary honored the company by his presence on the field day, October 12th.

The Constabulary Band added much to the effectiveness of the exercises of the field day and the Waban Company is proud of the Constabulary Band.

Orders from Headquarters were read promoting Lieutenant Fulton to the captaincy of the company and Second Lieutenant Cardell to be First Lieutenant.

Mess as served on the drill ground at night under the direction of Private Arnold was enjoyed by all, two good men from the company have already been taken by the commander to fill higher positions. Lets hope that the reputation made by the commissary on the field day will not cause the loss of another good man.

One of the youngest members of the company is Private Polson. His dancing to the music of the band was excellent and as a cheer leader he fills the bill.

The first Camp Fire of the company was a good heart warmer as well as shin wa mer, every man in the company sings and there seems to be a reportory of about one hundred and one songs. Captain Fulton is going to have a glee club.

All the men were surprised at the brevity of Alderman Angier's campfire speech, but there was nothing ambiguous about it.

It looked at one time as though every man in the company would have to make a speech, but singing was preferred.

Nobody wanted to leave the campfire to do sentry duty.

In a short talk, Captain Fulton outlined plans for the winter. It is evident that the company will not suffer from inertia, everybody is rooting for the Captain.

Musician George Evans is always on the job and is just as good as in the days when he played with Sousa.
Stormy weather does not keep George from outdoor drills.

The Newton Constabulary marksmen won the eight-man team championship which was one of the closing day features of the Fall tournament of the Massachusetts Association of National Rifle Association Clubs at Wakefield the score was 1749.

The Constabulary team was made up as follows: Capt. Bigelow, Davis, and Dudley, Sergt. Colby, and Privates Cyrus Ferris, Wheeler, Perry, and Pratt.

George Evans of the Waban Company has been appointed Drum Major of the Constabulary Drum Corps.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

That the clubs are alive to the demands of the hour and yet at the same time do not intend to omit the civic work, which has been their chief aim in the past, was evident from the reports given at the executive board meeting of the Newton Federation this week.

The two Waltham clubs, the Woman's and the Mothers', have combined in arranging with one of the local picture houses to give a performance on Saturday mornings especially for children. The co-operation of Newton women was sought, since so many of the children from the Newton side of the river are accustomed to frequent the Waltham picture shows.

Miss Rich of the Welfare Bureau stated that the need for local assistance along many lines is going to be much greater this winter than in other years. From the Newton Circle came the request for articles for the fair of the Florence Crittenden League in Boston, on November 5 and 6, together with the testimony that demands upon that organization are already increasing owing to the war.

Hence, it is seen that the demands at home and those from overseas are so closely interrelated that one cannot be neglected without the other suffering. Surely many perplexing problems confront the clubs at the present time and wisdom and discriminating judgment will be needed to meet them.

Newton Centre Woman's Club next Thursday afternoon in Bray Hall there will be dramatics by home talent in charge of Miss Priscilla Ordway. At the close there will be the customary reception for the new members.

Local Happenings

Mrs. Harry S. Wells entertained the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club for its first meeting. Russia, the subject chosen for study this year, is a timely and appropriate theme. Deep interest was evidenced as the geographical conditions and resources were described in the first paper. Mrs.
George G. Phipps brought to the class the results of a careful study of Russian Folk Tales, and Epic Songs, which proved quite out of the usual line.

At the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday at the home of Mrs. Hanson B. Rogers, Mrs.
E. B. Lincoln was in charge of the work, taking for her subject "The Industries of Alaska." Agriculture was first considered. Of the possible crops it was stated that strawberries and turkeys mark the two extremes.
It is estimated that there are 100,000 acres of land suitable for raising and grazing. Wheat will not thrive, but there are good yields of rye and barley. The sixteen or more hours of sunlight in the summer in many ways compensate for the short season. The strawberries are said to have an unusually fine flavor, while celery seems to be particularly well adapted to the conditions. The raising of reindeer is one of the industries and it is thought that reindeer venison will in time compete with beef.

The timber supply is small, the west coast being the only part of the territory where it is at all abundant.
Salmon are very abundant, some ten million having been caught in the year 1910-11. The canning of halibut is being perfected. Laws have been passed protecting the seal fisheries.
Fox farms for the raising of the blue fox for its fur have been started.

Considerable time was given to the subject of coal. Writers vary in their estimate of its value, some considering the quality as of little value, while others say that it is just as good as that of the States, but little has been done by the government to develop the mines and aid in the mining. Prospectors say that there are unlimited quantities of lignite, which is not adapted to long hauling nor for being stored any great length of time, but which might well be used near at hand to generate electric power, which could be transmitted. There is also a high grade bituminous coal and some anthracite.

Excerpts from a recent report of Secretary Lane of the Department of the Interior were read, in which he recognized that Alaska had not been fairly treated in the past and recommended an entirely new piece of machinery for the governing of the territory.

Simplicity characterized the annual reception of the Newtonville Woman's Guild on Tuesday afternoon, which was held at the home of Mrs. Hubert Ripley on Birch Hill road, but this did not mean that the hospitality was any the less cordial nor that it was any the less enjoyed by the large number who attended. Mrs. Henry V. Jones, the new president, Mrs. W. S. Smyth, first vice-president, and Mrs. Ripley, the hostess, greeted the guests. The house was charming with its decoration of garden flowers, a large number of late roses being prominent.
Yellow predominated in the dining room, where Mrs. F. W. Pray and Mrs. W. H. Lucas presided over the tea table. The affair was in charge of the social committee, Mrs. W. H. Allen, chairman.

The meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on Oct. 15 was held at Mrs. F. E. O'Connor's. The subject for the afternoon was Plymouth, conducted by Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee and Mrs. C. S. Luitwiler.

It was a most fitting topic for these strenuous times, and we were convinced, that the splendid spirit of those Pilgrim Fathers, who came to these shores looking for freedom in thought and speech was alive today in our own men and women who are going across the water, to fight for democracy and liberty on land and sea, while those at home work and pray for victory.

Mrs. F. S. Fairchild sang Mrs.
Hemans' "Landing of the Pilgrims" most impressively. Next meeting is a Colonial Luncheon and Loan Exhibit at Mrs. J. W. Moore's, October 29.

Newton Federation

The quarterly board meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs brought out a large representation from all over the city on Monday afternoon, October 15. Mrs. Irving O.
Palmer, in opening the meeting referred fittingly to the passing of Mrs. Mary R.
Martin and to her deep interest in the work of the Federation. She was a member of the first executive board and had been a constant attendant at the meetings for many years.

The reports showed that already the committees have their work well underway, in fact some of them scarcely lessened their activities during the summer. The Patriotic Pete netted nearly $775. Mrs. George W.
St. Amant, chairman of the Education committee, stated that already her committee has been working for the War Library Fund. Three sub-committees have been created, on schools, on Americanization, and on moving pictures. There are still a few vacancies in the Spanish class. The report from the Social Service committee recommended the appropriation of $500 for the Welfare Bureau, which was unanimously adopted. There will be more needs than ever this coming year. Some changes in the running of the Dental Clinic were mentioned. For the benefit of those who have not known how to secure the services of the clinic, it was announced that in the case of school children they should apply to the school nurse of their particular school, for those beyond school age to the Welfare Bureau. Money for materials used by the dentist during the summer for those above school age was provided by the Federation. A few girls from the Vocational school are receiving some training as dentists assistants, one such girl having received high credit at the Forsyth Clinic for the knowledge which she had thus obtained.

Mrs. P. E. Stanley presented the work being done by the committee of women on the new Liberty Loan. As a result of her talk the Board voted to purchase a one hundred-dollar bond.

It was announced that the coming open meeting of the Federation will be held on November 7 in Temple Hall. An exceedingly interesting program has been arranged, the underlying thought being how to assist our foreign-born women. For the midwinter meeting the Federation has secured the co-operation of the Public Safety committee, so that the use of the Armory has been granted when three hundred of our foreign-born women will be the guests of the Federation.

At the close of the business Miss Rowley of the Women's Education and Industrial Union spoke of the many interests and activities in which the Union is engaged.

LEND-A-HAND CONFERENCE

The autumn conference of Lend-A-Hand Clubs will be held at Channing Church, Saturday, October 27th.
Morning session at 10.30. Reports of clubs.

Afternoon session at 2.15. Mr. Winthrop Packard, Secretary Mass. Audubon Society will give an illustrated talk on "Bird Music and Bird Welfare." Miss Brown, Superintendent be kept for future demands.

D. A. R. MEETING

The October meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. was held at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Frederick S. Fessenden.

The resignation of the second Vice-Regent, Mrs. Francis Newhall, was accepted with regret, and Mrs. Charles E. Gibson was elected her successor.

The regent gave a report of the war relief work done by the Chapter members during the summer and plans were made to continue along the same lines.

Mrs. F. E. Stanley made an appeal for the purchase of Liberty Bonds by the women of Newton.

Several new members were welcomed to the Chapter.

The following delegates and alternates were elected to attend the State Conference at Springfield.

Mrs. Charles D. Meserve, Mrs. Frank
M. Sherman, Mrs. Wm. H. Lucas, Mrs.
Jonathan L. Damon, Mrs. Gardner I.
Jones, Miss Lucy Ellis Allen, Mrs. F.
E. Stanley, Mrs. Arthur P. Friend,
Mrs. John P. Holmes.

COPLEY THEATRE—Nobody could have been rash enough to prophesy the extraordinary popularity of "The Man Who Stayed at Home" on the evening of its first performance at the Copley four months ago. It was cordially received throughout the first week, and since then that first reception has been repeated and repeated until now there is little to say except that it will continue to be acted at the Copley till further notice. That fact is sufficient evidence of its success.

The play suits the spirit of the time.
It tells a lively and realistic story, and it is acted by the Henry Jewett Players in a manner that shows every member of the company to be an adept at the impersonation of character.

No. 6625
Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
LAND COURT.

To Elizabeth A. Judkins, Mary E. Kellogg, James E. Cornish, and Elbert L. Churchill of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth, Woburn Five Cents Savings Bank, a duly existing corporation having its usual place of business in Woburn, in said County of Middlesex; Marlboro Church of Andover, in the County of Essex and said Commonwealth; Gertrude H. Whitney, of Methuen, in said County of Essex; Harriett B. Churchill of Providence, in the State of Rhode Island; Mary E. Swift of Elizabeth, in the State of New Jersey; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Pauline Bachmann, of Watertown, in said County of Middlesex, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Being lot 15 on plan filed in Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Plan Book 16, Plan 58, bounded Northerly by Crafts Street sixty-six (66) feet; Easterly by land of Pauline Bachmann one hundred fifty-nine (159) feet; Southerly by lots 8 and 9 on said plan ninety-four (94) feet; and Westerly by lot 14 on said plan one hundred sixty-two (162) feet.

Petitioner alleges that there appears of record a certain restriction to the effect that the property shall be conveyed only to American born citizens, said restriction being set forth in a deed given by George A. Prescott to Darius R. Emerson, dated January 1, 1870, recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Book 1307, Page 448, which restriction petitioner claims is not now in force or applicable.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston in the County of Suffolk, on the twenty-ninth day of October A. D. 1917, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of October in the year nineteen hundred and seventeen.

Attest with seal of said Court.
CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.
Oct. 5-12-19.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

By John Randall Dunn Fills Players Hall to Overflowing

Adherents of Christian Science had every reason to be gratified by the size and quality of the audience at Players' Hall last Sunday evening, when Mr. John Randall Dunn, C. S. of St. Louis, Mo., member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, delivered an intensely practical, and instructive lecture on the subject "Christian Science: The Supreme Discovery of the Age."

Mr. Wm. F. Ferrin, First Reader of the Newton Christian Science Church, under whose auspices the lecture was given, by way of brief introduction said: "Christian Science is giving to humanity a divine Principle, which when understood, will solve every human problem. It is so natural in its operation, that a little child can demonstrate it for himself."

These lectures which are being given throughout the world are making it possible for the stranger to learn how God is healing mankind through Christian Science.

Mr. Dunn's lecture in full is as follows:

I have chosen for the subject of my message, "Christian Science: The Supreme Discovery of the Age." To some of you such classification may seem arbitrary, may appear even presumptuous. But a few moments' consideration of the great subject of Christian Science, its origin, its growth, and its fruitage, should not fail to convince the most skeptical that the revelation of this truth to the world may well be denominated The Supreme Discovery of the Age. And it is not an extravagant statement to say that it is vastly more important to the human family than the most notable achievements chronicled in the realm of natural science or human invention, for it concerns you and me more than the discovery of the thousand and one marvels which on all sides spring to our service at the touch of a button or the motion of a lever.

Material Achievement

Inadequate
The world has made marvelous strides in the subjugation of electric current, but has it made proportionate progress in the subjugation of animality, of hate, of greed? Geologists have laid bare the great mineral heart of the earth and from its depths have taken an ever-increasing store of treasure. But has human ingenuity developed any invention whereby fear and sorrow and despair may be extracted from the human heart? The efforts of a self-sacrificing body of medical men are bringing to light every conceivable material theory for the alleviation of human suffering. And yet the underlying cause of disease seems untouched, and humanity is still confronted with a terrifying line of so-called incurable diseases. The human mind has been taxed to discover new luxuries, and new modes of amusement, to keep pace with mortals' fickle and ever-changing demands. But can it be said that its accomplishment along these lines has brought to the famished anything that truly satisfies, anything that brings abiding peace and happiness? Jesus said, "What shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" And we may well inquire what shall it profit us, if we reach the zenith of material achievement and find no peace, no satisfaction, no spirituality, and no health?

Breaking of Greater Spiritual Light

It should not seem unreasonable to anticipate that an age which has brought forth such material marvels should also witness the breaking of greater spiritual light. To this thought, however, the average man comes with more or less caution. He willingly supplants the old candle with a modern incandescent lamp, unblushingly prefers an automobile to an ox-cart, and yet hesitates to accept the thought that he should expect advancement along the line of spiritual unfoldment as well as advancement in the realm material. He probably tells religion of his fathers is good enough for him, and on this point he will find no argument with a Christian Scientist, for the religion of the fathers is good enough for him if by the fathers he means the early Christian fathers. The religion of Jesus and the early Christians, the religion which was evidenced by the healing of the lame, the stilling of the tempest, and the feeding of the multitude, is indeed good enough for all mankind; in fact, it is the only panacea that is good enough for the aching heart of man. And it is to this selfsame religion of Jesus that Christian Science, this great Twentieth Century religious movement, turns the sick and weary of earth.

Christian Science is not a modern philosophy, nor the "product of a fertile human brain." It is the revelation of the spiritual facts of being, the revelation of the truth about God and man taught by Jesus and the prophets, and it is all to be found in the Bible.

The Path Marked by Jesus

Have you ever seen in the mountains a "blazed" trail? A large piece of bark is cleft from a tree, and this operation is repeated on other trees at frequent intervals throughout the length of the trail. No matter how the trees may grow, the "blaze" remains, and so the trail is marked out for generations to come. When the world seemed immersed in the materialism of ancient theology and Roman paganism, there appeared one whose mission was to point the way to spirituality, to deliverance and healing, and he "blazed" a trail to the Father's house so plain, so simple, that a child could follow it. But in after centuries fast-growing weeds of ritual and human doctrines, of political power and ecclesiastical worldliness, obscured the trail, and mortals seemed content to follow the devious paths of creeds until in our time a woman-pilgrim came upon it and gave to her discovery the name Christian Science, or the Science of Christianity, and she rested not until she had written a book showing you and me how to find it. This Guide-book is called "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and is the text-book which Christian Scientists use in connection with their manual of life, the Bible.

The Manner of Truth's Appearing
A Christian Scientist loves to tell the story of the discovery of Christian Science, for the manner of Truth's appearing to Mary Baker Eddy is in a measure the way of its appearing to every hungering and receptive heart.

There is nothing of the spectacular or the emotional in this coming of Truth. It is the natural, orderly unfolding in the receptive human consciousness of the facts of being, and it comes to us, as angels have ever come to troubled humanity, when "in the quiet sanctuary of earnest longings" (Science and Health, p. 15) we silence self and listen to the "still small voice" of spiritual sense.

Mrs. Eddy's Healing

From her childhood Mrs. Eddy possessed a deeply religious nature. She was also a keen analytical thinker, and long before the light of Christian Science dawned upon her thought she was an earnest seeker after truth. She sought it in medicine and in every theory advanced by the human mind at that time, but from no human source could she find help when, in the year 1866, she seemed near the door of death. Then it was she called for her Bible. Many another sufferer has done this, especially when the last enemy appears not far distant from the bed of pain. But Mary Baker Eddy did not open her Bible to find therein comforting passages relating to the after life. She sought in its sacred pages the promise of healing, the promise of deliverance through reliance on divine power, and she turned to this verse in the ninth chapter of Matthew:

"And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed; and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the palsied, 'Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.'"

Speaking of this experience in one of her writings, Mrs. Eddy says that as she read, the healing Truth dawned upon her sense, and she was enabled to rise from her supposed death-bed with a realization of health and strength. (See Miscellaneous Writings, p. 24.)

The Healing of the Sick of the Palsy

How many times has the Christian world read this simple story of the healing of the sick of the palsy and yet missed the vital import of its message! Let us consider the verses following that to which Mrs. Eddy turned:

"And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, 'This man blasphemeth. And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk? But that ye may know, the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house. And he arose, and departed to his house."

In the light of Mrs. Eddy's teachings we can discern plainly that the healing of sin and the healing of sickness were one and the same thing. The Master! Do you not believe that it is possible for a sinner to be instantaneously awakened from the nightmare of sin, if through the crust of his seared mentality can break a gleam of the sweetness of a more spiritual sense? Then you must concede that the sick man can be as speedily restored, and by the same method,—that is, if you accept Jesus' statement in the passage from Matthew, "For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?"

The Discoverer a Woman

Occasionally one hears this question asked, "Why should a woman have been the discoverer of an eternal truth?" The answer is, "The Master has chosen this way to obtain in a book entitled, 'The Life of Mary Baker Eddy,' by Sibel Wilbur. This work is an authentic record of Mrs. Eddy's career, and it may be found in most public libraries and in every Christian Science free reading-room. When you read the Life of Mrs. Eddy, the next infinite practice during the trying and discouraging formative periods in the establishment of the cause of Christian Science, when you read of her persecutions, how she was ridiculed and reviled and urged to drop the "nonsense," as it was called, you will see that the leader of this movement was not a woman, but a woman who had the instinct of the mother who clings to her child when all others forsake it; had to be endowed with the fortitude and faith and perseverance which are the inherent possessions of a spiritually-minded woman!"

I shall not attempt to speak for any man other than myself, but I shall tell you very frankly why I did not discover Christian Science. It was because I did not know enough; was not possessed of sufficient spiritual-mindedness, because I did not search the Scriptures, yearn and pray for light as did this devout woman. In fact, until beginning the study of Christian Science, it was not my habit to indulge in any deep thinking along religious lines. I accepted the inherited doctrinal teachings of my church very much as I accepted my given name and features, with no questioning and little analysis. You have heard probably of the old fisherman who was asked how he passed the time during the long winters when the frozen waters precluded the possibility of plying his trade. "Well," said he, "sometimes we set home and think, and sometimes we just set!" Is it not painfully true that this describes the mental status of many of us as regards the deep things of life? Christian Science bids us awake from this lethargy and accept the divine invitation chronicled in Isaiah, "Come now, and let us reason together, said the Lord."

How To Read Science and Health

On the first page of the Preface of Science and Health we are told that "the time for thinkers has come." And as only those can understand this mighty revelation who think rightly or are willing to be taught so to do, it not infrequently follows that one hears this remark: "I have read Science and Health; in fact I have read it many times, but can get nothing from it." Yes, one might go to the sage-bush deserts of our western country and sow seed and then sow more seed, and never have a flower. If one is wise he will not sow until in some measure he has prepared the soil. There is irrigating to be done and the obstructive sage-bush must be removed. Is it not possible, you who may have read and can find nothing, that your mental areas are cumbered with the stubborn growths of bias and criticism and self-satisfaction, or parched with the unlovely alkali of a purely material viewpoint?

Ruskin gives the following useful hints as to the proper way to arrive at the full meaning of a book: "First, that we should study books: 'First, with a desire to be taught by them, and to enter into their thoughts. To enter into theirs, observe; not to find your own expressed by them. If the person who wrote the book is not wiser than you, you need not read it; if he be, he will talk differently from you in many respects. Very ready we are to say of a book: 'How good this is!' that's exactly what I think." But the right feeling is: 'How strange that is. I never thought of that before, and yet I see it is true; or if I do not now, I hope I shall some day.' But whether you submit or not, at least be sure you go to the author to get at his meaning, not to find yours. Judge it afterwards, if you think yourself qualified to do so, but ascertain it first."

So let us approach this unique volume with an open heart and a sincere desire to be taught. And if we persist in its study, nothing can withhold from us the joy of its message. To analyze or attempt even a résumé of the seventeen chapters of Science and Health would require a period of time far greater than that allotted for this lecture. It is our purpose therefore to consider briefly but a few phases of Mrs. Eddy's discovery, especially those relating to the mission and teachings of Jesus and the possibility of repeating his healing work.

Prayer

The chapter on "Prayer," with which the text-book opens, is to the human mind surcharged with the murkiness of materiality, as a cooling breeze wafting gently away the oppression of a summer's day. Through its pages thought is quietly led from the finite material conception of God, to the apprehension of Him as ever-present Love, as infinite unchanging good, who needs no reminders from frail mortality as to the proper conduct of His universe. True prayer is seen, therefore, not as a petition, nor the effort to change the all-knowing Mind, but as that hungering after righteousness, that "habitual struggle to be always good" (Science and Health, p. 4), which brings human consciousness into relation with the divine and lifts thought to the realization that a loving Father has already done things well.

Atonement and Eucharist

The second chapter of the text-book is entitled Atonement and Eucharist, and in clear, forceful statement deals with the great life-purpose of the Master. It has been said that this chapter may be ranked with the choicest of English prose classics. It breathes a spirit of deepest reverence, and only he who clings to a material viewpoint and avoids the author's uplifted spiritual sense will quarrel with its statements.

The chapter opens with a trumpet-call to thinkers; to those who may be willing, temporarily at least, to put behind them preconceived theological opinions, and to reason. The life and mission of Jesus the Christ are instantly taken from the realm of the supernatural, and are shown to be intensely practical and divinely natural. Hear these clear, intelligible utterances: "Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage. His mission was both individual and universal. His life's work aright not only in justice to himself, but mercy to mortals,—to show them how to do their duty, but not to do it for them nor to relieve them of a single responsibility." "His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, to prove what God is and what He does for man." "The divinity of the Christ was made manifest in the humanity of Jesus" (Science and Health, pp. 18, 26, 25).

Ignorance of Jesus' Mission

Without doubt, the great error of Christian history lies in mankind's ignorance of Jesus' mission. Mrs. Eddy's spiritual interpretation of his words and works reveals him as humanity's Wayshower, teacher and friend, rather than humanity's King. And when the race truly understands and demonstrates the facts involved in this interpretation, wars will be unknown, sin, greed, and hate will vanish from the land, and the prophecy of Isaiah will be fulfilled: "And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick."

The failure of perfunctory religion to measure up to the joyous standard of Jesus' Christianity was never more manifest than in the following incident:

A Christian Science practitioner was endeavoring to awaken to a larger, happier sense of things the bowed-down thought of a wretched man who applied to him for help. The patient claimed to have been a Christian from childhood, but in his misery he could discern not one cheering ray.

"Try to cling to some comforting verse from Scripture," urged his practitioner, "or try to sing some uplifting hymn as you go about your work."

The man left, promising to follow this advice as far as possible. The next day he returned, sank listlessly into a chair, and said: "It's no use. I can find no help. I tried to sing as you suggested, but I found no comfort."

"What did you sing?" asked the other.

"One of our old religious songs," he replied. "The first line reads:

"Hark! from the tombs a doleful sound!"

A lifetime of study of the words and works of Jesus had developed no more helpful inspiration than, "Hark! from the tombs a doleful sound."

Christianity Is Exact Science

Now Mrs. Eddy discovered that the religion taught by Jesus is as exact a science as is the science of numbers; that a Christian should be enabled to overcome sickness, fear, discouragement, poverty, or any other discord, with the same readiness and certainty of correct result that he takes to his problem in mathematics. Thus she has defined Christian Science "as the law of God, the law of good, interpreting and demonstrating the divine Principle and rule of universal harmony" (Rudimental Divine Science, p. 1). And the application of this rule to the problems of everyday life immediately becomes the privilege and duty of the consistent follower of Jesus.

The Mission of the Saviour

A story is told of a shipwrecked sailor who was cast upon a far-off isle inhabited by semisavage tribes. One day he came upon a group of wrangling natives, and, inquiring the cause of the commotion, learned that there was a certain supply of coconuts brought to the island to be equally distributed among these men, and no one could decide as to the number that each should have. The natives naturally coveted the coconuts. He found one hundred, he counted the men. There were 25 of them. Without hesitation he said, "Each will have four as his share." Imagine his surprise when the natives straightway flung themselves at his feet, called him a god, and proceeded to worship him! Try, might he, he could not persuade the simple folk that his instantaneous calculation was the result of an understanding of the principle of mathematics and was in no sense miraculous.

The bewildered and heartless children of men came a Saviour. Understanding the great Principle of being, he solved their problems, bringing instantaneous answers in health and reformation and regeneration. He plainly said that of himself he did not work, and that if they would but understand his mission, and his Principle, they too could solve the problems as did he. But they called him a wonder-worker, worshipped his personality, and crucified him! Mrs. Eddy writes of the world's misunderstanding thus:

"Not the spear nor the material cross wrought from his faithful life the plaintive cry, 'Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?' (My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?)" It was the possible loss of something more important than human life which moved him—the possible misapprehension of the sublime influence of his career" (Science and Health, p. 50).

And the human mind has continued its misapprehension down through the centuries, with the result that we still see thousands professing Christianity and worshipping the personality of Jesus, but following him in practical demonstration of divine power—not at all!

The Sign of a Christian

Do you know that Jesus once pointed out a very simple method of discovering a true Christian? The directions are to be found in the sixteenth chapter of the Gospel of Matthew, immediately the well-known command to "preach the gospel to every creature." His words are:

"And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover."

Christians are we measuring up to this standard? Suppose we are traveling in a distant land, and a would-be convert says to us, "Are you a Christian?" And upon receiving an affirmative reply, suppose he next says: "Oh, how glad I am that you came! I see by your Bible that signs are to follow the true believers. Now I am possessed by a veritable devil. I am in the grip of the opium habit. Do, I beg of you, through your beautiful religion, cast this devil out!" What would we say? Let me tell you what my answer would have been, before studying Christian Science: "Let us not consider that Bible passage just now, my friend. Have you heard of that wonderful new sanitarium, famed for its treatment of the drug and liquor habits? Now you should go there and take that treatment. And while you are there, I'll pray for you!" It is well to remember at this point, however, that the sufferer has not asked for sanitarium treatment, but taking Jesus at his word, has asked one of his professed followers to cast out his "devil" through the understanding of spiritual power. Suppose he then says: "My old mother is very ill. I am so sorry she has not asked for sanitarium treatment, but taking Jesus at his word, can cause her to recover. Is this true? Do you mean to tell me that Christianity is as vital a force as that? Does Christianity preach a God so powerful, so available, that He comes into your daily life, and not only reforms your manners, but heals your sick body? What a wonderful religion! How much better than anything I have! Come, I pray you, and heal her!" What would we now say? Would we suggest a change of doctors, or recommend a new diet or climate—or would we undertake to put our faith to the test? And if by chance we say to this hungering thought: "Ah, my dear sir, that was not meant for our time! The days of healing are past,"—do not be surprised if he closes the Bible and hands it back with this statement: "Very well! I have a religion to die by that is older than yours!"

Christians Must Heal the Sick

A visitor at an insane asylum was once attracted to a man who behind the bars of his room was seen poring over the pages of a small Testament. Seeing the visitor, the patient beckoned him to come nearer. He had chosen the book to the tenth chapter of Matthew, and pointing to the first verse, said, "Read that!" The visitor read:

"And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease."

When he had finished the reading, the inmate caught at his hand. "Send me one of those men! Send me one of those men!" he pleaded. But the attendants smiled, shook their heads (Continued on Page 8.)

and murmured that it was a sad case.

Let each one of us who dares to name the name of Christianity, solemnly ask himself this question: Am I trying to be one of those men? Had I been approached as was this visitor, could I have said to the unfortunate one, "Why, friend, I believe in Christian healing! I am trying to be one of Jesus' disciples,—one of those men,—and the power that banished devils in the days of the Master can free you now!" If we are unable honestly to face the situation thus, let us go forth resolved to sit at the feet of the Christ and meekly learn of that power the possession of which alone entitles us to the sacred name of Christian.

The Power Imparted by Jesus
What was the power which Jesus imparted first to the twelve and later to the seventy disciples? It could not have been a mysterious magnetic current flowing from the personality of Jesus to those about him, as some would aver, for, as has been stated, Jesus insisted that of himself he could do nothing, and that it was the Father dwelling in him that did the works.

Again, in the well-known passage from the fourteenth chapter of John, he states that his mighty works shall be done by those who believe on him, or in other words, those who understand his great mission and the divine Principle thereof. Thus we see that the power given by Jesus to his followers was a spiritual understanding, just as a teacher in school gives his pupils power to solve problems in arithmetic when he shows them the rule and principle basing arithmetic. But apparently no definite rule was left by Jesus whereby this vital teaching was discernible. Here let us offer up psalms of thanksgiving! In this wonderful volume, Science and Health, has been revealed that treasure which to the unenlightened sense remained lost in the pages of the Bible for centuries. And today a Christian is without excuse who, when asked to heal the sick and cast out demons, turns his back and says, "I am not one of those men!"

"The Truth Shall Make You Free"
Jesus said, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." The all-important question, therefore, is: What is truth? What is the truth which Jesus taught, the understanding of which will enable us to reinstate primitive Christianity with signs and with power? Answering this stupendous question, Mrs. Eddy directs thought to the first chapter of Genesis.

The truth revealed in the opening chapter of the Bible, like all great things, is infinitely simple. Herein we see a record of creation depicting successive steps of unfoldment, symbolized by the appearing of light, the heavens, the earth, the growing things upon the earth, the heavenly bodies, the fowl of the air, the fish of the sea, the creatures that move upon the earth, and lastly, the highest creation, man. He is made in the image and likeness of God and is given dominion over all the earth. At the close of each step in the progression we read: "And God saw that it was good." Then at the conclusion of the chapter appears the mighty statement: "And the earth was very good." And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good." The second chapter opens with this statement: "Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them." Could words be more plain? Creation is finished, and it is good, yes, every good. No evil has been created, sickness, sin, or death. Do you realize, also, that the man mentioned in the first chapter, is not made of the dust of the ground, but in the image and likeness of God? In other words, he is made God-like, and as God is Spirit, the man of His creating must be spiritual and holy" (Science and Health p. 476).

Remarkable Discovery of Christian Science

Now comes the remarkable and revolutionary discovery of Christian Science. The second chapter of Genesis, containing the Adam and Eve narrative, is seen to be a new and different record of creation, separate and distinct from that covered in the preceding chapter. Heretofore religionists have regarded the record of the creation of Adam from the dust and of Eve from Adam's side, as an amplification of that statement in the first chapter: "So God created man in his own image." But revelation plainly shows the error of this. To begin with, the two records are distinctly separate documents, called the Elohist and the Jehovistic, because in the first chapter the creator is called Elohim, God, and in the second, Jehovah, or Lord God, the Jewish tribal name for Deity.

The first record is positively closed. God's work is done. His creation is good, and eternal harmony reigns. Do we find that God ever changed His perfect handiwork? Is there any record of His having created evil? No. Then whence came the evil, the sickness, and the sorrow, the discord, and imperfection, which are visible on all sides? The sixth verse of the second chapter solves the problem. We read: "But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground."

The Mist
What does a mist do? Does it destroy, or demolish, or does it only obscure? Is it not possible then that the universe today is as perfect as when all was primeval harmony and that its perfection is hid from our gaze by reason of some obscuring sense—some "Mystification" as Science and Health puts it? Material man with his sinful tendencies comes not upon the scene until the mist appears. It follows, therefore, that the evils and inharmonies which cannot belong to the kingdom of good must be the product of the realm of mystification. Now mystification is ever the polar opposite of understanding. Is it not mystified man a man who does not understand? Therefore mystification means just this: Ignorance of God, Spirit; ignorance of the spiritual facts of being; ignorance of God's perfect, beautiful harmonious creation, ignorance—ignorance—this then is the mist that seems to go up from the earth and hide from our sight the man and universe made and seen by God. And from this ignorance of God came the Adam-man and the Eve-woman—came this material sense of creation which reports man as material, as sinning sick and dying, and the universe as physical, discordant and destructible.

As has been stated, the mission of Jesus was to reveal the understanding of man's spiritual being. In other words, he came to save humanity from this Adam or material sense of creation by revealing the spiritual truth of being. Constantly did he teach his followers to look away from the world, from material sense, and to lay hold upon the things of Spirit. His teachings show unmistakably that the first chapter of Genesis and not the second, contains the truth of being and brings to light the spiritual real man of God's creating. As Paul clearly states, "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

"Ye Must Be Born Again"

One of the first of Jesus' teachings was this: "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." Can there be an atom of doubt as to the meaning of this passage? If the material, the Adam-sense of things, constitutes God's creation, why should the Master have declared that in order to see this creation, or kingdom, a man must be born again—in other words, must gain a radically different point of view?

Paul makes it plain that this material, fleshly sense of things is not of God's creating, when he writes in Romans: "They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God." And Jesus drives home this fact with even greater clearness when he says, speaking of material man, "Ye that are of the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do."

Evil Not Power

Now we have learned that the Adam-view, or material concept, is a product of the mist, or mystification which ever goes up from the earth, from material premises, and we have further endeavored to show the mist to be synonymous with ignorance. Thus we arrive at another discovery teeming with good for the blind and fettered of earth. The devil—that terrifying element of the whole world's religious belief, that monstrous figment of the false teaching of the ages, against whose seeming power the sons of men have vainly battled, and which apparently has been able to outwit even the Most High—this devil is ignorance, nothing more! Is ignorance a great forbidding monstrosity, with horns, hoofs, and a spear? Is it a mighty presence, an entity which has being and action and power? Or is it only an absence—the absence of knowledge? What peace may be ours when we banish the belief that there is power in evil! With what courage can we face our problems when we realize that no subtle, destructive force is pitted against us, and that the only power evil can seem to have is that which we ourselves bestow upon it. This truth is stated with great clearness in a letter which Mrs. Eddy once wrote to a friend, which was quoted in The Christian Science Journal of August, 1912, in an article entitled "No Evil Power."

"Did you but know the sublimity of your hope; the infinite capacity of your being; the grandeur of your outlook, you would let error kill itself. Error comes to you for life, and you give it all the life it has."

How Jesus Healed the Sick
We are now ready to consider one of the most important paragraphs in Science and Health, for it may be said to contain the "pearl of great price." It tells us in the simplest of words how Jesus healed the sick.

"Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick. Thus Jesus taught that the kingdom of God is intact, universal, and that man is pure and holy" (Science and Health p. 476).

This then must have been the understanding which Jesus imparted to his disciples, which enabled them to duplicate his wonderful healing work. This is the understanding which today is enabling Christian Scientists to convert the material, the unreal, and to rescue the unfortunate in bondage thereto.

Looking Beyond Sense-Testimony

At this point some of you may ask, "Does this mean that I must look beyond that which I see with my eyes and hear with my ears, if I would find the truth of being?" It means just that! And should we not rejoice in such a revelation? If the five material senses report the actual truth of being, there is no good or just God, no law nor Principle in the universe. Look about you. What do you see? On all sides are evidences of injustice, lawlessness, disease, disturbances of nature, poverty and death—a sorry picture indeed, and very far from that creation which was pronounced by its Creator "very good." Do we want these evils to constitute the truth of being? If you find yourself in the throes of a nightmare, what greater joy and peace can come than the awakening consciousness that after all it was only a dream!

Was ever a message more vital to a stricken individual, nation, or race than the understanding brought by Christian Science, that materiality with its host of discords and ills is but another name for the Adam-dream and that it is possible for humanity to awaken therefrom? For we may waken from a dream, but we can never waken from a fact! The night of materialism has seemed long, and the sleep has seemed deep and troubled; but thanks be to God, we are slowly awakening! At least the dream is losing for us its terror, and the vision of Truth cheerily bidding us to be not afraid, and to judge not according to the appearance, we are enabled more and more to look past the shadows, past the seeming, to the kingdom of Mind, where all is harmony and all is law. You are not asked to take the word of Christian Scientists for all this. You are urged rather to take the textbook, study it with open heart and teachable thought, and prove for yourself the truth of these statements.

Evil Unreal

The following illustration may help to throw more light on the Christian Scientist's attitude toward sin and disease, and while a member of an orthodox. Before studying Christian Science church, I was asked by a friend to "use my religion" as he expressed it, in the effort to reclaim a brother seemingly enslaved to drink. I accepted the commission and proceeded to "use my religion." I found my subject in a most repentant mood, and he agreed almost tearfully with my ringing condemnation of his evil way. I asked him if he did not realize the depth to which he had fallen, how wicked he was, and how terrible was that evil power to which he had submitted. Yes, he realized it all, but evil had been made so real and so powerful to him that even the hope of divine deliverance, with which I finally endeavored to inspire him, was of no avail, and he sank even deeper in the mire of sin.

Let us now consider another picture: A slave to false appetite is brought to one endeavoring to be a scientific Christian, or a Christian Scientist. The Scientist sees before him no bad man, no perpetrator of sin, but a victim of sin. He sees before him the fleshly appearance of the man of God's creating, who is not a sinner, who has no pleasure in sin and no sinful desires, but who is eternally pure and free. He therefore bids the sufferer to awaken from this materialism. He shows him that the bondage which to him has seemed real and powerful, is a lie; for, as Jesus said, there is no truth in the devil, or evil; and he is assured that God has given man dominion over all error. And in thousands upon thousands of cases where these good things have been preached, have the victims of wrong desire risen in the glory of a new-found manhood. And through the same process, in numberless instances, has the sick man been awakened from his nightmare of invalidism and pain.

God's Word Never Fails

"But," say you, "Christian Science treatment does not always effectual." Ah, but it is, it is! Christian Science treatment consists of thinking God's thoughts, seeing creation as God sees it; and a God-invested thought never fails! Suppose you are confronted with the task of breaking a great rock. You seize a hammer and vigorously start your work. Blow after blow is redoubled, you note with some discouragement that even the surface of the rock has not been cracked. A friend comes to your assistance. He hammers steadily, but apparently makes no headway. Again you are led to resume the work, and keeping steadily at it you at last see a crack running to small pieces. Which blow did it? The last? No, every one of them did the work. Not one was wasted, not one failed.

The work of Christian Science is the work of eternity. It is spiritual education. During this process of education some students pass from our sight. Did God's word fail? Were the blows of truth on the rock of error in vain? No, a thousand times no! Ask those who fought side by side with them in the battle. They will tell you of the victories won, of the peace realized, of the pain subdued, and of the attainment of that spiritual vision of life eternal which enabled them all to say, "O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?" Mrs. Eddy writes in "Science and Health" (p. 348):

"I have never supposed the world would immediately witness the full fruitage of Christian Science, or that sin, disease, and death would not be believed for an indefinite time; but this I do aver, that, as a result of teaching Christian Science, ethics and temperance have received an impulse, health has been restored, and longevity increased. If such are the present fruits, what will the harvest be, when this Science is more generally understood?"

The Reward of Patient Persistence
Some one may say: "I have worked and studied, but my healing seems so slow." Yes, some rocks are harder to break than others, and much patience and perseverance are necessary in the majority of cases in order to win the day. But oh, my friends, what dividends are paid in return for an earnest, patient seeking after Truth! How self is subdued and universal love enthroned! How much purer becomes desire, how much clearer the goal of spiritual sense! Let us not be weary in well-doing," exclaimed the Apostle Paul. "For in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."

Let us attack our problems each day as though we had never seen them before, putting behind us the memories of yesterday's struggle. Let us realize that as our understanding of Science grows, we are able to think to evil with more and more authority, and consequently day by day are being equipped to be more efficient Christian warriors. Let us claim the joy and peace which is your heritage and mine, today and here and now! Let us not be unmindful of the stupendous fact that Christian Science, in teaching the divinity of the Christ, teaches the divinity of man! "Beloved, now are we the sons of God."

You who are bowed down with sorrow or disease, with failure, poverty or sin, take away with you tonight this message: You are God's beloved child! You have dominion over evil! You are not a member of the material sinning race of Adam, with its condemnation, its curse and its laws! You have been victimized by the lying arguments of the carnal mind, by the false education of generations; for your heavenly Father beholds His children now as free, as harmonious stars sang together and all the sons of God shouted for joy!"

The Christian Scientist A Patriot
Thus the man who has felt the healing, liberating touch of Truth as taught in Christian Science is sure to feel an ever-increasing sense of gratitude for and loyalty to this great Nation. For because of the freedom guaranteed by its Constitution, the birth and development of this mighty cause were made possible. In fact, the very coming of Christian Science, which proclaims man's birthright of freedom and dominion, was fore-shadowed in that great Declaration against tyranny, the Declaration of Independence, when it was written:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." And it seems especially fitting that I should read tonight words penned by our revered Leader nearly twenty years ago, when the United States was at war with Spain—words which have a peculiar prophetic significance for the troublous times in which we live:

"In reply to your question, 'Should difficulties between the United States and Spain be settled peacefully by statesmanship and diplomacy, in a way honorable and satisfactory to both nations?' I will say I can see no other way of settling difficulties between individuals and nations than by means of their wholesome tribunals, equitable laws, and sound, well-kept treaties. . . . But if our nation's rights or honor were seized, every citizen would be a soldier and woman would be armed with power for the hour."

"To coincide with God's government is the proper incentive to the action of all nations. If His purpose for peace is to be subserved by the battle's plan or by the intervention of the United States, so that the Cubans may learn to make war no more, this means an end will be accomplished."

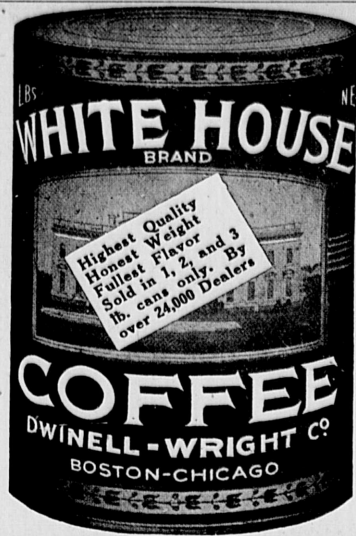

Here then the benediction with which she concludes—this great statement of truth which is for the "healing of the nations":

"The government of divine Love is supreme. Love rules the universe, and its edict hath gone forth: 'Thou shalt have no other gods before me,' and 'Love thy neighbor as thyself.' Let us have the molecule of faith that removes mountains,—faith armed with the understanding of Love, as in divine Science, where right reigneth. The revered President and Congress of our favored land are in God's hands." (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, pp. 277-278).

So the whole message of Christian Science, its message to this sad world, to you and to me, may be summed up in these two verses from our hymnal:

God made all His creatures free;
Life itself is liberty;
God ordained no other bands
Than united hearts and hands.

So shall all our slavery cease,
All God's children dwell in peace,
And the new-born earth record
Love and Love alone, is Lord.
(Christian Science Hymnal, p. 159).

"AMERICAN DEMOCRACY AND WORLD POLITICS"

the people. The Prussian idea is that the State is supreme and individuals must exert themselves for the State.
The State must have power. The State can do no wrong. The State is power.

Since 1850 there has not been the slightest modification in point of view of Prussia and in such a way the King of Prussia has been in control of the German Empire. This conception of State is for the people without their control.

There are two conceptions of the State which have been slowly spreading over the world until now there are practically no other conceptions.
One, where each individual has a share in the Government and the other where the individual has no share. Of course to the German mind the United States is not a Nation. American people are not a nation they are just an aggregation of people living together on a territory. The Kaiser had spokesmen all over America and he had representatives in many Universities. Deliberate purpose was taken to develop sentiment of hostility. In the first place in order to be a naturalized citizen of Germany, a German did not have to go to Germany to be naturalized. When a German was swearing to be a citizen of the United States he might still maintain his citizenship in Germany which was a complete violation of our conception of democracy.

A very distinguished German said recently that the United States could not go to war with Germany because if we went to war with Germany seventeen million Germans would withdraw their deposits from the banks and go to Mexico and go to war with the United States. That was their expectation for the purpose of destroying the United States Democracy. The United States Democracy is not international to the Prussian conception of a State, and therefore it has no rights of a Nation, and so in the last three years they have been treating us as if we had no sovereignty.

We turned one cheek, then the other cheek and then all the cheeks we had and then we suddenly said to ourselves,
"We are at war." And war had been going on for months, American ships had been sunk and American citizens insulted for months before that time and yet there are some people who ask, "Why are we at war?" I think that the people who ask that are either insane or Pro-German.

The Germans when they are in difficulty and things go wrong they blame it on the Jews. The Anglo-Saxon when they get success, they grumble.
Our attitude has been much the same,
we have looked down on our nation and I defy you to find more reckless criticism than our Government has received. We are not at all backward in giving it. We have not figured our growth in purely money.

It has been characteristic of the United States to pay indemnity for victories. Twenty years ago we had a War with Spain born partly of agitation and partly of a human desire to help Cuba get back to itself. When it found it couldn't get along in its new clothes we sent a force over there to help them start up house-keeping and then gave Cuba back to itself.
We went to the Philippines and after we had captured them we paid Spain twenty million dollars for the pleasure of getting it. We have treated weak nations as if they had rights. In 1898

there was a fearful time in China.
That was the time of the Boxer Rebellion, and we sent troops to China.
The indemnity was five hundred million dollars and our share in the indemnities was twenty million dollars.
We notified China we would not take our share so China voted to use it in sending young Chinese men to America to be educated.

In 1868 when Japan was struggling up into constitutional life, when they went to war we thought it necessary to join. We didn't have any navy of our own so we hired a Dutch gun-boat.
When the war was over there was the demand for indemnity. Our share was eighteen thousand dollars which was put in the United States treasury.
American democracy does not digest indemnity. Fifteen years later we paid back the indemnity with interest to Japan.

Germany does not want international arbitration. Germany prevented the Hague Conference from doing what we hoped it would do. These two great points of American history have meant so much to the United States, a Democracy in which citizenship shall be wrought into the State and the righteousness of arbitration, the violation of which means war. We do not go to war with Germany because we are a Nation against a power that has violated our sovereignty wherever it dared, and has organized itself to bring England and the world under its control. A nation that has built itself by war and looks upon war as a means to control the world and the nation. Some of these people were brought up in a State where the policeman is the supreme power of immediate authority and bound together as citizens with the rights of citizens, this endeavor is too precious to be a failure.

We fought the War of 1776 as a War of Independence we fought the War of 1861 for the right to declare ourselves as a Nation. We are fighting this war as a war of international independence where the individual shall be protected and the rights of the Government for the people and by the people shall not perish from the earth.

QUESTIONS.

Q. What can you say as to Scandinavia in regard to Germany?

A. I suppose they do not want to get into the War. If I were a Swede or a Dane I should not want to.

Q. How do you think Great Britain is to the smaller nations?

A. Great Britain is in many ways the most marvelous nation in political capacity that the world ever saw. It is very difficult to point to any small nation that it ever oppressed or crushed. You think of Ireland, but I wonder if you know that the people are holding a convention to see if the Irish people themselves can find a form of Government they can agree upon so that they will not fall into the hands of the Germans. In the matter of income you would call India a small nation. You will see the chance for progress and for education England is giving India and they are giving India self Government.

Great Britain can hardly be called oppressing India. In the case of Egypt, well, it is so complicated that you could not say. No one would say that Great Britain has oppressed it.
The real significance of Great Britain is not to be seen in these few instances.
You cannot say England has crushed any of these mentioned. It is simply engaged in a new type of Nation Building. I ask you to simply recall Canada, for example, there is a nation in the making and if I were not an American I think I almost would choose to be a Canadian. To think of a Nation with hardly more people than are in Greater New York and yet they sent five hundred thousand people as volunteers to a War against the Q. Do you think the Mutiny of the German Navy was a sign of discontent?

A. I do not trust them.

Q. Is the Japanese conception that the Emperor descended from a God
the same as the Prussian?

A. I do not recall ever having heard that the Kaiser claimed to be descended from a God. But the question of the Japanese constitution is exceedingly interesting but one must be an authority or an expert. One thing, I did not say Japan was Democratic. I said it was a constitutional monarch. The Japanese constitution is one of the most remarkable constitutions ever had. The Japanese Government is so constantly shifted.
When you remember that fifty years ago Japan did not have any constitution and that sixty years ago it was sealed against all Western ideas.

AN OUNCE OF MEAT

An ounce of edible meat—lean meat, fat and lean, suet or fat trimmed from steak, chop, or roast—seems hardly worth saving.

Many households take just this view of the matter—do not trouble to put such an insignificant scrap into the ice box or soup pot—do not bother to save for cookery a spoonful or two of drippings or a tiny bit of suet or fat.

Yet if every one of our 20,000,000
American families on the average wastes each day only 1 ounce of edible meat or fat, it means a daily waste of 1,250,000 pounds of animal food—456-000,000 pounds of valuable animal food a year.

At average dressed weights, it would take the gross weight of over 875,000 steers, or over 3,000,000 hogs—bones and all—to provide this weight of meat or fat for each garbage pail or kitchen sink. If the bones and butcher's waste are eliminated, these figures would be increased to 1,150,000 cattle and 3-700,000 hogs.

Or, again, if the waste were distributed according to the per capita consumption of the various meats (excluding bones), it would save up a considered herd of over 538,000 beef animals, 291,000 calves, over 625,000 sheep and lambs, and over 2,132,000 hogs.
Millions of tons of feed and hay, the grass from vast pastures, and the labor of armies of cattle-men and butchers also would be scrapped by this meat-waste route.

"FOR OUR OWN SOLDIERS"

William Firth of Chestnut Hill, cooperating with his daughter, Mrs.
Richard Haworth of Manchester, Eng., has done much to relieve the sufferings of Belgian refugees, since the war began, and now he is planning to help American soldiers in England.

Mrs. Haworth writes in part as follows—"I propose to get funds to start an 'American Soldiers' and Sailors' Club—get rooms somewhere central in Manchester, and fit them up with a reading and writing room—a place where they could get tea, coffee, cakes, etc., and if possible could have a billiard table."

"It would be somewhere for the men to go when they are allowed out of the hospitals. They could meet each other, and would be kept off the streets. There is a Khaki Club but it is absolutely overcrowded already. It was built for about 200, and over 500 are sleeping there every night. This is for all soldiers—Home and Colonial —but the one I speak of would be just for our American boys. I have talked with several doctors and officers, and they say it will be a blessing for them as well as the men, for they could often let a man go out for an hour or two if they knew where he was going.
I understand there is a big club in London, but then there are a lot of wealthy Americans there, and, although Manchester is the second largest receiving station for the wounded, we can only muster about fifteen American ladies, and none of them very wealthy, but good workers and want to assist me on these lines.

Mr. Firth says, supplementing his daughter's letter, "I am certainly going to do something to assist our own men," and he asks for subscriptions from those who are disposed to help him in this work. Checks may be sent to Mr. Firth's office, 200 Devonshire street, Boston.

POLICE COURT

For helping himself to the products of a neighbor's "war garden," Tony Salvucci, 24, of Lincoln road, Nonantum, paid a fine of $5 Monday morning. The garden is on Leonardo Castagina's land, on Watertown street, and policemen Perry and Meehan saw Salvucci leaving the place with a bag of vegetables.

A quarrel that resulted, according to testimony, over a board bill and consequent seizure of the debtor's clothing, brought Mrs. M. Greenwood of Harding street, West Newton, into court Monday, charged with assault on Mary Gay of Newton Highlands, who formerly roomed in the Greenwood home. Associate Justice Copeland imposed a fine of $5 and then suspended the sentence for a month.

Following a collision between an automobile and a Middlesex & Boston street car, at Watertown and Walnut streets, Newtonville, early Tuesday, James Lawler of 214 California street, Nantuxet, and Frank A. Halfrey of 70 Park street, in the same district, were arrested. Lawler was charged with driving the automobile while under the influence of liquor and Hal-frey was booked charged with drunkenness. The automobile was wrecked.
In court Judge Bacon fined Halfrey $15 and then suspended the sentence until Feb. 16. Lawler was sentenced to the House of Correction for three months and appealed, bonds being placed at $500.

John F. Whitney of Hobart road, Newton Center, was in court Tuesday morning on charges of driving an automobile in a manner that endangered the public and operating a machine which under the influence of liquor.
He asked for a continuance which was granted until Oct. 26. On Oct. 6 his car came into collision on Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, with one driven by Theodore H. Dolliver of Waltham, badly damaging the Dolliver machine and causing serious injuries to Mrs. Dolliver and Mrs. Prudence Littlewood, who was also in the Dolliver car.

N. H. S. WINS

The football eleven had an easy victory last Friday over Huntington School, at a game played on Clafin
Field, the score being 27 to 6.

One of the features was a 90-yard run by the star player, who made a kickoff at the start of the second half, going through the entire Newton High eleven.

Capt. Henry Garrity of Newton suffered another injury to his ankle, and may be out for a week. Doherty at right end and Chapman played well for Newton.

Newton beat Somerville on Wednesday afternoon on Clafin Field after a hard fought contest, by the score of 6 to 0.

The only touchdown of the game was practically a gift. It came in the fourth period when Treat, the Somerville center, made a bad pass over the kicker's head. It gave the ball to Newton, who scored on the fourth down.

In the first period Newton was set back 15 yards, one of its players cutting down a player from behind after the whistle sounded. Somerville also received a penalty of 15 yards for tripping.

In the fourth period, when Newton was punting, the ball was kicked, Somerville finally had the ball on its own 28-yard line for a fourth down, when Treat made his high pass over Cunniff's head. Before the latter could break away the Newton forwards were on top of him. That gave Newton the ball on Somerville's 14-yard line for first down.

The goal line was crossed on three successive plays, with Capt. Henry Garrity carrying the ball. The punt out for a try at goal was successful, but the kick went wide of its mark.

The results of the senior elections are, Allan Davidson, president; Eunice Leonard, vice-president; Clark Macomber, secretary; and Frederick Howell, treasurer. This is Davidson's third successive year as president of his class.

At a meeting Tuesday morning the junior class made nominations for class officers. Austin Eaton, captain of the hockey team, and Merrill Nutting were nominated for president.

Next Thursday afternoon the first dance of the school year will be held in the gymnasium for the benefit of the junior red cross unit now being formed.

The girls hockey team has elected Priscilla Clark, captain, and Helen Schermerhorn, manager.

Wednesday morning the three upper classes met in the assembly hall and were addressed by the Rev. Warren P. Landers of the Massachusetts Total Abstinence Society. Mr. Landers, a very enthusiastic and forceful speaker pointed out why most of the nations engaged in the war have prohibited the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors. He backed all his arguments up with facts and introduced a great deal of fun into his address. The students were much impressed with his speech and he was enthusiastically applauded.

The high schools have responded very generously to the call for aid for the Red Cross, the classical school alone contributing $369. Every Tuesday and Thursday, squads of boys and girls are now engaged in making trench candles, collecting paper clippings for scrap books and knitting sweaters and various other articles.

AYERS-FLANDERS

Miss Gladys Flanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Melville Flanders of Newton Centre, was married on Monday evening to Mr. William Farleton Ayers of Toledo, O. The ceremony, which was performed by Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, took place in the Newton Centre M. E. Church. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, had for attendants her sister, Miss Kathryn Flanders, as maid of honor, and as bridesmaids Misses Maida and Marguerite Flanders, also sisters of the bride, Miss Marion Lord, Miss Katharine Pratt and Miss Margaret Wilkins, all of Newton, with Miss Louise Wilby of Cincinnati, O. The best man was Mr. Augustine Ayers of Cleveland, brother of the bridegroom, and the ushers were James M. Acklin, C. Colby Hade of Toledo, Thomas McG. Leaver of Chicago, Alvan R. Flanders and W. R. Dewey, Jr., of Newton, with Gardner G. Stevens of Boston. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The occasion was doubly interesting, as it marked the wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flanders, who were the recipients of many flowers. After a wedding journey Mr. Ayers and his bride will live in Toledo.

PUBLIC SAFETY NOTES

Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell has charge of the work of providing 138 sweaters and 138 socks for the use of Co. C 101st regiment now in France.

Mr. Alfred McDonald, secretary of the committee on Public Safety makes a weekly trip to the camp at Ayer on Thursdays, and will carry small parcels to any of the Newton men at that place.

The Committee on Public Safety has a committee to make regular visits to the camp of Co. C 5th Regiment at Framingham.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Committee on Public Safety is busy entertaining in making jam to be sent to the boys in France.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

Last evening was a special guest night with tournaments arranged in pool, bowling and bridge. At the opening of the Newton Bowling League on Wednesday evening, the club team was beaten two out of three by Northgate.

be given wool and needles. If the Red Cross had more money with which to buy needles and wool it could set more children at work. The more money the Red Cross has in its Wool Fund the more work it can do and all are once more reminded that contributions for the Wool Fund will be gratefully received by Mr. George Royal Pulsifer, Treasurer of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross, Newtonville. For the Children's Afternoon several people have sent to the Work Room illustrated magazines for use in making scrap books. More of these magazines could be used and there is also a constant call for pieces of cretonne and particularly for old cotton and linen cloths.

Mrs. Starkweather besides her work at the Red Cross Wool Room in Temple Hall has agreed to start the High School Red Cross workers in making surgical dressings and bandages. This work will add two more busy afternoons to the time she gives to the Red Cross every week.

A French woman who has in France a sister, who is the mother of two little girls and the wife of a man who is fighting under the French colors, is desirous of doing all she can to help her sister and nieces and asks the Newton Branch of the Red Cross to let women who have French "God-sons" among the soldiers of France know that she will be very glad to write letters in French or translate those which may be received for a small fee. Any who wish to avail themselves of her services will be placed in communication with her if they will apply at the Headquarters of the Newton Red Cross for her name and address.

WHITE-STUART

The wedding of Miss Sara Marguerite Stuart, of Boyd street, the daughter of Mr. Albert T. Stuart and Mr. Clifford S. White of Hawthorne street, took place last Sunday evening at the Church of Our Lady, the ceremony being performed at 7.30 o'clock by Rev. James F. Kelly.

The bride was gown in white satin trimmed with Duchesse lace and orange blossoms, her veil was trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Mary C. Stuart, her sister, was maid of honor and was in white satin trimmed with light blue Georgette. She wore a picture hat faced with light blue and carried a bouquet of Jack roses.

Mr. Albert White, brother of the groom, was the best man. Reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride on Boyd street, Mr. and Mrs. White being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. Albert T. Stuart, Mrs. Mary Dunne, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Simon A. White.

Mr. and Mrs. White were the recipients of numerous and beautiful gifts including a chest of silver from the bride's father.

After a wedding trip to the White Mountains and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. White will reside at 478 California street, Newtonville, where they will be at home after December 1st.

NEW RECTOR

Rev. Percival M. Wood Takes Charge of the Church of the Messiah at Auburndale

Rev. Percival M. Wood, who was recently chosen as rector of the Church of the Messiah, was born in Brooklyn, New York in 1875 and received his early education at Huntington, New York. He studied at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., and graduated in 1897, and then entered the General Theological Seminary in New York city, graduating in 1900 and later receiving the degree of B. D.

Mr. Wood has held pastorates in New Jersey and Colorado serving for a time in the city of Denver and then going to Delta in western Colorado, as a missionary under the late Bishop Franklin S. Spaulding.

For the past eight years he has been rector of St. Barnabas' church at Berlin, a manufacturing city of 15,000 inhabitants, in northern New Hampshire. In this city he was prominently identified with public affairs, serving for five years as chairman of Public Improvements Committee, in the Berlin Board of Trade and when the city later re-organized its Board of Trade as a Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Wood was appointed on the Managing Committee of the Civic Bureau. He was for several years, interested in the Social Service work of the Diocese of New Hampshire, being a member of the Social Service Commission, and part of the time its chairman.

REV. PERCIVAL M. WOOD Rector of Church of the Messiah at Auburndale.

In a recent issue of "The Churchman", one of the general periodicals of the Episcopal Church published in New York, appears this note of Mr. Wood's change of pastorate:

"After eight years of faithful and fruitful service at St. Barnabas' church, Berlin, N. H. the Rev. Percival M. Wood has resigned and on September 1, will take up his duties as rector of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale and West Newton, Mass."

A reception was given Mr. and Mrs. Wood on July 30 by the Vestry at which speeches of appreciation were made by the Mayor and other citizens. In which Mr. Wood's notable public service was referred to, special emphasis being laid on his activities in regard to the establishment of the Chamber of Commerce and his effective work as chairman of the Committee on membership of the Red Cross.

Mr. Wood found St. Barnabas a Mission and left it a flourishing parish. In the diocese, Mr. Wood's activity in social service and in the Board of Missions will be missed.

POLICE NOTES

Charged with operating an automobile in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public, Patrick J. Colgan of Newton Centre, was sentenced in the local court yesterday to the House of Correction for a year. Colgan appealed, and bonds were placed at $1000. On a charge of manslaughter Judge Bacon found no probable cause and ordered Colgan discharged.

The court proceedings were the outcome of a motor accident that caused the death, on the night of Aug. 31, of Prince Hawes of Beacon street, Back Bay, Boston.

DEATH OF MRS. ROGERS

Mrs. Helen Whitman Rogers, widow of the late William A. Rogers, passed away October 17th, after an illness of about 5 weeks. The deceased was 76 years of age and had resided in Newton Centre for several years.

She is survived by two daughters, Miss Grace L. Rogers and Mrs. Harry E. Clifford of Newton Centre.

The funeral was held this afternoon at Mt. Hope Chapel, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D. D., pastor of Trinity Church of which Mrs. Rogers was a member, conducted the service at 2.30.

The burial was in the family lot in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

DEATH OF MR. BARRY

Mr. John Lincoln Barry, a resident of Newton Centre for the past seven years, died last week Thursday at his home on Ward street. Mr. Barry was born in Boston and was 55 years of age and was engaged in business in Boston as a shoe manufacturer. He was a member of Trinity Parish and is survived by a widow, two sons, Messrs. Edward and John L. Barry, Jr., and one daughter, Miss Margaret Barry. Funeral services were held from Trinity Church on Saturday afternoon, Rev. E. T. Sullivan, the rector officiating, and the interment was at Mt. Hope Cemetery.

AUBURNDALE REAL ESTATE

DEATH OF MRS. DIMOND

Mrs. Susan M. Dimond, the widow of the late Henry C. Dimond, died last Sunday at the home of her nephew, Mr. Henry D. Gardner on Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, at the age of 80 years. Mrs. Dimond lived for many years in Brookline, but has been a resident of this city for the past twenty years. She was prominent in club life and in charitable work both in Newton Highlands and Brookline. She is survived by no immediate relatives, except a brother, Mr. Edward Gardner, her nephew, Mr. H. D. Gardner and a niece, Mrs. French.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at her late home on Lake avenue, and there was a large attendance of friends. Rev. Dr. Conklin of Brookline officiated and there was singing by a male quartet. The interment was at Mt. Hope Cemetery.

TWO MEN HURT

Two men were seriously injured and another shaken up, when a staging in the new garage now building at the corner of Washington and Thornton streets, gave way on Wednesday morning. The men fell a distance of eleven feet. Michael Coyne of Roxbury being hurt on the head and sprained his ankle, and Albert Boudroux of Somerville fracturing a rib. The men were attended by Dr. Gallagher and taken home by him. The staging was supported by a piece of timber four by six inches, and on the day previous had held seven men at one time and the reason for its breaking is quite a mystery.

WALNUT STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Rounding of Corners in Newtonville Vigorously Opposed by Influential Citizens. Little Objection to Curbing.

Newtonville residents occupied the entire stage at the meeting of the aldermen on Monday evening, taking both sides of the proposition for curbing at the corners of all the streets on the east side of Walnut street between the square and Cabot street, and on the taking of land for the widening of the corners of Cabot street and Otis street.

The matter of curbing was first taken up, and Mr. John H. Eddy spoke briefly in favor of having the work done. Mr. Curtis Abbott was evidently opposed to the work, but his voice was in such condition that little he said could be understood. Mrs. Agnes W. Douglas also spoke in opposition. The real fireworks began, however, on the proposition that the southerly corner of Otis street and the northerly corner of Cabot street should be widened, on the theory that to do so would tend to make Cabot and Otis streets more of a thoroughfare for traffic than at the present time. Mr. Albert M. Lyon spoke in favor and the opposition was led by Mr. A. B. Quimby and included Mr. W. P. Barker, representing the Christian Science Church, and Messrs J. Aug. Remington, Chas. F. Cheney, Warren F. Gregory, J. F. Park, Robert Douglass, Dr. P. B. Howard, A. M. Miner Jr., A. W. Voss, D. S. Shaw, J. A. Stafford, J. G. Thompson, while Mrs. Hazelton, S. E. Horton, and W. W. Blair gave their names as opposed to the plan. The Planning Board and Mr. Edward F. Woods also sent written protests to the plan. At the request of the speakers, the spectators present were asked to express an opinion on both matters, the vote standing 10 to 0 in favor of the curbing and 10 to 1 in opposition to the widening of the corners.

At the hearing on an Edison pole on Homer street, Mr. John Murphy appeared in opposition and was followed by the representative of the Edison Co. who stated that as Mr. Murphy had ordered the company's wires off his premises, this pole was absolutely necessary.

At the hearing on laying out of Westbourne road, Henry C. Earle, Almon Fales, Annie J. O'Brien, R. J. Hemenway and Sarah A. Roberts appeared in favor.

Mayor Childs sent in requests of the school department for about $100 additional for coal and that sum was subsequently appropriated. The Mayor also sent in a suggestion that it might be advisable to have the school houses wired for electric lighting, and he approved the requests of the Library trustees that $500 was needed for coal.

Mr. Ludwig Gerhardt, president of the Chestnut Hill association sent in a petition that the fare limit of the Boston Elevated Company be changed to the corner of Walnut street and Commonwealth avenue.

A petition of Geo. E. Nichols for 2 pool tables at Newtonville was granted at the request of Alderman Price.

Petitions for various private garages, for Edison attachments on Homer street, and of E. F. Cummings for appointment of assessments on Avalon road, were granted. Petitions were also received for sewers in Pilgrim road and Waban avenue, and of the M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. for attachments on Pine street.

FIRST FIELD DAY

Newton Constabulary Makes Excellent Appearance at Riverside

The first Field Day of the Newton Constabulary held last Saturday at the Riverside Recreation Grounds was a great success. Seven of the eight units in the city were represented by about 300 men, the recently organized Chestnut Hill company being the only unit absent.

Guard mount was held at 8.30 in the morning, and was followed by company drill until the mess call blew at twelve o'clock. After a substantial meal, the guard mount drill was repeated and was followed by battalion drills, with Capt. James R. Chandler of Waban and Capt. Philip L. Brown of Newton Highlands, acting as majors.

The Newton Centre Unit then gave an interesting exhibition of a riot drill.

At 3.30 o'clock, Lieut. Gov. Calvin Coolidge was received and with Mayor Edwin O. Childs and several aldermen as members of his staff, reviewed the Constabulary, which were drawn up in two battalions. This was followed by the always impressive and beautiful ceremony of evening parade, after which the companies were dismissed.

The Constabulary band added greatly to the interest of the day.

General James G. White, as Chief of the Constabulary, was greatly pleased at the work of the men on the first Field Day, and expects to arrange for similar occasions in the future.

The captains of the various units and the number of men turned out by each were as follows:

Newton, Capt. E. O. Gruener, 18 men
Newtonville, Capt. H. Belden Sly, 52 men

West Newton, Capt. Clinton L. Eddy, 39 men

Aurndale, Capt. Lowell D. MacNutt, 45 men

Waban, Capt. Creed Fulton, 61 men
Newton Highlands, Capt. John E. Mason, 60 men

Newton Centre, Capt. A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., 41 men

Chief James G. White of the Newton Constabulary has recently made the following appointments: Deputy Chief, Capt. William N. Dudley of Newtonville, inspectors, ranking as majors, Capt. James R. Chandler of Waban, Capt. Philip L. Brown of Newton Highlands, Adjutant Francis Davis of Waban.

NEWTON CONSTABULARY NOTES

Many were disappointed at the non-appearance of the Chestnut Hill company at the Field Day. They would have received a great reception at the hands of their comrades of the Constabulary.

Headquarters tent was a busy place for half an hour after the arrival of Lieutenant-Governor Coolidge, all the officers having an opportunity to meet the State official.

City officials were well represented, many of the aldermen being members of the Constabulary. Alderman Angier of the Finance Committee was mess attendant at the officers' table and gave very efficient service. The Alderman is a private in Company B of Waban.

The members of the Constabulary are not all old men by any means and there are some snappy football players among the men. Play was enjoyed Saturday afternoon.

The number one squad of the Waban Company is "a whale of a squad" as one spectator expressed it. Every member is a few inches over six feet in height.

At eight o'clock Sunday morning the Waban company assembled at their garden and worked until 10.30 when kind neighbors appeared with

UNDER FIRE

Excellent Description of the Recent Bombing in the American Hospitals in France

The following extracts from a letter written by a Newton young woman connected with the Hospital Service, "Somewhere in France" will be of interest:

"Dear Mother, I suppose you are all anxious to hear about the air raid we had here, as you have probably, by now, read about it in the papers. We were not allowed to write anything about it for a week.

I am still on night duty and was up as Fritz came over at 11 P. M.

We had had our signal that he was in the vicinity and all lights were out. The orderly and I were standing at the tent door watching the sky to see the search lights playing, when we heard and saw the first bomb drop.

The patients had all been asleep but when this occurred, woke up and started shouting at the top of their voices.

The bombs fell in the wards, and the reception tent where we receive the new patients. One of the doctors was killed, three severely injured. Three of the American boys on duty in the reception tent were killed and one patient. Thirty-six were wounded in all.

The orderly and nurse who were on duty in the ward that was struck were standing between two tents when the first bomb dropped.

She went for one ward and he for another, to see if the patients were all right. A second bomb killed the orderly and the nurse got a piece of shrapnel through one of her pockets and her sweater and right through her clothes but did not get a scratch.

You can imagine what a task it was taking care of the wounded as they had to be dressed and moved to the operating room by the aid of lanterns as all the electric lights were out. We did not mind the strain so much that night as we did the following nights, as we had our minds occupied with taking care of the wounded.

I have become a true fatalist like Bill. Although our tent was near the reception tent and we got some of the flying shrapnel, none of us got hurt. The tea hut where we go for our dinner at midnight is directly behind the reception tent and was riddled with holes. Had it been a half hour later, a good many of us would have been there. None of the nurses were hurt.

I realize it is much harder for you people at home, as you can imagine all sorts of things. We are not worrying as Fritz seldom hits the same place twice, so do not want you to worry either. We are becoming disciplined like soldiers and getting used to things.

Allice and I are touring France on a bicycle. Nearly every morning we start from camp in a different direction and come to some little village or hamlet where lots of fun and each place seems different and has its own little queer houses and queer looking women and children. We seldom see the men folks, or if we do, they are either very old or young boys. Occasionally we see a man on crutches who has returned from the war as unfit for active service. The rest of the men folks are away fighting. We, of course, see men home on leave, but they are always dressed in their uniforms."

Speaking of her brother, this young woman goes on to say, "we need him and the rest of the American boys over here more than they are needed at home. While there is a Kaiser still in the world who drops bombs on defenseless hospitals whose only protection is a red cross on a white flag, everyone will be anxious to put aside self to avenge the wrong."

100 MORE MEN CALLED

Local Exemption Board Will Need Them in Filing the Last 15 Per Cent. of the Draft

The Local Exemption Board has sent out a call for the physical examination of 100 more men for next Tuesday morning beginning at 8.30 o'clock. This call is made necessary by the number of rejections at Ayer and the exemptions allowed by the District Board No. 5.

From the first 45 per cent. of the draft sent to Ayer, the following men have been rejected:

P. J. Dognan, 473 Grove street
Thos. J. Comick, 395 Parker street

LIBERTY LOAN DAY

Storm Interferes With Plans For Drive. Present Totals Amount to $4,109,200

The severe storm on Wednesday knocked all the elaborate plans of Liberty Day into mince meat, although the automobile parade which was to be one of its special features was not abandoned until noon time. Notwithstanding the storm, however, there was a good attendance at the State Armory at West Newton, augmented to a considerable extent by a good delegation of the Newton Constabulary under the direction of Adjutant Francis Davis, and a large delegation of Boy Scouts under command of Scoutmaster James C. Irwin. On one side of the Armory all the financial institutions in the city had tables and sold bonds all the afternoon.

The Newton Constabulary band, under direction of Mr. Wm. G. Hamilton furnished excellent music and the drum and bugle corps of the Boy Scouts added considerably to the interest of the occasion.

On the arrival of Senator John W. Weeks, the audience gathered around the stage, on which were Senator Weeks, Mayor Childs, Mr. Augustus T. Beatey, chairman of the committee in charge, Hon. Seward W. Jones, chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee, and General James G. White of the Newton Constabulary, together with a large number of Grand Army Veterans.

After singing a verse of America, Mr. Beatey said that Newton's share of the present loan was about $5,500,000 of which only about $3,250,000 had been raised. Massachusetts had sent 70,000 men to the front and Newton had sent 470, of which 135 members of Co. C, were already across the water. These boys need food, clothing, arms and ammunition and Uncle Sam doesn't ask you to give him anything, but only to lend him your money for which he will pay 4 per cent interest. If the bond he will give you isn't worth anything, then the flag of our country isn't worth a copper, your home isn't worth a nickel and your life isn't worth a copper. When General Pershing was recently asked at the tomb of Lafayette in France to speak, he simply responded "Lafayette, here we are," and that is the response we ought to make to Uncle Sam on this loan.

Mayor Childs said we were here to boost the Liberty loan. The cost of this war must be met either in bonds or taxes. A bond is an investment, while a tax is an expense never to be repaid. This is not a rich man's war, for Sinclair Weeks is fighting shoulder to shoulder with the boys from the Nonantum club. The best way we can show our appreciation of what these boys are doing for us is to buy a bond, and the greater the sacrifice, the finer the spirit of patriotism. The business of this government at present is war, and we, as men, must both men and money. Let us show Germany that Uncle Sam has plenty of both.

Senator Weeks was received with cheers. He began by saying that this was a just war, that he favored universal military training and believed that the selective draft was the fairest way to raise an army, as it treated rich and poor alike. Congress he said had made appropriations of about $21,000,000,000 of which $12,000,000,000 was to finance the war, $7,000,000,000 to finance the allies, and $2,000,000,000 was for current expenses. This money must be raised by taxation or bonds. The largest amount of money ever raised by any nation by taxation was the past year by England where $1,750,000,000 was obtained. Congress had provided that about $4,000,000,000 of our own expense was to be raised by taxation and the rest by bonds. We need new ships, we need new aeroplanes, and the Senator hoped to see 20,000 machines ready for use in France by next July. We have raised 1,250,000 men in our army and navy, and if the cheers and tears with which we bid them goodbye mean anything, they mean that we intended to back them up with our money. It would be dishonorable to fail in this loan and every man, woman and child should economize and even more than economize in order to help this loan. For himself the Senator said he had given his entire income to the Loan and to the Red Cross and he hoped that every person in the city would own a $50 bond or more. He had always been proud of Newton and we must not fail in the present crisis. No man, he said, would like to bear the stigma, in the years to come, that when his country called upon him for assistance that he had failed to answer that call.

The formal exercises closed with the playing of the national hymn by the band.

The teachers at the Hyde School at Newton Highlands have purchased a total of $100 in Liberty bonds and the pupils of the fifth grade and upwards have saved enough from their small allowances and earnings to pay for a $50 bond.

The total subscriptions at the Armory were about $30,000.

At the close of business last night the Newton Liberty Loan Committee announced that the subscriptions credited to this city amounted to $4,109,200.

A FABLE

Once upon a Time there was an advertising Gink who wouldn't buy a Liberty Bond.

He had too Many Uses for his Money and besides there were enough Guys with Fat Wads who could buy them.

He forgot that if everybody were like him, the War would go on until Some Day it got over here and then he might have to cough up his Entire Roll to the Germans, whether he wanted to or not.

But at any Rate, he kept on refusing to buy a Liberty Bond, until One Day, a Friend of his came along and asked him what he was going to say when the War was over and Somebody asked him what he had done to Help Win it?

This was a Sticker, and because he couldn't think of any Answer, he bought a Bond on the Fifty Week Plan, One Dollar per week.

Now this Guy used to play Pool every week and go to the Movies and smoke a lot of Cigars, and he never realized how many Dollars he threw away.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Newtonville meet every Tuesday afternoon at the Central Church when they both work and play.

This fall they have been doing more or less for the Special Aid and Red Cross. They have been making "Cheer bags," both filled and unfilled, under the direction of Mrs. W. N. Dudley. Girls have been doorkeepers at the N. T. H. S. for the Special Aid meetings, and have helped the Special Aid in other ways.

Last Saturday forty of the sixty-five girls went on an all day hike, led by their Captain, Miss Jeannette Daboll. Their camping place was in Auburndale Park, where many of the girls succeeded in making a fire with two matches and the damp wood they could find. They had one large fire over which they fried bacon and potatoes and roasted apples and marshmallows. After playing games, messages were sent from one group of girls to another by means of the semaphore signalling.

They expect to spend a useful winter helping this country in this great time of need.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

Books For War Camps

The government has asked the American Library Association to assume responsibility for supplying the camps and cantonments with reading material. Every group of soldiers, small as well as large, is to have books. The Newton Free Library in this city has been asked to get donations of books and magazines to Newton. These will be sent to Camp Devens and other cantonments throughout the country and will be made available to the soldiers.

The following is suggested as to the books and magazines desired:

Poorly printed, uninteresting, obviously out-of-date books, are not worth shipping to the men. Type should be good and clear and the books in fair condition.

Books of good stories will be wanted. The following are suggested as to the books and magazines desired:

Foreign language study books, especially French grammars and dictionaries, are much needed—possibly more than any other non-fiction books. In one camp nearly one-fifth of the men are studying French. They should have easy readers and stories besides their textbooks.

Books of travel, biography and history, especially lives of heroes and travels in the countries we are fighting, are much needed.

Technical books on aviation, wireless telegraphy, submarines, automobiles, signaling, first aid and hygiene, drawing, and lettering.

Ethical books on patriotism, courage, and good citizenship are desired.

Fresh, attractive magazines are also wanted—such as American Century, Harper's, Everybody's, Popular Mechanics, Popular Science Monthly, National Geographic, Scientific American, Saturday Evening Post, etc. None over three months' old should be included.

The material is needed at once. Do not give worthless, unattractive books, but some of your good, fresh, interesting and valuable ones.

Send the books and magazines to the Library upon any week day. If you cannot send the books and magazines, notify the librarian and they will be called for.

About a thousand volumes of books and magazines have already been sent to the Library.

POLICE NOTES

William T. Wright of Gardner street, Newton, who, while under the influence of liquor, took a joy ride in an undertaker's wagon, was in court Wednesday charged with drunkenness and the unlawful appropriation of the horse and wagon. He pleaded guilty and said he was too drunk to remember what had happened. The drunkenness case was placed on probation and the second charge was continued until November on condition that he pay $5 to Henry F. Cate of West Newton, owner of the horse.

Henry W. Woodhead of Brighton paid a fine of $10 in court Wednesday for failing to signal or to slacken the speed of his automobile while crossing Walnut street, on Commonwealth avenue, Newtonville, on Oct. 19. Traffic officer Sartwell made the complaint.

BRESEE-COWARD

A very attractive Autumn wedding took place on Wednesday evening, October 17th, in Newton Upper Falls, when Miss Beulah Elizabeth Coward became the bride of Mr. Clarence Douglas Bresee of Dorchester, son of Mrs. E. J. Bresee.

The wedding was solemnized at the Methodist Episcopal Church, which was most artistically decorated by Houghton Gorney Company of Boston. The ceremony was performed at half after seven by Rev. C. W. Locke, uncle of the bride, and pastor of the Evangelical Church, Cambridge, assisted by Rev. J. W. Stephan.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and the bridegroom by the groom. The bride wore a beautiful wedding robe of cream colored satin combined with georgette crepe of the same shade, draped in the neck and sleeves, the front draperies of the skirt being caught up with orange blossoms. The long court train was fastened on each shoulder with sprays of orange blossoms, and the gown was belted with bands of pearl trimming. Her bridal veil of tulle was arranged with a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a full shower bouquet of bride roses. Her only ornamental accessory was a pearl, the gift of the bridegroom.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Isabella Locke of Waban, cousin of the bride, was attired in transparent tulle of American Beauty shade over silver cloth, with bodice of the same shade finished with iridescent trimmings, and carried a large bouquet of Tea roses.

The bride was preceded by a pretty little flower girl, Bertha Phillips of Dorchester, in a dainty frock of blue and white georgette crepe, carrying a large basket of white and pink roses, and a ring bearer, Lillian M. Bresee, sister of the bridegroom, was the ring-bearer, and was frocked in pink and white chiffon, and carried the ring on a little silver tray.

As the bridal procession assembled at the chancel, Miss Hattie Sturtevant, the organist, played Wagner's Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, and as a recessional, the Mendelssohn Wedding March.

The bridegroom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Henry Judd Bresee as best man, and the group of ushers included Messrs. Ellsbee Denton Locke of Waban, George Wiswall, Jr., of Watertown, Harold Sparling of Boston, Roland M. Rand of Boston, William McCoy of Cambridge, Joseph of Springfield, William J. Scott of Milton, Denton Nutter and Carl Nutter of Eliot, and Fred Newey of Newton Upper Falls.

A large reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the residence of the bride's parents on High street, and Mr. and Mrs. Bresee received from 8 until 10 in the reception room which was decorated for the occasion with festoons of autumn foliage and vases of various colored chrysanthemums. A floral canopy was arranged under which the bride and groom stood in the receiving line with the bride and bridegroom were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coward, Mrs. E. J. Bresee, and the bridegroom's uncle, Dr. D. H. Judd.

The bride's mother was very effectively robed in black jet and lace over a gown of cream satin with corsage bouquet of Tea roses, and Mrs. Bresee, mother of the bridegroom, was handsomely gowned in taupe satin, trimmed with chiffon with corsage of American Beauty roses.

During the reception delightful music was furnished by Gordon's Orchestra of Medford. In the dining-room where a buffet supper was served by Paxton, the decorative scheme of pink was carried out with roses. The bride's table was very elaborately decorated by Paxton with the assistance of the florist, and a wonderful mound of American Beauty roses was arranged as a centerpiece and pink shaded candelabra added to the artistic effect.

About 9 o'clock the guests adjourned to the dining-room, and the bride cut the cake. Dr. Judd, the bride's uncle got the ring, and Mr. Duncan Nutter, one of the ushers, got the heart.

A photograph was taken of the bridal party. A profusion of costly gifts were displayed in the library, which included gold, silver and cut glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Bresee have gone on a wedding trip thru the Berkshires and the White Mountains, and will reside at 99 High street, Upper Falls, where they will be at home after November 15th.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. John Downham Coward of the Coward Auto Supply Company of Boston, and Mr. Bresee was instructor during the past year, at the Huntington School. The bride was a member of Lasell Seminary and was very popular in her set and has a host of friends.

There were about 500 guests present from Springfield, Brookline, Dorchester, Cambridge, Boston, Canada, Malden, Wakefield, Milton, Lowell, and the Newtons.

Among the guests were, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Thayer of Franklin, Dr. J. H. Sparling of Boston, Dr. W. F. Phillips of Dorchester, Dr. Willard T. Perrin of Newton Centre, Dr. D. H. Judd of Brookline, Dr. Francis Morris, Professor Morris, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Locke of Waban, Miss Jessie Shepard of Maryland, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. G. Locke of Brookline, Mrs. Frank Locke of Commonwealth avenue, Brookline, Miss Lou E. Locke of Waban, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Locke, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Nutter of Eliot, and members of the faculty at Lasell, and at the Huntington School, Boston.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. Alice Cogswell Bemis, wife of Judson M. Bemis, formerly of Newton, died last week Thursday at Colorado Springs, Colo., where she had made her winter home for many years. She was born at Ipswich, on January 5, 1845, the daughter of Daniel and Mercy Cogswell. She is survived by her husband, one son, Albert F. Bemis, of Chestnut Hill, and two daughters, Mrs. R. H. Parsons of Seattle and Mrs. F. M. P. Taylor of Colorado Springs.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Newton Cemetery chapel.

Wedding of Miss Annie E. Plummer of Auburndale and Mr. Wm. Kirk Corey of Brookline.

Although a speaker for the Liberty Bond he treated his subject in a different way from the usual. He emphasized that we are at war, what we are fighting for and why it was inevitable; that we are fighting for democracy, for our very lives, and if we don't come across with the bonds Germany will come across with the ships; that Germany stands for the old fashioned idea of autocracy and that the spirit of civilization is self-sacrifice for the good of humanity and there can not be civilization if materialism is made the goal.

A rising vote of thanks was given the speaker.

Mrs. H. H. Powers, Chairman, presided. The reports of the secretary, Mrs. George Owen, and treasurer, Miss Maude Henry, were read and accepted.

Mrs. F. E. Stanley reported for the Liberty Loan as chairman of the Women's Committee of Newton.

Miss Gilman reported a meeting at Red Cross headquarters, Boston, in regard to motor service which the S. A. S. A. P. has always rendered the Red Cross. Any woman who drives her own car is asked to serve. Miss Gilman will be very glad to answer any questions regarding this work.

Mrs. Moore, chairman, sewing and knitting, reported 398 knitted articles sent to Lieut. Ware, 231 sent to Red Cross, 40 to individual calls, making 669 knitted articles for September and 147 sewed garments. 50 knitted articles for 1st 2 wear in October.

Mrs. Vernon B. Sweet, chairman of membership, has charge of the dime bank for contribution to the wool fund. Also S. A. S. A. P. pins and knitting bags for sale.

Mrs. Frederick White is Chairman of Canteen committee.

The speaker for the afternoon was the Rev. Herbert Johnson of the Warren Avenue Baptist Church, Boston.

Although a speaker for the Liberty Bond he treated his subject in a different way from the usual. He emphasized that we are at war, what we are fighting for and why it was inevitable; that we are fighting for democracy, for our very lives, and if we don't come across with the bonds Germany will come across with the ships; that Germany stands for the old fashioned idea of autocracy and that the spirit of civilization is self-sacrifice for the good of humanity and there can not be civilization if materialism is made the goal.

A rising vote of thanks was given the speaker.

The next open meeting will be on Friday, November 16th, at 3 P. M. Speaker: Mrs. William H. Lothrop, director of Red Cross Civilian relief for New England division. She will speak on some phases of Red Cross work. Come and bring your friends.

COPELEY THEATRE—Twenty-one weeks of "The Man Who Stayed at Home" and fifty-seven weeks of the Henry Jewett Players at the Copley Theatre make a notable record. The end of the run of this war-time play is not in sight. Capacity houses are the rule at every performance, and their laughter and applause testify to the merits of the play and to the excellent performance of the players. It is as a combination of comedy and drama that "The Man Who Stayed at Home" succeeds, and no less is the popularity due to its timeliness. In plot it holds the continuous interest of the audience, and its diversified characters, both English and German, are actual types of real humanity.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The junior class has elected the following officers for the year 1917-18: Merrill Nutting, president; Eleanor Lyon, vice president; Katherine Holmes, secretary; Walter Lovejoy, treasurer.

The finals in the fall tennis tournament were won by George Scott who received the silver cup offered by the management.

The boys' debating club is meeting every Monday morning. The officers are Clark Macomber, president; Wayland Vaughn, vice president; Bradford Story, secretary-treasurer.

The date of the Boston English High game has been changed from Saturday to Friday.

The sophomore class has elected the following officers: Robert Garrity, president; Katherine Slater, vice president; Huntington Wardwell, secretary; Edwin Nelson, treasurer.

The various English classes have written several hundred letters to be sent with the comfort bags and other articles from the High School. Many of the students have added chocolate, cigarettes and other small articles that soldiers will appreciate.

The High schools were dismissed at one o'clock Wednesday that the pupils might have ample time to attend the Liberty Loan Day exercises which had to be held in the armory because of the rain.

There is no session today on account of the meeting of the Middlesex Teachers' Association.

Wednesday the entire school was addressed by the Rev. J. Edgar Park of the West Newton Congregational Church. The subject of the address was, "What High School Students can do to aid the Liberty Loan." Mr. Park showed clearly, how, by careful saving the average high student could within a few months save enough to buy a bond.

DEATH OF MR. POTE

Mr. George P. Pote, for many years a resident of this city, died last Saturday at his home on Peabody street, after an illness of about two weeks.

Mr. Pote was born in Belfast, Me., June 4, 1842 and was in his 76th year. He enlisted in the 1st Maine Heavy Artillery in the Civil War and served the entire duration of the war. For many years he was engaged in the trucking business in Boston. He was an attendant at Channing Church, a member of Charles Ward Post G. A. R., the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Dalhousie Lodge of Masons and Newton Royal Arch Chapter.

For thirty years Mr. Pote has lived in this community, a good citizen, a good neighbor, and a good husband and father. Genial, generous and respectful of all who knew him and many will mourn his passing.

The funeral services on Tuesday afternoon completely filled the house and the many gifts of flowers gave ample testimony to his wide acquaintance and friendships. A simple service was held under direction of Rev. Harry Lutz of Channing Church and the interment was at Forest Hills.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Mrs. Marguerite Sophia Meshaka, daughter of Hiram Rieker, one of the proprietors of the Poland Spring Hotel at Poland Spring, Me., who, in April, was married to Nabej Nelson Meshaka, a Syrian, killed herself by inhaling illuminating gas last week Monday in her home at 135 Langley road, Newton Centre.

On Monday she was seen in her garden at 1.30 o'clock. At five o'clock Mrs. Irving Porter, who lives in the same house, traced an odor of gas to the young woman unconscious on a chair, with the lighting jets and the jets of the gas stove open. Prompt medical aid failed to resuscitate her. No cause for the suicide is known. Mr. and Mrs. Meshaka were married at Auburn, Me. He conducts a garment factory on Tyler street, South End.

IMPORTANT TRANSACTION

One of the most important real estate transactions of the year is the recent sale of the Woodland Park Hotel property at Auburndale to a real estate trust and the lease of the property to the Lasell Seminary, of which Dr. Guy M. Winslow is principal, for a period of years.

The property consists of six acres 10914 feet of land, assessed for $18,000, with buildings assessed for $35,000 and a vacant lot of land containing 23,850 feet assessed for $3,500.

Dr. Winslow will use the property next year as a school for younger girls, than he is now teaching at Lasell Seminary.

MOTHERS' REST

At the recent annual meeting of the Mothers' Rest Association, Inc., these officers were elected: President, Mrs. Everett D. Burr; first vice president, Mrs. Samuel Ward; second vice president, Mrs. George M. Angier; secretary, Mrs. Henry H. Kendall; treasurer, Mrs. Warner R. Holt; auditor, Mrs. W. S. Phelps; managers, Mrs. W. D. Leland, Mrs. H. J. Wheeler, Mrs. J. B. Hall, Mrs. A. S. Kirkwood, Mrs. H. B. Hovey, and Mrs. R. E. Anderson.

THE STATE GUARD

Company A, 11th Regiment of the State Guard, the Newton Company made an excellent impression last Sunday at the Regimental drill held in the afternoon on Bravos Field at Allston. 64 men reported for the occasion and the company was honored by Col. Pratt for guard duty. Lieut. W. H. Rand, Jr., being the Officer of the Guard.

On Tuesday night a battalion drill was held at the South Armory in Boston under command of Major Walter Rollins.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Dr. George Browning Wilbur, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilbur of Waltham street to Miss M. Joy Paxton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Paxton of Topeka, Kan. The marriage took place in St. Louis, Mo. Dr. Wilbur, who is a Harvard '12 man and graduate of the Harvard Medical School, class of '16, is in the Officers' Medical Reserve Corps.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding on Saturday, Nov. 3, of Miss Eleanor Richards Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Frost of West Newton, to Kenneth David Looze, of New York, to take place at the home of the bride's parents, 170 Chestnut street, West Newton, at four in the afternoon. The ceremony is to be witnessed only by members of the families, relatives and a few close friends. A reception will follow.

—Mrs. Nathan A. Putnam of Newtonville avenue is moving into The Croyden.

—Telephone MacLean, 725 or 2654-M North, for anything in the carpenter line.

—The "Holy City" by Gaul, will be sung by the boys and men of Grace Church Choir, Sunday evening, Oct. 28th at 7.30.

—Mrs. C. L. Goodrich of Park street returned Sunday night from the Universalist convention being held in Worcester.

—Miss Harriet Ellison of Sargent street celebrated her birthday last week on Saturday at her summer home at Duxbury.

—Rev. Dr. George S. Butters of Auburndale will exchange pulpits Sunday morning with Rev. C. Chas. Gray of the Newton M. E. Church.

—Mr. William E. McKee of Centre street is president of the recently incorporated Purity Products Co. of Boston, capitalized at $250,000 to deal in druggists' supplies.

—The monthly meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. will be held Thursday, November 1 at 2.30 P. M., at the home of Mrs. C. P. Noble, 119 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands. Mrs. Howland will speak.

—The engagement is announced of Miss Louise Ginzberg, a former student at Mt. Ida School, to Mr. Louis Gordon of New York. Miss Ginzberg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barnard of Brookline.

—Hon. and Mrs. George M. Powers of Morrisville, Vt. were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Snyder of Hunnewell terrace. Judge Powers is a member of the Supreme Court of the state of Vermont and a son of the late United States Senator George Powers. He was given an informal reception Saturday evening at the Hunnewell Club.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Chipman Rochford of Seattle, Washington announce the marriage of their daughter, Hope Elise to Mr. Frank Carleton Greider, on Saturday, October the thirteenth at Seattle, Washington. Many Newton friends of Miss Hope will read this notice with interest. She was born in Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Greider will be at home after December the first at 833 North Sixtieth street, Seattle, Washington.

—The accident reported in the last issue of the GRAPHIC between the truck of the McArthur Co. and the automobile of George Yeager, while taken from the police records was incorrect to the extent that it was a Walker and Pratt Co. truck and not of the McArthur Co. This statement is made in fairness to the McArthur Co.

—A strong effort is being made to enlist the men of this village in the Newton Unit of the Constabulary. This section of the city, with the large percentage of population is being shamed by the small villages of Waban and Chestnut Hill, to say nothing about the splendid spirit being manifested by the men in Newtonville, Auburndale, Newton Highlands, Newton Centre and West Newton.

EDITORIAL

With children in the grammar schools contributing their pennies, newsboys pledging their little income for Liberty loan, it is up to the men and women of this city to do their full share to help Uncle Sam back up the boys who are already across the water to fight for liberty and democracy. Have you done your bit?

Parents of small boys can help considerably in the movement for food conservation by prohibiting the use of the bean blower and pea shooter. A cupful of beans or dried peas wasted by each one of a thousand boys would be well worth saving. Why not try it.

A communication has been received in regard to shover bath conditions at the High School, evidently signed by an assumed name. The person who wrote the letter is requested to communicate with this office.

NEWTON'S RED CROSS

Last week denial was made here of the stories being circulated to the effect that the Red Cross is selling, or has sold, the sweaters, mufflers, socks and wristlets knit by the women to be distributed among our soldiers and sailors. The request was made that if anyone heard such stories being told they would send to Red Cross Headquarters the name of the one telling the story in order that the story might be tracked down to its original source. This week it may be well to take up another of the stories spread by the German and Anti-War Propagandists—the story in regard to the salaries paid by the Red Cross. These stories, like those about the sweaters, are a part of the campaign being carried on by those who try to do all they can to discourage all war work. They are generally to the effect that a very large part of the money raised by Red Cross subscriptions and through Red Cross memberships is used for distribution in the way of exorbitant salaries to insiders who are running the Order for their own benefit. A year ago, before the United States entered the war, the American Red Cross had just over 200,000 members today it has over 4,000,000 members. In the last year it has raised a war fund of over $100,000,000. At its National Headquarters there are now employed 535 paid officials and employees and of these forty-six receive $2000 or more a year. The highest salary paid to any one is $7500 to an official who was on the staff when it was on a peace basis. Of those receiving less than $2000 thirty-nine are paid over $100 a month, thirty-eight are paid $100 a month and 491 clerks and messengers are paid less than a hundred a month. In addition to the members of the staff who receive pay there are at the National Headquarters sixty-seven officials who give their whole time without pay and practically every one of the important administrative positions created since the Order was placed on a war basis is filled by a volunteer who not only works for nothing but who in many instances makes an actual monetary sacrifice in accepting a position. So far as the Newton Branch of the Red Cross is concerned if any one knows of an official who is receiving a salary the Board of Governors would be glad to know it in order to thank the generous unknown who is paying it.

The Newton Branch of the Red Cross asks the help and co-operation of every woman in Newton. It would like to have them all as members but a woman does not have to be a member in order to be welcomed as a worker at any one of the Red Cross work rooms.

Newton so far has sent to the colors nearly a thousand young men. Of the many between the draft ages who have yet to be called, and of the many men too old to be called, are there a thousand who take enough interest in the welfare of the thousand already in Khaki or blue to send a dollar apiece to the Red Cross Wool Fund? Mr. George Royal Pulsifer, Treasurer of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross, Newtonville, would be glad to receive their contributions.

Wouldn't it be a good thing for the man who knows the war is going to end by Spring and that Germany is almost ready to collapse to send in his Red Cross contributions now? If he waits too long he may not have a chance to do anything in the war except to benefit through the bravery and hard work of others. Every real American ought to do something. After the war is all over those who do nothing to help win it will have a very satisfactory record to look back upon. Get in now and do something.

DEATH OF MR. McLEOD

Mr. Frank F. McLeod, vice-president of the Fidelity Trust Company, Treasurer of Tremont Temple, died yesterday at the Tremont Hospital after a brief illness.

Mr. McLeod, who was one of New England's best known banking men, was born 50 years ago in New Brunswick, coming to Boston as a young boy. He went to work as a messenger for the Union Bank of Boston, later becoming connected with the National Shawmut Bank, Exchange Trust Company and finally the Fidelity Trust Company, of which he was treasurer for many years. Only two weeks ago he was promoted to the position of vice-president of the latter institution.

Mr. McLeod had long been one of the deacons of Tremont Temple, as well as treasurer of that church. He was very active in charitable and church work, being treasurer of the Dover-street Mission and the Lake Shore Home at Sharon.

Mr. McLeod was married 10 years ago to Miss Emma King of Worcester, who survives him. He also leaves three sons, Donald A., Rodney F. and Cortland C. McLeod; a daughter, Mary D. McLeod; a mother, Mrs. Mary E. McLeod of New Brunswick, and a brother Percival McLeod of Nevada.

Private funeral services will take place at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at his home on Pelham street, Newton Centre, followed by a public service in Tremont Temple at 12:45 P. M. Sunday. The burial will be in Forest Hills Cemetery.

MR. WATERHOUSE DEAD

Mr. Joseph T. Waterhouse, for over 27 years a well known druggist at Newton Highlands, died Monday at his home on Walnut street in that village after some months of failing health.

Mr. Waterhouse was 63 years of age and was born in Whitinsville, Mass. He was educated in the schools of Fitchburg and later entered the drug business in South Boston, before moving to Newton Highlands. He was a prominent member and past president of the Boston Druggists Association, a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, Newton Royal Arch Chapter, and St. Omar Commandery K. T. of South Boston. He is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Harry P. Bradford of Newton Highlands.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at two o'clock at his late home on Walnut street.

Newton Highlands

—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held a supper in Lincoln hall Saturday evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Walker of Floral street entertained friends from Lowell this week.

MITCHELL-BURR

The wedding of Miss Frances Burr the daughter of Mrs. Everett D. Burr and the late Rev. Dr. Burr, of Newton Centre, and Dr. Walter Mann Mitchell of Philadelphia, took place Tuesday evening at the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre, where the ceremony was performed at seven o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Emory W. Hunt.

The bride was gowned in white satin veiled in chiffon with a court train. Her sister, Mrs. Corning Benton of Exeter, N. H., was the matron of honor and wore blue brocade and tulle and carried pink roses. Miss Eleanor Widger and Miss Alice McDowell of Brookline, were the bridesmaids and were in turquoise blue satin embroidered in silver and also carried pink roses.

Mr. Daniel S. Howard, Jr., of Brockton, Mass., was the best man and the ushers were Messrs. George W. B. Fletcher of Philadelphia, Austin C. Benton, Harvard, '05, Corning Benton, Harvard, '07, Thurlow S. Widger, Harvard, '11, Carleton M. Burr, Harvard, '14, and William M. Reed, Jr., Harvard, '14.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlors.

Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside in Philadelphia.

DEGEN-CURTISS

Miss Mary Frances Curtiss of Bradford Court, Newton Centre, daughter of the late Charles S. Curtiss, was married on Tuesday evening to Mr. Bertrand Vassal Degen of Brookline, formerly of Newton Centre. The wedding was at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. William F. Warner, 44 Page road, Newtonville, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. George F. Degen, rector of St. Alban's P. E. Church, Washington, D. C. The best man was Mr. John Quincy Adams of South Orange, N. J., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and the maid of honor was Miss Hazel Curtiss, sister of the bride. Flower girls were Gloria Duval of Shelter Island Heights, N. Y., and Alma de Forest Warner of Newtonville, nieces of the bride. After a wedding trip by automobile, the bride and groom will reside at 217 Harvard street, Brookline, where they will be at home on Thursdays, after December 1st.

BOARD OF TRADE

The October meeting of the Newton Board of Trade was held Tuesday evening at headquarters in Newtonville with President Horace W. Orr in the chair.

There was a very slim attendance and those absent missed a splendid talk by Hon. Samuel L. Powers on the work of the Constitutional Convention and an excellent explanation of the three amendments to the Constitution which will be voted upon at the coming state election. Mr. Powers gave the most time to the anti amendment which he said had been made possible by a combination of the liberal Catholics and the liberal Protestants in the convention and adopted by a vote of about 2 to 1.

Representative J. Weston Allen gave a report of the work accomplished by the officers of the Board of Trade on the matter of street railway fares during the summer and at the recent conference on the coal situation.

MAYOR HAINES A GUEST

The Newton City Employees Local No. 175 held an open meeting last Friday evening. The speakers were Mayor Benjamin F. Haines of Medford, who gave a very patriotic and interesting account of the world war, the conditions of the country and also told of the many good things the employees of Medford now enjoy. National President, M. F. O'Brien spoke of the labor conditions in the state and also outlined some of the plans for the coming year. National Treasurer Collins of Cambridge told of what had been obtained in that city. President Robert Wood of Waltham and Alderman John W. Murphy also spoke.

Musical selections were rendered by King's Orchestra.

The Local voted to buy a $200 Liberty Bond.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

At the Presidents' Conference on Monday, Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney told the delegates that her next message in the November Bulletin was going to be about club teas and intimated that she was recommending their being dispensed with altogether, or least made very simple. The executive board of the Federation to set an example voted that there should be none at the Milton Conference. How did it work out? It seemed to the Club Editor that one very essential feature was lost in so doing, the social element, the contact of friend with friend, the opportunity for exchanging experiences in an intimate way impossible in a large meeting, all of which are most helpful to both old and new presidents, when the social hour as well as the tea are omitted. Cannot the clubs provide for the social hour and show that it is possible to preserve that even when no refreshments are served? The greeting of old friends and the making of new ones are among the things which club workers have always counted upon at these Presidents' Conferences.

Conference of Sixth District

Tuesday, October 30, at 10.30 by invitation of the Stoneham Woman's Club there will be a conference of the presidents and Federation secretaries of the clubs comprising the Sixth District in the Methodist Church of Stoneham. Luncheon will be served by the hosts. In the afternoon at two o'clock there will be addresses by Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, president of the State Federation, and Mrs. Henry Coolidge Mulligan, a former president, the subject being, "A Woman's Club in War Time." Program, Activities." The afternoon session is open to all club women. Stoneham may be reached either from Arlington Centre or from Sullivan Square.

Newton Federation

Wednesday, November 7, 2.30 the autumn meeting of the Newton Federation will be held in the Town Hall, Newtonville, and will be open to the public. Pageant, "The Immigrant's Gateway," representing the entrance of the immigrant into the United States. Subject, "Our New-American Neighbors." What they bring to us, Miss Geraldine Gordon of Denison House, What we can bring to them, Mr. Francesco Argento, Italian songs, Mr. Joseph Antonelli. There will be an exhibition of handiwork.

State Federation

Wednesday, November 14, Autumn meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at Braintree.

Local Announcements

Next week's meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will be held on Friday afternoon with Mrs. E. G. Swift.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands meets at the home of Mrs. J. W. Moore on October 29, when there will be a Colonial luncheon and loan exhibition.

"A Morning of Music" will be the program for the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday, October 30, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Spaulding of Wolcott street.

On Thursday, November 1st, the Ladies' Home Circle will meet at two o'clock in G. A. Hall, Newtonville.

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will continue its study of King Lear at the home of the president, Miss Mary L. Sweeney, on Saturday, November 3rd. Miss Mary S. Newhall will be in charge of the quiz.

Local Happenings

To purchase a Liberty Bond was the enterprising decision of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club at its meeting last Saturday. A letter was read from one of the members now in Washington in which she described the Organic school for children from 3 to 5 years of age, a school where something of the Montessori methods are worked out. Miss Sweeney was in charge of the study of the third act of King Lear, in which was brought out the fact that Lear had evidently lost his mind.

According to long-established custom, the West Newton Women's Educational Club opened its season last Friday with a reception to the president, Mrs. Robert Gorton. For this occasion, Mrs. Arthur B. Munroe with cordial hospitality, threw open her beautiful home on Mt. Vernon street.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer and Mrs. George Phipps assisted the officers in receiving the guests. An unexpected and wholly delightful feature of the afternoon was the rendering of two most appropriate selections by Mrs. Blanche Martin, who also gave a few bright reminiscences of old days of the club. Music by an orchestra was an added charm and dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. S. L. Eaton and Mrs. Warren F. Gregory poured and Mrs. Whittemore and Mrs. Gary served frappe. All felt that a vote of thanks was due Mrs. Walter A. Beedle, chairman, and her efficient assistants, for planning and carrying out such a very enjoyable afternoon.

The Travel Class held its second regular meeting with Mrs. Dimond at Newton Lower Falls on Monday afternoon. Continuing the study of Russia, Mrs. Reed told of "The people, races, language and customs." Having at one time entertained a Russian Countess, Mrs. Reed was able to make her talk very practical and up-to-date.

Mrs. Robinson followed with the story of "The Beginnings of Russian History," all of which is just what everybody is most interested in at the present time.

The Christian Era Study Club was entertained by Mrs. J. W. Weinberg at her home on Hancock street, Auburndale, October 22. Mrs. Howland told of the great good accomplished in the churches of Spain by Cardinal Ximenes, and Mrs. Goodman sent an interesting account of the life of Columbus. Mrs. Drew pictured the religion of some of the Indian tribes in Mexico, drawn from John Massfield's "The Lost Endeavor."

Miss Marion Dorr was hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. last Monday afternoon. Miss Webster was in charge of the work, reading and classifying the poems of Robert Frost, giving special emphasis to his "North of Boston" and "The Death of the Hired Man." She also read from his latest volume, "Mountain Interval" and one of his shorter poems, "Reluctations." Mr. Frost is a young American poet, who first found favor in England. His thorough knowledge of rustic life has styled him the reflective artist and robust philosopher.

Last Tuesday the Auburndale Woman's Club was entertained by Mrs. Mary Parker Dunning, who lectured upon "The Calling East." Dressed in the native costume of a Hindu woman, she told of many Hindu customs, the early marriages, usually at twelve years, and the hardships and ostracism experienced by the child widows. The sacred Ganges, whose waters will cure all manner of diseases, was described, as well as the burning of dead bodies upon its banks and the sending of them down to Eternity. Mrs. Dunning next appeared as a Parsee woman. These are the wives and daughters of Bombay merchants, having many more privileges than their Hindu sisters. She also appeared as a Burmese woman, telling many customs of these happy people, who do not marry until arriving at a suitable age and are allowed to select their own husbands. Benares, Agra, Delhi, the capital of India, Bombay, the Gateway of India, and Rangoon were graphically described, as were also the Taj Mahal, Towers of Silence, and many of the temples. Miss Claramond Thompson, accompanied by Miss Wright, sang several groups of Indian songs.

Presidents' Conference

Relating the work of the various departments of club activity to the present war time was the keynote of the Presidents' Conference of the Massachusetts State Federation held at Milton on Monday afternoon, October 22. The meeting was held in the Town Hall and was called to order by the president, Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, and welcomed by Mrs. Wallace C. Tucker, the president of the Milton Woman's Club, hostess for the occasion.

Mrs. Gurney in opening the conference stated that the policy of the present administration in all its affairs and in its co-operation on the part of all as never before. Miss Amy Woods of the League of Preventive Work asked for co-operation in their work for the feeble-minded. Mrs. Ella C. R. Whitton announced that the Federation has purchased another Liberty Bond and on behalf of the Endowment Fund urged the contributions of the clubs, stating that some which have contributed have not as yet sent their full quota of 25 cents per capita.

The Massachusetts director of the General Federation, Mrs. George W. Perkins, spoke of two important matters relative to the General Federation, the purchasing of the General Federation Magazine, whereby the organization now controls its official organ, and of the work of the War Service Bureau at Washington. The next Biennial will be held at Hot Springs, Ark., in May.

Mrs. Gurney then told of her work in connection with the Council of National Defence during the past summer. The chairman of each department brought a brief message, in these were voiced greater need of cheer, of inspiration such as can be gained from contact with art, literature, and music, and of practical ways in which the clubs may help in improving conditions about the army camps, in conserving the food supply, and in assisting the young people to continue their education.

Representatives from the various daily papers, which conduct special club departments, spoke briefly, giving concrete ways in which club correspondents may secure publicity for their club activities.

FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

President Wilson has again shown his concern for the outcome of the New York suffrage campaign in a marked manner. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, has just made public a letter written by him. It follows: The White House, Washington 13 October, 1917.

My dear Mrs. Catt: May I not express to you my very deep interest in the campaign in New York for the adoption of woman suffrage, and may I not say that I hope that no voter will be influenced in his decision with regard to this great matter by anything the so-called pickets may have done here in Washington? However justly they may have laid themselves open to serious criticism, their action represents, I am sure, so small a fraction of the women of the country who are urging the adoption of woman suffrage that it would be most unfair and argue a narrow view to allow their actions to prejudice the cause itself. I am very anxious to see the great State of New York set a great example in this matter.

Cordially and sincerely yours, (Signed) Woodrow Wilson.

"THE WANDERER" AT THE BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

Mail orders for the engagement of the big spectacular Biblical drama, "The Wanderer," at the Boston Opera House, are now being received in such an avalanche of mail that three special clerks have been detailed in the Box Office especially to handle all inquiries and lay aside seats for the mail orders. The engagement of "The Wanderer" will open at the Boston Opera House on Thursday night, Nov. 22. The Opera House will be dark for three nights, as it will be impossible to set up the gigantic scenic production in less than three days and nights of continuous labor for sixty stage hands.

NEWTON BOY HONORED

Davis Ripley, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Z. Ripley of Newton Centre, has been awarded the Croix du Guerre by the French government for distinguished bravery under fire. He arrived home on Saturday to recuperate from injuries received at the front.

Mr. Ripley has been in France driving an ambulance and one night received a hurry call to take wounded from the relief stations, the losses being so great as to necessitate the removal of some of the wounded as soon as possible. While hurrying in the dark in his car, he ran into a sector that was being violently bombarded, but did not turn back, as the call was urgent. Fragments of one shell tore through the wagon and another exploded in front of the machine so close that it was impossible to avoid running into the hole it made in the road. Mr. Ripley was thrown out, breaking his shoulder blade and collar bone, but insisted upon the ambulance being hauled out and proceeding on its way to the wounded before he would have his own hurts attended to. He was for several weeks in a hospital and it will be some time before he entirely recovers from the effects of the wound.

Another young man in whom Newton people are interested was driving another car in front of Ripley's and got through without accident. He is Donald Jordan, of Chicago, whose father is Dr. Edward Jordan, formerly of Auburndale, and whose mother was Miss Elsie Pratt of West Newton. For his courageous work that night, young Jordan also received the Croix du Guerre.

THE HUNNEWELL CLUB

The Entertainment Committee has sent out its announcements for the month of November, following a Halloween dance next Tuesday night. The usual Neighborhood Night will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 6th, and Ladies' Nights on Nov. 13 and 20th. There will be an informal talk by a good speaker on Thursday, Nov. 15, and a monthly assembly on Tuesday, Nov. 30th.

REYNOLDS—CHANDLER

In the presence of hundreds of guests representative of Boston, Brookline, and Newton society, Miss Gladys Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willmond Kingman Chandler of Auburndale was united in marriage on Saturday evening to Mr. George Berge Reynolds of Toronto, Canada.

The wedding took place at the Brae Burn Country Club, the entire lower floor of which was opened en suite and decorated artistically for the occasion. A corner of the Garden Tea Room which was devoted to the ceremony was transformed into a floral bower with background of palms, ferns and festoons of smilax and tall vases filled with bunches of white chrysanthemums. The bridal procession passed through an aisle formed by white pedestals arranged on either side and joined by streamers of wide white satin ribbon and surmounted with clusters of Opheelia roses.

The wedding party seemed to have been chosen for its good looks and Brae Burn has seldom held a more notable assembly. The ceremony was performed at half after eight by Rev. William C. Gordon, D. D., pastor of the Auburndale Congregational Church. The bride was escorted by her father who gave her in marriage. She was wonderfully attractive in an exquisite wedding robe of ivory white tulle and duchess lace. Her veil of point de Venice was arranged with a little Dutch cap effect fastened with coronet of pearls and duchess lace. Her bouquet was a magnificent shower of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride was preceded by two little flower girls, Elizabeth Hollis and Marjorie Wiley of Auburndale, who were most bewitching in dainty frocks of white lace over pink satin with broad pink sashes and pink hair-bows, and carried large baskets of pink sweetheart rose-buds.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Thomas Beall Richey as matron of honor who was becomingly attired in pink tulle over satin with paniers of sapphire chiffon velvet and carried an arm bouquet of Opheelia roses.

A ladies' orchestra was stationed in an enclosure of palms, ferns and potted plants arranged in the library near the entrance of the Garden Tea Room. The bridal party entered to the strains of Wagner's "Wedding March" which was played by a recessional.

Mr. Reynolds was assisted by Mr. Henry F. Miller, 2nd, of Wakefield as best man. Mr. P. Marlborough Smith was head of the group of ushers which included Mr. Erwin H. Schell and Mr. Charles E. Greene of Boston, and Dr. Richard Norton of Somerville.

Immediately following the ceremony a brilliant reception was held and in the receiving line with the bride and bridegroom were Mr. and Mrs. Chandler, parents of the bride, Mrs. John F. Merry of Toronto, the bridegroom's mother, and Mrs. Edward Benedict, the bride's aunt, of Brookline.

Mrs. Chandler was very handsomely gowned in black chiffon velvet and duchess lace, and Mrs. Merry wore a beautiful gown of velvet and lace and carried a large ostrich feather fan. Mrs. Benedict's gown was an effective combination of chiffon velvet and lace with bodice of jet and pearls.

When the reception was over an elaborate wedding supper was served in the dining hall.

The dominant color of the wedding was pink and pink roses marked the festive occasion in the dining hall where the tables were adorned with vases of pink roses and garlands of smilax and pink shaded candelabra.

The bride's cake, placed on a round table in the centre of the hall, was cut and served by the bride about ten o'clock and merriment reigned supreme when Dr. Eastman, Auburndale's bachelor physician, found the ring in his slice. The ladies' ring was found by Miss Marjorie Marble of Cambridge. The button fell to the lot of Mr. Leighton Smith of Auburndale, and his little niece, Elizabeth Hollis got the thimble.

The orchestra played during the reception and for the dancing which followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds left on a honeymoon trip and will reside on King street, Toronto, Canada, where Mr. Reynolds is assistant superintendent of the Eastman Kodak Company.

The young people received a profusion of beautiful gifts of great variety and value, which were displayed at an informal reception, given the Saturday before the wedding, at the bride's home in Auburndale.

NICHOLSON—CAMPBELL

The wedding of Miss Rose Regina Campbell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of this city and Lieutenant Charles Augustine Nicholson of Charlestown, took place last Saturday morning at the Church of Our Lady, the nuptial mass being celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Lawrence Slattery at nine o'clock.

The bride was gowned in white satin on train, caught up with orange blossoms with bodice of Radium lace, her veil fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms and carrying bride's roses. Her sister, Miss Agnes Campbell, was the maid of honor and wore peach tulle, with bodice of silver lace, and a picture hat with silver taupe velvet, she carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr. William F. Cummings of Charlestown was the best man and the ushers were Sergt. Joseph A. Campbell, of the 23rd Co., C. A. C., brother of the bride and Corp. Louis Dooley of the same company.

A wedding breakfast for the immediate families was served at the home of the bride on Fayette street, Newton, after which Lieut. and Mrs. Nicholson left on a short wedding trip thru the Berkshires.

Lieut. Nicholson is attached to the Headquarters Company 301st Infantry now at Ayer.

FISHER—ATWOOD

Miss Alice Lorraine Atwood, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Franklin Atwood of Terrace avenue, Newton Highlands, became the bride last Saturday evening of Mr. Ernest Whitington Fisher, of Lake avenue, Newton Highlands. The ceremony, which took place at eight o'clock, was performed in the parlors of the Congregational Church by Rev. Dr. George T. Smart, the pastor. The bride was accompanied by Mrs. Oren J. Anderson of Chicago, Ill., as matron of honor and the best man was Mr. Roy Lee Atwood of Pelham, N. Y. Lieut. Harold O. Wellman, of Camp Devens, Ayer, and Messrs. Harry Bradford of Newton Highlands, Winsor Sampson of Auburndale and Philip Ver Plank of Brookline were the ushers. A reception followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will make their future home at 263 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands.

McNEAR—DOWD

The wedding of Miss Edith Marion Dowd, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dowd of West Newton, and Mr. Egerton Baker McNear of Auburndale took place last Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride on Eliot avenue, the ceremony being performed at two o'clock by Rev. J. Edgar Park pastor of the Second Church. The matron of honor was Mrs. Sara E. Hershey of Denver, Colorado, aunt of the bride and the groom's brother, Mr. George Roger McNear of M. I. T. was the best man.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Susan M. Dimond late of Newton in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Henry D. Gardner who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the twelfth day of November A. D. 1917, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in Newton the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of October in the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen.

F. M. ESTY, Register.

ANNUAL MEETING

AUBURNDALE COLLEGE CLUB

The College Club of Auburndale held its annual meeting October 18 at the home of its last president, H. B. Giles. Reports of officers and committee chairmen for the year's work were read. The secretary of last year, Mr. P. R. Allen read a brief report of the social festivities of the year which called to mind the many pleasant events during the year. In addition to the regular meetings the club staged a play at Norumbega Hall followed by informal dancing; held a formal dance at the Newton Club House and a lawn party on the estate of Mr. F. L. Nason.

During the year 1916-17 twenty-three new members were welcomed and four members resigned due to change of address and inability to be present.

The officers elected for the coming year are: president Frank L. Nason; vice-president, P. R. Allen; treasurer, Charles W. Proctor; secretary, H. B. Giles, chairman of social, program and membership committee, Mrs. E. U. Ufford, Mrs. A. E. Binford and Dr. L. G. Eastman respectively. The officers of last year were, president, H. B. Giles; vice-president, E. E. Savory; treasurer, H. B. Reed; secretary, P. R. Allen. The auditing committee will consist of H. B. Reed, P. R. Allen, Dr. L. G. Eastman. A committee to recodify the constitution will consist of C. W. Proctor, H. B. Reed and H. B. Giles.

The entertainment following the business was of the highest order. The singing of Mr. Fred Allen, a baritone of moderate fame, was deeply appreciated. He was ably accompanied by Miss Mable Poling of Portland, Oregon. Among his selections were "The Clang of the Forge," and the "Armorer's Song."

Miss C. Walsh of the Boston School of Expression, read several pieces with marked skill. Her interpretation was masterly. She read "The Childer" by Dennis McCarthy, "Genesis" by Kaiser, "Young Fellow My Lad" by Robert W. Service and "The Hindoo's Prayer."

The speaker of the evening was Mr. John Gore who chose for his subject "The Importance of Chemistry on War and Peace." Mr. Gore is well acquainted with the subject of chemistry. He is a chemist of Europe among whom are a few who are high in the affairs of chemical works used for war purposes, therefore he was able to give the club members a most interesting, and to a certain extent confidential talk. At the close of his remarks he offered to answer, if he could, any such questions as he might be asked.

At the conclusion of Mr. Gore's address a light collation was served in the dining room and after a social half hour the meeting adjourned.

WEST NEWTON DAY NURSERY

The Annual Fair in aid of the West Newton Day Nursery is to be held at the Unitarian Parish House, West Newton, on November 20th. Mrs. George A. Frost is chairman of the committee in charge and Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas serves as treasurer.

The general decorations will be planned by Mrs. Frank B. Witherbee. A delicious luncheon will be served under the direction of Mrs. Horatio N. Glover, assisted by Mrs. Fred W. Albee, Mrs. Louis J. Balliett, and Mrs. Henry W. Robins.

In accordance with the spirit and demands of war times, the articles for sale will for the most part be of a useful and practical nature, thus giving housekeepers an excellent opportunity to provide for the coming season.

Household necessities of various kinds will be offered for sale, such as jellies and canned goods and winter vegetables may be obtained in large quantities.

The tables will be in charge of the following ladies: fancy table, Mrs. Frederick Jones; household articles, Mrs. William A. Young; aprons and dish towels, Mrs. Thos. F. Baxter, and Mrs. Orris W. Nelson; jellies and canned goods, Mrs. George Hatch and Miss Dora Allen; fruit and vegetables, Mrs. George R. Whitten; 5 to 25 cent table, Mrs. Grace Rice; candy Miss Dorothy Dowse and Miss Margaret Dowse.

The fair not only furthers a most excellent cause but always proves a delightful social event as well. It is hoped that the many friends and wishers of the Day Nursery will gladly avail themselves of this pleasant opportunity for adding its useful work.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—The coming of Miss Alice Nielsen in "Kitty Darrin" to the Majestic Theatre, Boston, where she opens on next Monday evening, October 29, promises to be one of the really big events of the theatrical season both because of the eminence of the star, and because the vehicle provided for her is one of the most ambitious ever seen in the field of comic opera. Miss Alice Nielsen's name is a household word throughout this country, and few are the American singers who have reached the dizzy heights of fame that she has won both as a star of the Metropolitan and Boston Opera Companies and on the concert platform. "Kitty Darrin" is based upon the romantic play which under the name of "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" won great popularity a few years ago in this country. It has been adopted for musical purposes by Guy Bolton and P. G. Wodehouse, who rightly named it a musical romance. The musical setting has been provided by Rudolph Friml, not only a composer counting many successes in his credit during the past few years, but also one whose work has set a new standard in light opera music. The scenery and costumes are from the designs of well-known artists, and faithfully represent the scenes and customs of the period.

D. R. MEETS

The Sarah Hull Chapter, D.R., after a long summer's rest from club and chapter, met at the Newton Club house for their first meeting of the season yesterday afternoon, ready for a winter of strenuous work.

There was much business to be attended to, among which was the purchase of a Liberty bond by the chapter and the voting of the money in the special war fund for the purchase of wool to be turned into articles of necessity for the boys at Commonwealth pier. The program was planned particularly for young people, especially those who belonged to members of the Chapter. The first feature was the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" during which George Washington and Columbia, otherwise James Pearson and Elizabeth Scofield marched solemnly on the stage and stood at attention till the song was ended. The prize essays from the Stearns School were then read by Dorothy Hayes and Helen Gilix, the winners. Master Clair Leonard gave several piano selections most admirably, among them an original encore. James Pearson alias George Washington, and aged six, recited "George Washington and his Hatchet" in a masterly manner that elicited much applause.

Mrs. Alexander M. Ferris gave an account of the beginning and growth of the Caleb Stark Chapter, with the names of its earlier members, among which Lieut. Commander Bruce R. Ware of Newton was the one of which the Chapter is especially proud.

Mrs. Franklin E. Smith of Newton read an extract from a report at the National Convention, called "What it means to be a D. R.," which with the singing of America closed the program.

Among the plans of the Sarah Hull Chapter for the winter is a lecture by Ex-President Wm. H. Taft, to be given at the Central Church parlors, on December 1, partly in the interests of the Red Cross, and partly as patriotic work for the Chapter: it is hoped that many will take advantage of the opportunity to hear this famous man.

Refreshments were served as usual. The hostesses were, Mrs. George Agry, Miss Anna Whiting, Mrs. J. G. Giddings, Mrs. Clarence S. Lufweller, Mrs. George A. Salmon, Miss Clara J. Coburn.

MOTHER GOOSE ENTERTAINMENT

The Central Guild has completed arrangements for a unique entertainment to be given next Tuesday evening in Central Church parlors. An attractive program has been arranged including musical selections and chorus singing, under the direction of the following young ladies: "Sing a Song of Sixpence" in charge of Miss Karns, Humpty Dumpty, Miss Cary, "Hark, Hark, the Dogs Do Bark," Miss Gordon, "There was a Crooked Man," Miss Boyden, "Jack Spratt," Miss Hardy, "Pretty Maid," Mrs. Williams, "Little Red Riding Hood," Miss Cram, "Peter, Peter Pumpkin Eater," Miss Cotton, "Simple Simon," Mrs. Wilson, "Old Mother Hubbard," Miss Ernst, "Little Jack Horner," Miss Hardy, "Old King Cole" and "Little Tommie Tucker," Miss Alexander, "Rock-a-bye Baby," Miss Cram, "Jack and Jill," Miss Taylor, "Queen of Hearts," Miss Wheeler, "When I was a Bachelor," Miss Boyden, "Little Miss Muffet," Miss Sherman, "Miss Mary," Miss Eaves, "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe," Miss Sherman.

The final feature of the program was cast and Mother Goose will be impersonated by Miss Carter. The committee is under the chairmanship of Miss Douglas and Miss Florence Carter will be accompanist.

Testimonial in regard to the late trustee Judge Kennedy

The Trustees wish to record the following minute, that:

For many years they have been associated in the Board of Trustees with the late Judge John C. Kennedy.

He was ever a careful, painstaking and intelligent officer.

He had great knowledge of the people of Newton and a just appreciation of their needs.

He was vigilant that each village and community should receive all the benefits of and improvements in the library.

Aside from his constant and conscientious service as a trustee of the library he was a highly useful and deservedly respected citizen.

The loss occasioned by his unexpected death will long be felt and his character and example will long be remembered.

THE PLAYERS

The Players are rehearsing "The End of the Bridge," the prize play which had such a long run some years ago at the Castle Square Theatre.

But when the Dollar Payments started coming in he found he had to cut out just a little bit of the foolishness in order to make the Payments.

He went Home one Night every Week and paid his Bond with the Difference.

It wasn't long before the Cashier at the Window was surprised by having him come along and pay Several Weeks' dues at a Lick.

"Might as well get it paid up and have it over with," he told her.

Of course when the Second Loan came along he didn't buy one. He'd had enough, you think. WRONG AGAIN, CLARICE!

He was the First Guy at the Window to take out a Hundred Dollar Bond.

"I've been a Dub long enough," he said, "now I'm going to save a Little Money over Uncle Sam's Easy-Payment Route!"

NEWTON CONSTABULARY

pails of hot water and towels and the men washed up to go to church. Rev. Charles Cutler preached in his Constabulary uniform. Captain Davis, Captain Chandler, Capt. Fulton, Lieutenants Cardell helped in the work. One hundred and fifty bushels of potatoes were dug on this day.

Detachment Joseph Bryant of the Newtonville Company, made things snappy around the mess tent at noon on Saturday.

Capt. E. O. Gruener of the Newton Unit has resigned and acting major Philip L. Brown of Newton Highlands will drill the Unit until a new captain is selected.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands met Tuesday in Lincoln Hall. Mrs. Wetherbee presiding. Report of Newton Federation Executive Board meeting by Mrs. W. E. Moore.

Voted by club to buy $50 Liberty bonds.

Speaker, Mrs. Jessie D. Hodder, superintendent Women's Reformatory at Sherborn. Subject, "The Development of the Women's Reformatory."

The beginnings, the state she found affairs in, down cast eyes, ugly unfortunates, etc., present methods, the great need of psychopathic treatment for nervous cases, the devotion of work for the war, knitting, making flags, etc. Questions were answered.

Next meeting, November 13, in charge of Civics Committee, Mrs. George Q. Hill, chairman. Speaker: Mr. Arthur Dunn, newly appointed commissioner for the promotion of Civics in our State Public Schools.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club opened its season yesterday afternoon with a particularly successful dramatic performance under the direction of Miss Priscilla Ordway. Three short plays were presented by club members, "Leadin' Road to Doregal," "The Maker of Dreams," both Irish plays, and the farce, "Food." Mrs. Norman Pratt as "The Maker of Dreams" was remarkably good. At the close came the reception to new members and a simple tea. The officers of the club were in the receiving line.

BRAE BURN CLUB

A Patriotic Exhibition Golf Match will be held Saturday, October 27th, at the Brae Burn Links. Chick Evans, Chicago, Amateur and Open Champion of U. S. and Ned Sawyer, Chicago, vs. Private Francis Outmet, ex-amateur and Open Champion of U. S. and Jesse P. Gullford, Massachusetts' State Champion. It will be 36 holes match play, best ball. 18 holes 10 A. M. 18 holes 2 P. M. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Athletic Equipment Fund for soldiers at Camp Devens.

There will be an Army and Navy Football and Athletic Carnival at the Stadium at Cambridge on Saturday for the benefit of the Athletic Equipment Funds for men in the Army and Navy in camps in Massachusetts. An allotment of seats has been made for members of the Brae Burn Club which they may procure by making application at the Club.

Harry L. Ayer, member of the Army and Navy Athletic Equipment Committee.

JOINS FEDERAL RESERVE

The Newton Trust Company has joined the Federal Reserve System, in compliance with the general request of President Wilson that State banks do this to assist the Government in financing the war.

The company has assets of nearly $5,000,000.

BURGESS COMPANY AND CURTIS, Marblehead, Mass., Feb. 9, 1917. Gentlemen: I wish to state in regard to the Daigneau Safe Fuel Saver, which you installed in the Burgess Co. Aeroplane Plant has proven very satisfactory. We find a saving of about one-half (1-2) ton of soft coal per week, and when burning hard coal a saving of from one to one and one-half tons per week. I think it the best hand operated Damper I ever saw; we also get better results in the heating. W. E. SMITH, Engineer.
